Churchill Sick,
Butler Takes
British ReinsBermuda Conference
Delayed; Big Four
'53 Meet Uncertain

(Compiled from AP and UP)

LONDON—Treasury Chief Richard A. Butler, a shy, brilliant ex-professor, took charge of the British government Saturday as news of Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill's illness brought worldwide repercussions.

First effect was postponement of the Big Three Bermuda conference scheduled July 8 among Churchill, President Eisenhower and France's new premier, Joseph Laniel.

Observers believed the postponement practically ruled out any Big Four meeting with Russia this year.

Wan and exhausted, the 78-year-old British prime minister retired Saturday to his country home on doctors' orders for a "complete rest" of at least a month.

The Foreign Office said he would meet with Eisenhower and Laniel at Bermuda as soon as he is fit again.

Butler, whose nickname is Rab, normally is No. 3 man as chancellor of the exchequer in Churchill's cabinet.

But now Churchill in the British countryside and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in Boston, Nos. 1 and 2, are both incapacitated—under rest and medical care.

Fifty-year-old Rab, touted as Churchill's heir-apparent ever since illness felled Eden, took over the reins from the prime minister with typical machine-like efficiency.

Butler, who for a long time has been considered the theoretician of the Churchill government, simply took charge of the papers streaming into his neighbor's house.

Butler resides at No. 11 Downing St., Churchill at No. 10.

Butler will preside over cabinet meetings, referring only top foreign policy matters to Churchill for final decision.

Butler has run the government before. Last September, he was given charge while Churchill and Eden were out of the country.

Butler's day-by-day job in the cabinet is the same post Churchill held a long time back. As chancellor, Butler is economic and financial boss of this hard-pressed nation.

Churchill, who drives himself mercilessly, buckled under the strain of simultaneously running the government, playing his role in coronation festivities and acting for ailing Foreign Secretary Eden.

The older statesman had planned to sail for Bermuda Tuesday night on the battleship Vanguard. The conference had been set for July 8 after being postponed from two earlier dates because France was without a premier. Only Friday the way was finally cleared by the French National Assembly's approval of Laniel as the new premier.

After hearing his doctors' verdict, Churchill reluctantly telephoned President Eisenhower and Premier Laniel and arranged the postponement.

Lord Moran, Churchill's lifelong friend and personal physician who has pulled him through pneumonia and other periodic illnesses, and Sir Russell Brain, president of the Royal College of Physicians and one of the world's leading authorities on nervous diseases, issued the medical report on which Churchill acted.

Churchill apparently was feeling ill Wednesday when he failed to take his customary place in the House of Commons.

He cancelled his regular cabinet meeting the following day and went to Chartwell, his country home, for a change of atmosphere and relaxation.

An informed source said he continued to feel out of sorts and

He Has Mumps, So They'll Wed by 'Phone

ROGER SCHAFFER SENDS TELEPHONIC KISS TO BRIDE-TO-BE.

The bride will be waiting at the church today.

The groom will be at home nursing a bad case of mumps.

They'll be married, nevertheless, over the telephone.

Roger Schafer, 24, of 1877 Stanley Ave., didn't figure on the mumps last Christmas when he set the date for wedding Ardeeth Flinn, 20, of El Monte.

The swelling on one side of Roger's face came up about three days ago.

After a telephonic conference with Ardeeth, a student at the University of California at Santa Barbara, the couple decided to get married by telephone—she at the El Monte Christian Church, he at his home.

The event will be solemnized in the El Monte church study.

"We both take a dim view of this turn of events," said Roger, a Navy civilian employee. Honeymoon plans are indefinite.

Rains Bog Red
ROKs Dig In

SEOUL (Sunday)—(AP). Pounding rains and raging mountain streams today stalled the big Chinese Red offensive on Korea's east-central front, giving battered ROK soldiers precious time to shore up their defense line 12 miles north of the vital Hwachon reservoir.

In the west, the weather worked for the Communists.

It blocked South Korean attempts to regain three outpost hills still held by attacking Chinese near the little Nori sector of Seoul.

The weather was so bad Allied B-26 bombers made only nine strikes against the big Communist bulge below Kumsong during the night.

A few flare planes braved the heavy skies and lit up the battlefield for ROK and American artillerymen.

In the critical sector east of the Pukhan River the Reds reported to be the vanguard of some 72,000 troops—made a battalion size attack this morning.

But the situation still was officially described as "confused and fluid." Another six or seven mile stab by the Reds would put them within artillery range of the big Hwachon power project.

The 3rd ROK Division in the Lookout Mountain sector of the east-central front received 81,052 rounds—the worst artillery barrage and U.N. division has been subjected to since the war started.

Rhee Happy After Bargaining on Truce

SEOUL (Sunday)—(AP). The official South Korean government spokesman said today President Syngman Rhee and U. S. Presidential Truce Envoy Walter S. Robertson are on the point of agreement on a mutual security pact between the U. S. and the Republic of Korea, reportedly Rhee's price for withdrawing his bitter opposition to a truce in Korea.

Bather Drives
Auto Into Guard on Beach, Escapes

An unidentified bather rammed his car into a Long Beach lifeguard here Saturday afternoon to escape arrest for exposing himself to a woman bather.

The lifeguard, Merle D. Decker, suffered deep lacerations of the right thigh.

Decker had arrested the man at the foot of Coronado Ave. and was telephoning police from the lifeguard station there when the man knocked the telephone from his hand and fled.

The man, dressed in red swim trunks, hid in bushes in the 3300 block of E. Ocean Blvd. and ran to his car when Decker went into the bushes to find him. He started up his car when the lifeguard approached.

Decker obtained the license number of the car and gave it to police.

Rhee and Robertson have conferred three times in secret since Friday, but neither has disclosed the subject of their secret talks. Both have expressed optimism.

Dr. Karl Hong Kee, director of the government information office, told Korean newsmen that final agreement on a defense pact might be reached today.

Such an agreement probably would spell the end of Rhee's bitter opposition to the truce that has been negotiated and all but signed by the United Nations Command and the Communists at Panmunjom.

However, Peiping Radio indicated today it probably would also bring forth clamorous protests from Red truce negotiators, still angry over Rhee's action in ordering the release of some 27,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners a little over a week ago.

Robertson and Rhee held their third secret session today, and later Robertson told newsmen:

"I have confidence we can reach a mutual agreement and clear up misunderstandings that may exist between us."

It appeared probable the two were working out some sort of preliminary agreement on a mutual defense pact. Rhee has long demanded such a treaty.

President Eisenhower, in a letter to Rhee June 6, pledged to negotiate such a pact once the truce had been signed. Rhee wants the defense pact signed before the armistice goes into effect.

Any such treaty would require the approval of the U. S. Senate. Such approval might take time to get, but Rhee may be willing to accept some sort of preliminary agreement with iron-clad assurances of a defense pact later.

Reliable sources close to the Rhee government said Robertson had given new assurances that a defense pact would be signed "soon enough to ease the fears of South Korea."

Rhee was described as "very happy" after his second talk with Robertson Saturday. The American envoy said he was "very opti-

Congress Tempers Rise on Tax Bill, Defense CutHouse Prunes
Another Billion
Off Arms Fund

WASHINGTON — (AP). The House Appropriations Committee Saturday strongly endorsed President Eisenhower's reduced 120-wing Air Force goal and cut another billion dollars from his pruned down defense budget for next year.

The committee sent to the House a military $34,434,140,500 budget for the year beginning July 1.

This is $6,255,790,500 or 15.4 per cent less than recommended by former President Truman and $1,337,422,500 or 3.7 per cent below the "minimum" figures submitted by the Eisenhower administration. Secretary of Defense Wilson had asked the committee to avoid adding further cuts to the five billion dollars already slashed by the administration from the Truman estimates.

The committee, in a report flaying the military services for "chaotic" financial practices and "administrative bodge-bodge," said it might have made deeper reductions if given more time.

The new budget is ample for defense under foreseeable conditions, the committee said.

After reviewing secret testimony on the "controversy" over a 143-wing or 120-wing Air Force goal by mid-1955, the committee said President Eisenhower is following a "sound and reasonable" policy in setting the lower level, subject to top-level review. A wing contains from 30 to 75 aircraft.

Then the committee made a further 240-million-dollar cut in the new Air Force funds, already slashed five billion dollars by the new President.

It cut Eisenhower's Army requests by 689 million dollars, and Navy figures by $393,250,000.

The action threatened to create bitter debate before the House next week. Truman Friday night joined Air Force and congressional critics in labeling the cuts as shortsighted.

The Army sum set by the committee is actually 500 million dollars more than recommended by Truman. But the committee said it includes about two billion dollars to cover Korean War expenses, which were put in the regular defense budget for the first time this year.

The total is $12,750,863,642 below last year's defense appropriations. Of this reduction over 10 billion was from the Air Force.

Russ' Latest
Feeler: Free
600 Austrians

VIENNA, Austria—(AP). Eight years after the war Moscow has decided to release more than 600 Austrian prisoners of war and civilians held in the Soviet Union, the Austrian government announced Saturday.

The government said it had been informed of the release by Dr. Norbert Bischof, Austrian ambassador in the Soviet Union, who was handed a note by the Soviet Foreign Ministry Friday night.

While the United States, France, and Great Britain released all their prisoners of war years ago, about 1800 Austrians have been held in Soviet Russia.

The Soviets have made a series of concessions recently which, at no great cost to Moscow, eased the burden of Soviet occupation for the unhappy Austrians.

On June 8 they lifted military traffic controls along the border of the Russian zone. The next day they discharged two Communist police chiefs in the Soviet sector of Vienna whom the Austrian government fired years ago for disobedience.

Then on June 10 Moscow announced the re-establishment of full diplomatic relations between Austria and the Soviet Union.

Miss Italy Chosen
for L.B. Pageant

CAPRI, Italy (Sunday) — (AP). Riza Storti, statuesque blue-eyed blonde who is in love with an American airman, was crowned Miss Italy Saturday on the romantic isle of Capri.

She will go to California to compete for Italy in the Miss Universe contest.

The 20-year-old Milan secretary confessed she entered the contest to get to the U. S. and see Air Force Sgt. Herbert Barnes Jr. She brushed aside the fact that he is now stationed at Miami, Fla.

She will fly to the U. S. in early July and go to Long Beach, Calif., for the Miss Universe contest.

U.S. Ending Fiscal Year
With $8½ Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON—(AP). An administration official said Saturday the government expects to wind up the present fiscal year on Tuesday about 8½ billion dollars in the red. This would be a deficit of about 2½ billion more than former President Truman estimated in his January budget.

The same high official, looking ahead to the next 12 months, said it is going to be "very difficult to avoid some inflation," despite the Eisenhower government's "sound money" stand.

The official, who asked not to be named, said it would be no surprise if the Federal Reserve Board had to assist sometime this fall by unfreezing more bank reserves—as it did this week—or by increasing the money supply in other ways to keep government borrowing from exhausting credit supplies or forcing interest rates still higher.

Such action would be bound to build up inflationary pressures, but, the official said, the government will try to manage its borrowing so as to minimize inflationary effects.

By next spring, he said, the government expects to start reducing its debt sharply.

Corporation taxes have fallen 1½ billion dollars or more lower than was expected for this fiscal year, and individual income taxes will run about 750 million behind expectations, the official said, despite the fact that tax collections were at record highs this year.

Crew Dead,
Train Runs
2 Miles Afire

WICHITA, Kan.—(AP). A speeding Rock Island Rocket passenger train crashed into a gasoline transport Saturday killing three men and igniting a 60-acre wheat stubble.

Killed were truck driver Hilbert Grundman, 26, of Valley Center, Kan., and Engineer Walter Keith and Fireman Harold C. Charles, both of Herington, Kan.

The transport exploded, setting fire to the engine and baggage car of the train.

The train went two miles down the tracks before it halted. The wind whipped the flames back over the passenger cars, breaking windows and blackening the coaches. No passengers were injured.

Eyewitness Robert Bower of Goodland, Kan., said he saw the truck stop at the grade crossing, then start across the tracks into the path of the train.

He said he saw the truck explode and the train "roll on down the tracks like a giant ball of flame."

Parts of the truck landed 200 yards from the crossing after the explosion.

Railroad officials would not estimate the speed of the train as it passed the accident site at the north edge of the city limits.

Freight; Nobody Injured

RANTOUL, Ill.—(AP). An 18-car Illinois Central passenger train carrying some 300 persons collided with a freight car Saturday at Rantoul.

Railroad officials said none of the passengers or crew was killed or seriously injured. A few passengers were shaken up.

Anthony Gorman, special agent for the railroad, said the passenger train was slowing for a stop at Rantoul when it came abreast of the freight. He said a hopper car loaded with stone was derailed at that instant and fell across the path of the train.

The passenger train was the IC's swift Seminole Limited, bound for Chicago and Florida.

Hit-Run Driver
Perils Pursuer

Fleeing after a minor collision at Anaheim St. and Cedar Ave. Saturday afternoon, a woman hit-and-run driver narrowly missed running down an occupant in the other car who tried to stop her.

Doris L. Davis, 29, of Los Angeles, told police she pursued the car which collided with hers and overtook it at a traffic light on Pacific Ave.

Her mother, Mrs. Edna L. Davis, 56, said she got out and went over to the car, but had to jump back as the signal changed and the vehicle sped away.

President Maps
Appeal to House
on Profits Levy

WASHINGTON — (AP). Angry charges swelled from both sides Saturday as President Eisenhower prepared a last-minute appeal for House support in his battle to extend the excess profits tax.

Leaders agreed the floor fight on the issue, set for Monday, would be close and bitter—the toughest the administration has faced in the House this year.

Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) protested hotly that Congress members have been "dragged down to the White House" and subjected to pressure to "vote against their own convictions."

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) retorted that opponents of the administration move are trying "to confuse the issue" by attacking the procedure involved rather than the President's proposal itself.

Eisenhower, taking a week end out of town at Thurmont, Md., was reported reliably to have prepared a message to the House expressing this theme:

That despite the unusual procedure—admittedly the hottest issue—a vote against the bill would be a vote against the President's program to reduce the federal deficit, fight inflation and restore "a sound dollar."

A top GOP leader said tentative plans called for this message to take the form of a letter to Martin or to Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.), to be read to the House Monday morning.

Eisenhower has staked his prestige on an almost unprecedented situation in the House. The tax is now due to expire Tuesday, but can be extended retroactively.

Weeks ago, the President proposed that the levy, running the government's take up to 82 per cent of some corporation profits above those earned in past years, be extended for six months.

Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee, fiercely opposing the extension, bottled it up in his committee and thwarted every effort by the administration to force action.

House leaders then prevailed upon the Rules Committee to snatch the bill from the Ways and Means Committee and force it to the House floor.

Since 1806, Reed charged, the Ways and Means Committee has started all tax bills through Congress. He and other members of his committee bitterly denounced the Rules Committee procedure as illegal, immoral and a move to destroy basic legislative principles.

The bill reported out by the Rules Committee is a proposal by Rep. Sadlak (R-Conn.) exempting firms making less than $100,000 a year from the excess profits tax, and extending it for six more months.

L.B.-Area Boy
Lost in Wilds
Found Unhurt

SEQUOIA — (AP). An 8-year-old Bellflower boy lost for nearly 24 hours in the bear-infested forests of Sequoia National Park was found unharmed Saturday more than three miles from where he disappeared.

Michael J. Murray Jr. became lost Friday evening when he strayed from the camp of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hughes, Bellflower, at Lodgepole, a few miles from the lodge at Sequoia.

More than 70 persons searched for him. Finally Mr. and Mrs. Edison Wiley, San Gabriel, spotted him trudging through the brush along Wolverton Creek.

Tired and hungry but otherwise in good shape, Michael said he had spent the night in a "lion's cage." He said he hid when he saw a bear. He was a bit cold during the night when temperatures at the 7000-foot elevation dipped near the freezing mark.

His parents were en route to the park.

Camel Throws Shrine

LOS ANGELES — (AP). A big Shriner's ceremonial in Los Angeles Coliseum was marred Saturday by a near tragedy.

C. Stanley Chapman, high priest and prophet of Al Malaikah Temple, was thrown from a camel and suffered a possible concussion. He was taken to California Hospital.

Weather—

Sunny today and Monday, after late night and early morning low clouds and fog. Little temperature change. High today near 72.

L.A.C. SAYS:

'One for the Road'

A most stupid custom seems to have grown up among people attending bars, banquets and cocktail parties. It is the custom of having "one for the road." It means taking one more drink before leaving. It usually means one more drink added to many already consumed. It can be assumed, it is one on top of others. No person completely sober would take a drink just before stepping into the driver's seat of an automobile. To do so, the sober person realizes, would mean becoming a potential killer. Even more serious from his own viewpoint it would mean risking every dollar he has in the world or hopes to have for many years ahead.

This is not a criticism of people who drink. It is, however, a protest against the stupid custom of deliberately taking a drink before getting into an automobile. There are many examples of this stupidity. One is that of a young family. The father and mother had Pool, bas-relief Oriental figure and planting transform a difficult garden into a place of beauty.

Tiny Jewel of Nature

By Fern Hill Colman

TUSTIN.

THE Cinderella of the garden—that narrow, tree-shaded strip along the driveway—has been transformed with magic touch at the home of Mrs. Florence Stevens, 14332 Yorba St., Tustin. A bas-relief figure of an Oriental maiden, a winding stream with a series of quiet pools, and strategically-planted shrubs give this narrow space a feeling of depth and serenity and provides a memorable feature of the entire garden.

The area, perhaps 20x50 feet, is separated from the orange grove by a weathered grape-stake fence running parallel to the drive and turning at an angle to meet the driveway at the back. In this angle of the fence a handsome podcarpas, its drooping, fern-like foliage silhouetted against the fence, suggests a tree in an old Chinese print. Under these lacy boughs a little rock-rimmed pool brims over, cascades down a miniature rocky cliff into a quiet pool. From the pool, a tiny river curves between banks green with babies' tears with pink primroses along its brim. It swings in an arc, circling to the mottled trunk of a giant sycamore and enters a pool where two 30-year-old dwarf Japanese maples bend in quiet grace over the mirror-like pool.

From the maples the little stream meanders through a Lilliputian valley sodded with babies tears, enters an oblong pool that, like a dark mirror reflects the image of the Oriental maiden poised daintily in a setting of lotus blossoms. The figure, done by Kay Finch of Corona Del Mar, is the feature of the garden.

THE MAGIC possessed by this little garden is that the entire landscape seems to flow in easy, leisurely fashion toward the dark pool and its reflected garden. The fence unites the Oriental shrubs silhouetted against it in a mural leading to the pool. The stream, threading its pools, unifies the garden. The pinks of camellias and primroses throughout the garden are repeated in a mass of color by a flowering peach arching over the weathered fence, sending drifts of pink snow into the tiny valleys, a shower of rosy petals drifting on the dark pool.

THERE'S a bad jolt for the young fry in a sign they could see in a Pine Ave. show window yesterday.

It advertised the first look at back-to-school fashions.

Let's see now—wasn't school out just last week?

BUT that's more or less in tune with the times, isn't it? Seems as if we're all trying to beat the calendar.

Next month's magazines come out this month. Some newspapers print Sunday editions on Thursday. Pollsters do their best to hold an election before the official balloting day. Christmas season starts in early November.

We're nearly breaking our necks trying to get somewhere fast—and a lot of us would have a hard time identifying the destination we're rushing towards.

WALK down any row of parked cars, and you'll see damage marks in the same place on almost every one of them.

That's on the front right fender just above the conventional bumper. On two solidly parked downtown blocks yesterday, only three cars were without scratches or dents in that spot. Several cars which were completely without other damage marks still had the right front fender blemish, which is usually caused by the bumper of a car in front while entering or leaving a parking place.

Some manufacturers now place chrome pieces on their cars at that vulnerable point. It is also possible to buy bumper extensions that will protect the car there. There's hardly any accessory more useful in preventing damage.

Nope, I'm not selling 'em or getting a commission. Just an observation.

READER named Sally has asked about the fate of the palm trees which were planted a year or two ago in the center of a small traffic circle in the Pierpoint landing area of the Harbor District.

It's a sad story. Originally, there were eight trees, which were moved down there from Magnolia Ave. when installation of a power line necessitated taking them off Magnolia.

The mature trees, according to Harbor Dept. officials, were given plenty of water and other care, but one by one they expired and only two are still standing there. It's unlikely they'll make it, and the plan is to plant low shrubbery and flowers in the circle area.

Opinion varies as to why the trees gave up. The fill soil there is very porous and won't hold water, for one thing. Some think the trees were too far advanced for successful transplanting. Sally, who wrote this dept. about them, thinks more good soil should have been placed about their roots.

Whatever did it, you'd have a hard time getting the Harbor Dept. to try planting more palm trees in such spots.

IN A Lakewood living room the other eve two couples got to talking about how most people are constitutionally incapable of returning borrowed books. They'll live impeccably conscientious lives in every other respect—but books that aren't theirs repose in their homes forever.

"For instance," said the hostess, "there's that book over there. I borrowed it months ago from Jane Smith. I've seen her dozens of times, but I just can't return that book."

The visiting man casually picked up the volume and flipped the leaves.

"Say," he said, "this is my book. Here's my name on the fly-leaf."

Jane Smith, he recalled, had borrowed it from him a couple of years ago.

Their theme eminently well demonstrated, they turned to a discussion of such favorite Lakewood topics as annexation and baseball.

THIS dept. has had some success in getting translators for people, and now comes another try.

Mrs. Oron Stewart got a letter from Poland the other day, written in the Polish language.

Mrs. Stewart has never been in Poland, knows of no acquaintance or relative in Poland, and can't read or speak Polish.

She's consumed with curiosity about that letter. If some one who knows the language is willing to help her out, she can be reached at 441 44th Circle, Long Beach.

NOW it looks as if L. B. may annex the top of Mt. Wilson, an imagination-stirring prospect. The City Council Building and Grounds committee has endorsed buying it for a camp site.

If it happens, on clear days we can point the mtn. out to visitors and proudly identify it as the city's northern boundary.

Artists Tabbed to Testify on Libraries

WASHINGTON — (UP). Sen. Joseph McCarthy's investigators revealed Saturday that Painter Rockwell Kent, Playwright Lillian Hellman and Writer-Humorist Dorothy Parker are among 23 persons to be called as possible witnesses this week on the State Department's overseas libraries and information centers.

Chief Counsel Roy M. Cohn said the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee is having "great difficulty" locating some of the witnesses and "it is obvious they are ducking" his subpoenas. He did not say who was "ducking."

Cohn said others called for the three-day hearings, scheduled to open Wednesday, include Mrs. Paul Robeson, wife of the Negro singer; Writer Richard O. Boyer, Corliss Lamont, teacher, writer and philosopher; and Prof. Edwin B. Burgum, formerly of New York University.

The subcommittee has been investigating the State Department overseas libraries amid charges and countercharges "book burning" in which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have figured prominently.

McCarthy Saturday declined to comment on Mr. Eisenhower's letter to American Library Association warning against "zealots" who try to keep freedom-loving people from reading any literature they choose. In an earlier speech at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., the President said "Don't join the book-burners."

The state department has been removing large numbers of books from libraries overseas in the wake of charges by McCarthy that many "pro-Communist" authors were represented.

Thousands Join in Fort Riley's 100th Year Fete

FORT RILEY, Kan. — (UP). Fort Riley, a "child" in Indian warfare days, reached its 100th birthday Saturday as thousands of persons joined in the centennial celebration.

The three-day observance reached a peak with a huge parade through nearby Junction City and through the military reservation itself.

Col. Hugh Edwards, head of the Kansas highway patrol, estimated 25,000 persons watched the mile and a half long column parade down the main street.

Additional thousands saw the paraders pass in review at the fort past Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Harold, Fort Riley's commanding officer, and visiting officials.

Truman in Visit to N.Y., but Dodges City Politics

NEW YORK — (UP). Harry S. Truman let it be known that he plans to take no part in local elections other than those in his home state of Missouri.

The statement was made public by Matt Connelly, secretary to Truman, after the former chief executive had conferred with Richard H. Balch, Democratic state chairman of New York.

Connelly said flatly that Truman would take no part in New York city's mayoralty election in November.

Truman had said earlier he would be available for service to the Democratic party in future general elections.

Truman came here Saturday for a short visit during which he plans to do some sightseeing with his daughter, Margaret, as his guide.

Truman, who has been visiting in Washington and spoke Friday night in Philadelphia, arrived Saturday morning. The fanfare that marked his visits here while president was missing.

During the interview, which Truman insisted was not a press conference, he was informed that Prime Minister Churchill had been ordered to take a complete rest.

"I'm terribly sorry to hear of it," he said. "I think very highly of Winston Churchill. I hope it's not serious. He's a great man. The world needs him. He and I hit it off perfectly."

On his arrival earlier Truman had commented on another world personality. Asked what he thought about the Korean situation and the truce stand of Korean President Syngman Rhee, the former president said of Rhee: "I like the old man; he's a patriot."

Truman talked about a variety of things.

He denied he and Mrs. Truman would settle in Connecticut, saying "Missouri is my home and I've never had any intention to live in any other place. That is the home I like."

He said Margaret could enter politics if she wanted to because "she's free and 21 and whatever she does, I'll approve."

Mrs. Truman liked private life "very, very much," he said. "She was never very strong for political life."

Truman said he would lunch Monday with Basil O'Connor, head of the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, on details connected with the memorial library to be built in Independence to house the Truman papers.

Fast Life

—by PETRONIUS JR.—

IT IS GOOD NEWS that the Mayor's Citizen Committee is going back to work.

It is the committee that studied and reported on the tidal and oil propositions on the April 3 ballot.

A FLOCK OF NEW propositions are being suggested by various groups and individuals which they want on a special election ballot this fall.

We hope the Citizens Committee and the City Council hold down the number of propositions to not more than four at any election.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for the people to vote intelligently when there are 15 or more propositions as occurred last time, and which occur regularly on the state ballot.

The people are going to be more discriminating in voting from here on so propositions are going to have to stand a lot closer investigation than they did in the April 3 election.

WE ARE LUCKY to have the Tinscher Committee and the group of good citizens serving on the committee to study and recommend propositions to the city council.

But we hope they hold down the number of issues presented at one time.

Senate Group Passes Money Bill for Agencies

WASHINGTON — (UP). The Senate Appropriations Committee Saturday approved a $2,008,435,161 money bill carrying funds for the Department of Labor, the Department of Health, Education and a number of labor agencies.

The total was a net increase of $27,729,300 over the amount approved by the House but a reduction of $13,077,709 below the sum requested by the Eisenhower administration. It represented a reduction of $89,672,100 from the total recommended by the outgoing Truman administration.

Big 3 Parley Delayed by Churchill's Illness

called in his physicians. They gave him a thorough going over and decided he needed a month's holiday.

"PUTTERING AROUND"
Britain's old "John Bull" for half a century apparently was not seriously ill. Even as the news was announced, he was puttering about Chartwell, his 26-room home 30 miles southeast of London and arranging to have important papers sent him for perusal.

A Foreign Office spokesman said postponement of the conference "had no political significance whatever."

He said there was no question of cancelling the talks outright. "We have therefore advised him to abandon his journey to Bermuda and to lighten his duties for at least a month."

Lord Moran is Churchill's life-long friend and personal physician, who has pulled him through pneumonia and other periodic illnesses and whom Churchill once introduced to Pope Pius as "the man who saved my life."

Brain is Sir Russell Brain, president of the Royal College of Physicians and one of the world's leading authorities on nervous diseases. It was not certain whether Brain had been called as president of the Royal College of Physicians or as a nerve specialist, but his skill in neurology would be helpful in tending an old man who had overworked.

Churchill had taken a deep personal interest in arranging the Bermuda meeting as a possible prelude to smoking Premier Malenkov out of the Kremlin and into a Big Four session. He has made no secret of his desire to cap a long and historic career by engineering an end to the Cold War.

TAFT NOT DISPLEASED
In Washington, Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-O) said the postponement of the Bermuda conference "is not undesirable" in view of the uncertain Korean truce talks.

Japan Flood Toll Swells; New Rain Due

TOKYO (Sunday)—(AP). The rising toll of Japan's worst modern flood seemed certain to pass 1000 today with more than 600,000 homeless and damage well in excess of $33,000,000.

More rain was forecast for the stricken southern island of Kyushu.

No U. S. casualties were reported and three big U. S. bases, all on high ground, escaped damage. The latest National Police count showed 252 dead, 793 missing and 725 injured.

But many remote areas were cut off by the murky floodwaters and no word came from them.

Hundreds of American soldiers and airmen worked side by side with 1000 Japanese police in round-the-clock mercy missions.

U. S. helicopters directed rescuers in rubber boats to persons marooned on house-tops. U. S. authorities promised full use of ships, planes, engineers and other American resources.

Whole villages were engulfed and in one instance the entire populace of 498 was reported to have perished.

The entire north half of Kyushu was threatened. The island is about half the size of South Carolina.

Police officials said the flood was "unprecedented" in modern history and was a heart-breaking disaster even in a land lashed by typhoons and repeated earthquakes.

The drenching rainstorms and floods struck the island three weeks after a driving typhoon battered river dikes. The dikes still were being repaired in many places when the rains struck.

Railroad transportation was halted in spots. Roads crumbled beneath the floodwaters.

The worst damage appeared to be in the Fukuoka Prefecture. Police there reported 192,000 acres of valuable farm land washed away. More than 40,000 residents of Kurume City in the prefecture were evacuated to nearby hills.

He and other Senators said the postponement practically rules out a Big Four meeting this year. Taft's statement to reporters reflected the same sentiment among many members of Congress. Frank relief was expressed by some, tempered by regrets that it was Churchill's illness which caused the postponement.

The postponement indicated that a Big Four meeting, including Russia, probably would not be held this year. In this connection, Taft said the time is not ripe for a Big Four meeting because "it might break up in a row."

In a message from his cool Catocot Mountain retreat where he is trout fishing, Mr. Eisenhower told Churchill he looked upon the postponement as a "temporary deferment."

The President issued a statement saying he was "deeply distressed" by Churchill's illness and urging him to bow to advice of his physicians.

SENATORS UNCONVINCED
Ranking members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee never have been convinced such a meeting was practical before end of the Korean War. They have not been informed of a specific agenda to be considered at Bermuda.

But it was learned that the administration was lining up a top-level American delegation of diplomatic, military and atomic advisers to the President. The size of the proposed delegation marked a change in earlier plans to have only a "very few" advisers.

Taft made it clear he thinks a parley with the Russians wouldn't accomplish anything now.

"I do hope the time will come when, by agreement on an Austrian peace treaty, it will be made clear that something could be accomplished," he said.

"But unless we knew in advance that it was possible to agree on certain things, unless we knew that by prior negotiations undertaken by the State Department, we would run the risk of accentuating our differences and would risk having it break up in a row."

SEN. GEORGE AGREES
Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) also said the postponement was not inadvisable and that "it would be much better to meet with the British and French when the present uncertain situation in Korea is clarified."

Shortly before the postponement was announced, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) distributed copies of his column prepared for weekly newspapers.

In it McCarthy predicted that Russia would seek to plant her "agents and sympathizers" on the staffs of the nations meeting at Bermuda.

"She will attempt to inject Russian thinking into this conference in such a way as to bring the greatest possible gains to Russia," he said.

Italy Vote Clears Way to Gasperi Fall

ROME—(AP). The new Italian parliament Saturday passed a compromise temporary budget, opening the way for formal resignation of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government.

The premier, whose pro-western coalition won a weak majority in parliament in the June 7-8 elections, has promised to offer his resignation quickly.

President Luigi Einaudi then is expected to ask De Gasperi to get together a new government.

The senate cleared the last barrier to the resignation by passing a chamber-approved two-month budget designed to keep the bureau going until a new government is formed.

Most Rome papers speculated De Gasperi will offer his resignation Monday.

FBI Spy Says Clergy 'Used' for Red Fight

BOSTON—(AP). Herbert A. Philbrick, former FBI informant within the Communist party, charged Saturday that clergymen were "used" by the Communists during the fight to get atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg a new trial.

Philbrick, a New York advertising man, told the 15th international youth conference of the Augustana Luther League:

"Ministers of the gospel were prevailed upon to circulate petitions loaded with lies from beginning to end."

As an example, he said Communist-inspired petitions claimed the Rosenbergs' conviction was based on the word of a single witness, David Greenglass, brother of Ethel, "whereas, as a matter of accurate fact, the government had 27 witnesses testify against the Rosenbergs."

The 5000 high school and college students paraded through the city's Back Bay section in later afternoon and ate a bean supper on Boston Common afterward.

Former Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl of Minnesota told the meeting that "corruption of national character is a more dangerous threat than Communism."

"Without a continuation of the historic principles on which our nation was founded," he said, "the superstructure of government can not endure."

Farouk Witness as Thugs Assault

PARIS—(AP). Ex-King Farouk of Egypt witnessed the finale of a Paris night life robbery early Saturday.

M. Allan Hill, 41, Australian director of a motion picture firm in London, suffered cuts and bruises about the face and head and lost to the robber trio francs and pounds totaling about $70 besides a gold ring and wrist watch.

The playboy ex-king, rolling up to his quarters at the Royal Monceau Hotel at about 3 a.m., saw the inert and bleeding Hill tossed out of the back seat of a black car stopped just ahead of his, he told authorities.

Farouk summoned the hotel porter, who recognized Hill as a guest at the hotel. When the Australian was able to talk, he told police that after a round of Paris bars he had accepted the offer of three strangers to drop him at his hotel. They did—assaulting and robbing him.

Film Beauty Ann Blyth Marries L.A. Physician

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (UP). Actress Ann Blyth and Los Angeles obstetrician Dr. James McNulty were married Saturday in a colorful ceremony that brought them a special benediction of Pope Pius XII.

The beautiful brunette film star and McNulty, brother of singer Dennis Day, exchanged vows on the candle-trimmed altar of St. Charles Church in San Fernando Valley shortly after 10 a.m.

The marriage rites were read to them by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre to mark the first Hollywood wedding ever officiated over by a prince of the Roman Catholic Church. The ceremony was followed by a nuptial high mass, sung by Rev. Harry Meade, Miss Blyth's longtime friend and pastor.

600 CROWD CHURCH
Some 600 guests, including movie stars Joan Crawford, Jeanne Crain and Jeff Chandler, crowded into the small, Spanish-style church. The interior of the building was decorated with lilies of the valley, ferns and baby breath for the occasion.

The actress, radiantly beautiful in her gown of white mousseline and long train, appeared calm during the double ring ceremony. She repeated the vows in a soft voice barely audible to guests in front pews.

The couple did not kiss as Cardinal McIntyre pronounced them man and wife. They merely held hands and smiled into each other's eyes.

The cardinal announced before the ceremony that Pope Pius XII had offered the couple his special benediction.

As the bridal party left the altar, Miss Blyth stopped before a statue of St. Charles and deposited part of her bridal bouquet in the traditional gift to the saint. Then, she and her new husband walked back down the aisle, smiling happily.

2500 FANS OUTSIDE
They paused on the front steps and waved to a crowd of 2500 fans who shouted and cheered. Then they kissed several times as photographers set off a barrage of flashbulbs.

McNulty and his best man, Day, wore formal morning attire, while Miss Blyth's gown, with long sleeves and a curved neck line, was set off by a Mary-Queen-of-Scots-style cap delicately embroidered with seed pearls. The bride's

Accord Eases Strike Threat in Shipyards

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP). Threat of a shipyard strike was considerably lessened Saturday when agreement on new contracts was reached between Bethlehem shipyards and machinists and carpenters unions.

The possibility of a walkout next Wednesday had appeared likely because of a dispute between the machinists and management over tool rentals. The machinists insisted that they either be furnished tools or paid five cents an hour extra beginning July 1. Management wanted the date to be Oct. 1.

The agreement signed at Bethlehem Saturday called for the Oct. 1 date, but a management spokesman said the date would be adjusted if other coast points agree on July 1. It was believed the agreement would set a pattern for other shipyards and thus avert a strike.

The new contracts, covering some 2500 machinists represented by the AFL Bay Area Metal Trades Council and about 130 carpenters represented by Shipwrights Local 1149, will become effective July 1.

Besides the tool rental agreement, the workers were granted a 3-cent-an-hour wage boost, employer contribution of 7½ cents an hour per man to the employees health and welfare plans and fringe benefits.

Plan to Burn, Not Bury Dead Irks Isle Folk

SARK, Channel Islands—(AP). The 5000 islanders of Sark were hopping mad Saturday over a proposal to substitute cremation for burial to save space on this tiny, four-square-mile island in the English Channel.

Two members of the court of chief pleas—the island parliament—introduced the scheme for compulsory cremation of the dead because they think Sark has too many cemeteries already. It has four.

But the proud and independent people of this self-governing island are indignant. Protests are mounting in homes and pubs. Sark's average yearly death toll is five. No islander has ever been cremated.

"The Sark people abhor compulsion and cremation, and the two together are very unsettling," an angry member of parliament told a reporter. "Of all places in the world to cut across people's feelings, Sark is the worst choice."

Sark is held under feudal tenure from Queen Elizabeth II by its overlords, American-born Seigneur Robert W. Hathaway and strong-minded Dame Hathaway.

Many old feudal laws and customs linger on in Sark. It has no income tax, no death duties, no divorce, no party politics, no trade unionism, and drunkenness is the only crime.

Knowland Flays Critics of Rhee as Red 'Aids'

WASHINGTON—(AP). Sen. Knowland, the acting Senate Republican leader, Saturday night assailed those members of the United Nations who he said have failed to contribute their share to the Korean war yet criticize Korea's president, Syngman Rhee.

The California senator said he was not defending Rhee's actions but he, like Rhee, believed peace with Korea divided will only lead to further bloodshed.

Knowland, addressing the annual convention of the 4th Marine Division Association, said he hoped the United States could—at the Bermuda conference or before that through diplomatic channels—convince Britain and France of this.

Unless the problem is settled at the peace conference that follows a truce, he declared, the Republic of Korea will be bankrupted by having to exist while defending itself against possible treachery by one million Reds in North Korea.

"The Communists will respect a cease fire or a treaty of peace only so long as it suits their purpose," Knowland added.

He said South Korea must be treated 'as an equal partner—not just a junior partner'—and Rhee consulted before terms for peace are decided upon—not afterward—and give him a chance to express his views.

"I don't believe we would have the situation that we now have if this had been done," Knowland declared.

He added that he was happy that President Eisenhower had sent his personal envoy, Walter S. Robertson, to talk with Rhee.

Expressing disappointment in the U. N.'s first real test as an agency of world collective security, he said its failure had been demonstrated by the fact that the U. S. had contributed 90 per cent of the forces and only 17 of the 60 nations had contributed at all.

Many of them contributed, Knowland added, only after public opinion forced them to.

He said many of those countries which contributed no forces at the same time continued trade with Red China.

The United States, Knowland declared, should have "put a block" around the China coast so that no single ship would have gotten in or out as long as there was aggression in Korea.

WOMAN ASKS SPEED, PILOT LOSES SHIRT
INDIANAPOLIS—(AP). A woman demanding "more speed" ripped the shirt from flight engineer P. E. Ramsey Saturday on an Eastern Airlines plane flying from Indianapolis to Tampa, Fla.

The plane turned back and the woman was turned over to city police.

She was booked for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Her handbag, containing a half-pint of whiskey, was placed in the property room.

The airline said the plane scarcely had left the ground when the woman made her way to the pilot's compartment, demanded more speed and stripped off Ramsey's shirt.

Rhee Pleased After Bargain on Truce Deal

mistic" about the progress of his mission to remove Rhee's defiance of an armistice, which was near the signing stage.

Robert E. Eason, Associated Press Tokyo bureau chief, said a highly placed South Korean source indicated Rhee might drop his fiery opposition to a truce if the U. S. would pledge military aid to the southern republic should the Reds launch another attack.

The South Korean spokesman told Eason that the pact "is the one point the president will never back down on."

He said that Rhee "may give in on the other two points, but he will never give in on the defense pact."

The "other two points" the spokesman referred to were Rhee's previous insistence upon withdrawal of Allied and Chinese Communist forces from Korea and a three-months time limit on political conferences to follow an armistice.

Robertson and Gen. Clark talked with Rhee for 40 minutes Saturday. Clark had flown from Tokyo for the meeting. The day before, Robertson had his first talk with the 78-year-old South Korean chief executive.

No official announcements were made, but observers here believed that at the first meeting, nearly three hours long, Robertson told Rhee the U. S. stand, and then received Rhee's reaction at Saturday's brief meeting.

Both Robertson and Rhee were believed awaiting Washington reaction to Rhee's reply.

A United Nations source close to Robertson told newsmen that "if things go well as they have so far" the special envoy may leave soon for Washington.

Course for Diamond Head

By Bob Ruskau

INTO THE BAY of San Francisco, so the oft-told story goes, a doughty Corinthian from Honolulu and his crew sailed the staunch little schooner, La Paloma.

It was a gray and foreboding day. But what matter, with the welcome they knew would be forthcoming along the Embarcadero. Clarence Macfarlane had interested several San Francisco yachtsmen in a race back to Hawaii and the celebration should be great. But —

There was no welcoming committee. Yet San Franciscans were and have ever been royal hosts.

It just happened that the time choice was unfortunate. This was the day after the great San Francisco earthquake and fire. Businessmen-yachtsmen of the bay area, beginning to dig from ruins were regretful, but their minds, understandably, were not on yacht racing.

So La Paloma sailed south, seeking an adversary.

And on June 11, 1906 the first Honolulu race—to become the world's greatest—was born. Three yachts sailed from San Pedro. They were La Paloma, Charles Tutt's Annemone and H. H. Sinclair's Lurline, which completed the 2225-mile trip in the very good time of 12 days, nine hours, 59 minutes.

GOOD TIME, INDEED! It was not until 1926 that the mark was bettered. Then it was by the largest yacht to enter the race up to that time. Don M. Lee's 136-foot steel schooner, Invader. Her time was 12:02:48:03.

On Saturday, July 4, at 11 a. m. and over a ½-mile starting line at outer Los Angeles harbor, a near-record fleet of exceeding 30 yachts, second greatest in history, will answer a starting cannon and sail away to the Isles of Romance in the 18th biennial edition of the Transpacific Race.

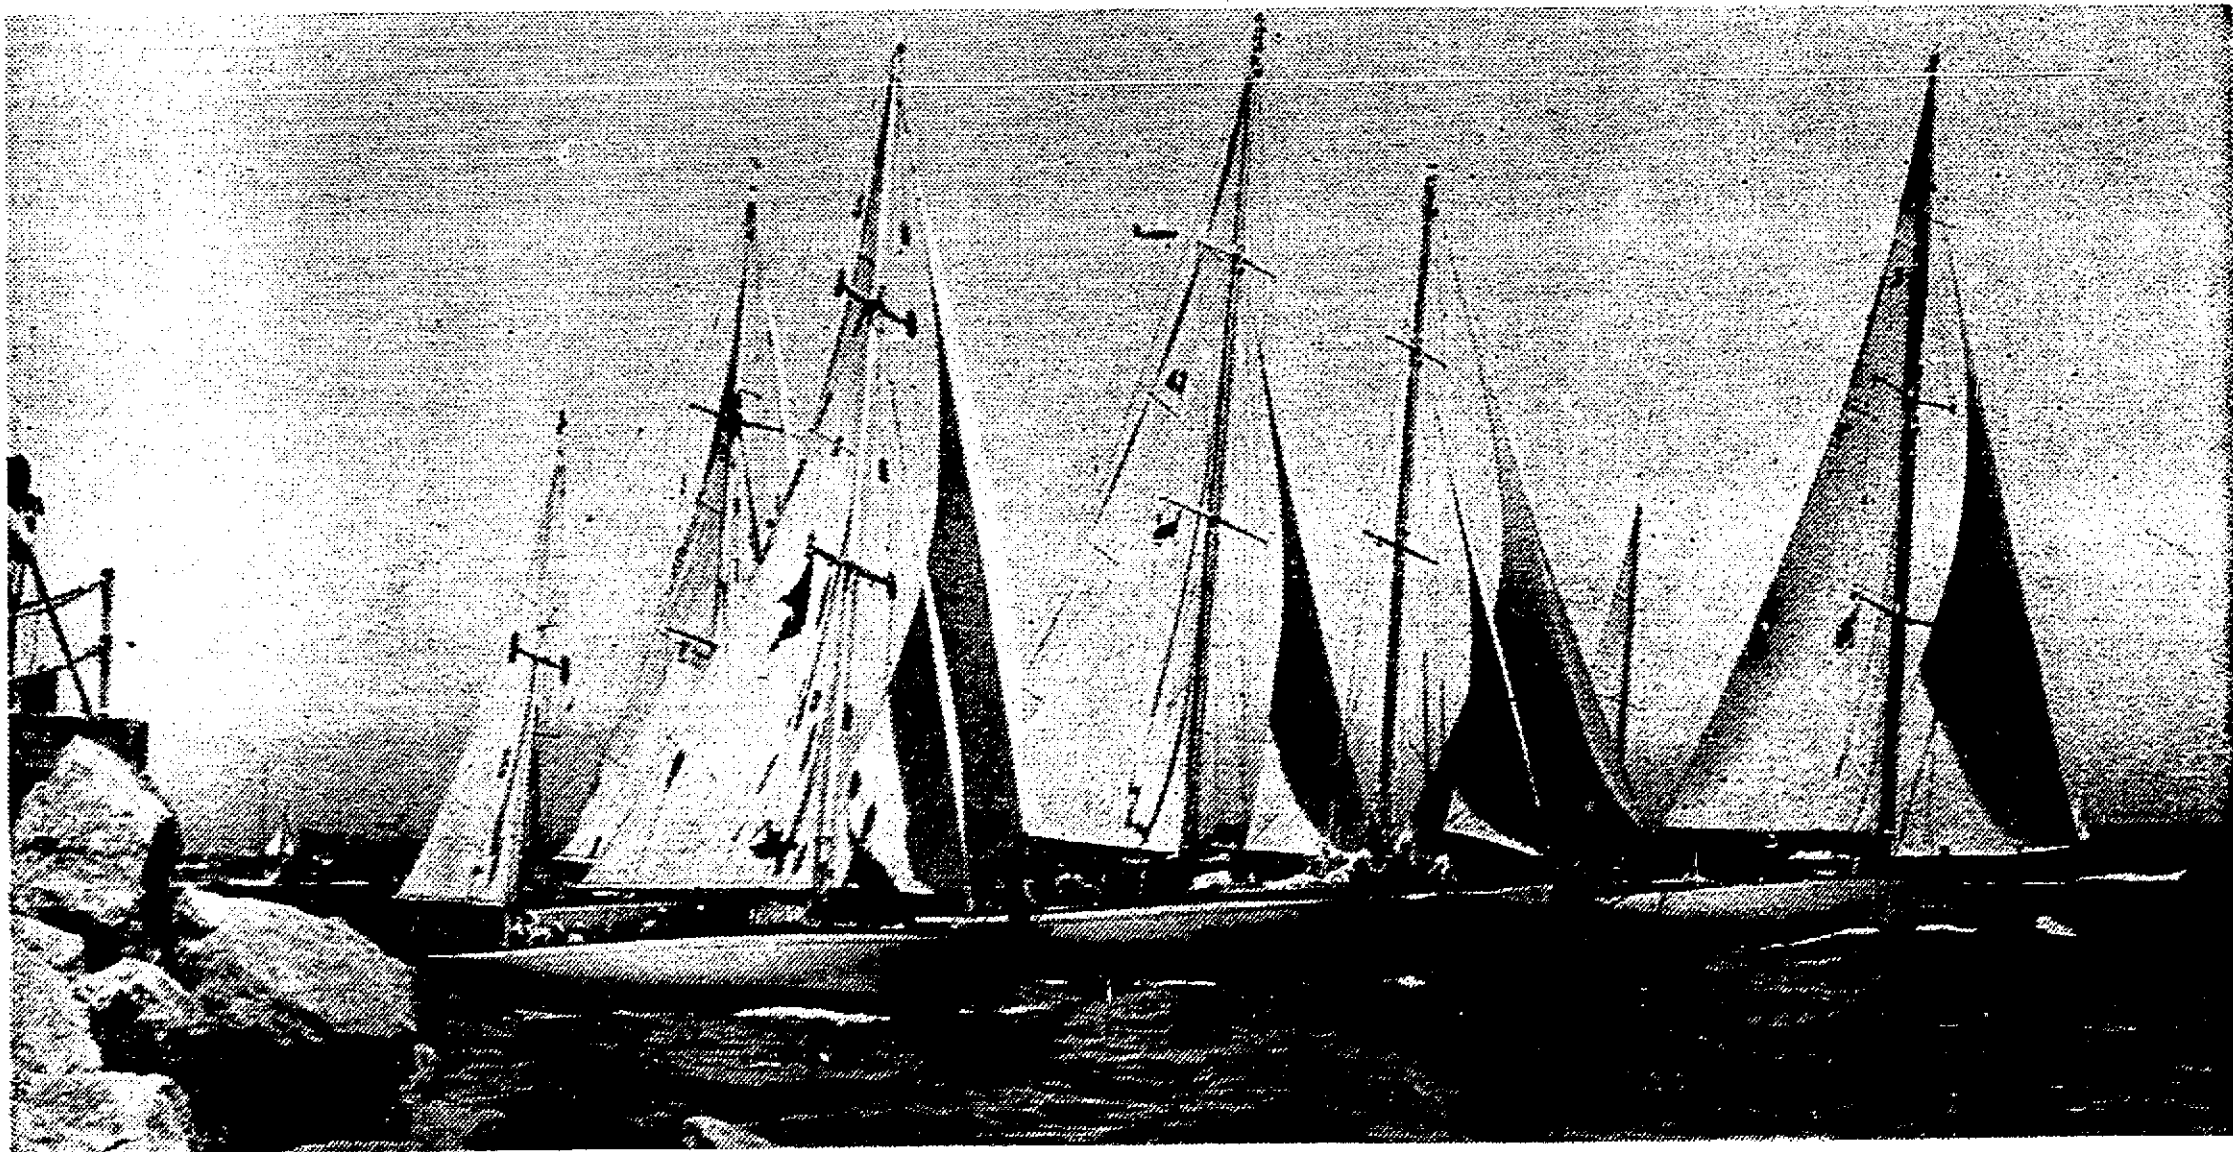

It is perhaps the best balanced fleet to ever compete. Enlisted are boats ranging upward from a sturdy little 36-foot yawl called Holganza, from Lafayette, Calif., to the largest sailing yacht commissioned on the Pacific Coast today.

She is Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner, Good Will. The veteran D. W. (Walt) Elliott of Long Beach is her Corinthian sailing master and Good Will

Sailing master of Good Will, largest entry in the race this year, will be D. W. (Walt) Elliott, Long Beach race skipper.

In a driving, dramatic start, yachts round the harbor breakwater to square away for Diamond Head. Record entry, in 1947, saw 34 yachts in competition.

CHRISTMAS IN JUNE

"Put that stuff back in your pack . . . can't you see it's June?" Rafael remonstrates with Santa Claus (Sam Fry) while Jimmie Burke points to the calendar.

By Vera Williams

BECAUSE JUNE is as far from Christmas as it is possible to get, Rafael, Long Beach hair stylist, had a Christmas party the other night.

It doesn't sound logical, but Rafael and his 28 guests say that the Christmas-in-June party was a lot of fun.

For the occasion, the host's

home, 1438 Linden Ave., was gay with Christmas lights, tinsel, Christmas bells and greenery.

Steaks were barbecued.

Then from the North Pole arrived Santa Claus — a convincing Santa with red suit and white whiskers. Santa carried a well filled pack and there was a general gift exchange, and a super gift for Charles Halsted, who is leaving to open the Aloha salon at Laguna Beach.

When they got around to it, host and guests sang "Joy to the World," "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells."

"The neighbors certainly asked a lot of questions the next morning," admits Rafael.

Because she's a real scout with stage hands, Loretta Young is called a "Good Josephine" on the set.

HOLLYWOOD

She's a Real Scout

By Nancy Lester

LIKE MANY A seasoned movie trouser, Loretta Young knows the value of being a good scout to the stage hands.

Loretta, along with such dis-staff troupers as Joan Crawford, Barbara Stanwyck, Claudette Colbert, Irene Dunne and other movie personalities who have been in the top starring brackets for a long time, has the enviable reputation of being absolute tops with the boys and gals behind the sound stage scenes.

"She's a real-Josephine," says prop man Eddie Keys who handled the propping chore on Universal-International's "It Happens Every Thursday," in which Loretta stars with John Forsythe. "She's one gal we'll never have to give 'the treatment' to."

The "treatment" is a well-known method of bring upstaging film players to their senses. It has been used effectively ever since the making of such silent epics as "The Birth of a Nation" and "Tillie's Punctured Romance." It consists simply of complete ostracism of the player by the technical crews.

ONE CULPRIT, who talked about his case recently, recalled that it took him four months to break down a silent movie crew, members of which did such a good job of ignoring him that he admits he was talking to himself after the second week.

The Hollywood "treatment" isn't limited to the studio stages. Many are the film players who have found themselves "too busy" at night club and premiere gatherings to pose for the news photographers who cover the glamour beat. Such players suddenly find that their pictures are not appearing in the fan magazines any more, and that the bulb-pressing boys are "not interested" when it is suggested that the player now has plenty of time on his hands to be photogenic.

Camel Greets Paraplegic Newlyweds

A BIG "HELLO" TO HONEYMOONING Wayne and Juanita Capson, Long Beach paraplegics, apparently is being given by this camel at the San Diego zoo as attendant Frank Bonnet offers a snack. The Capsons were married here June 6 and the Independent-Press-Telegram is paying for their honeymoon as a wedding present. Capson is a veteran of Korea and his bride is a WAC veteran of World War II. They travel in a special paraplegic car and will move soon into a specially-designed home in Garden Grove.—(AP Wirephoto.)

House Backs Ike Plan on Joint Chiefs

WASHINGTON—(AP). The House brushed aside cries of "Prussian military dictatorship" Saturday and approved by a 2 to 1 margin President Eisenhower's plan to revamp the Defense Dept.

The proposal goes into effect automatically Tuesday unless rejected by a majority of the full membership of the Senate, which so far has shown no inclination to oppose it.

The House vote, after 10 hours of debate Friday and Saturday, came on a resolution by Rep. Condon (D-Calif.) to disapprove the projected reorganization. Condon's resolution lost 234-108.

The unusual Saturday session was called to settle the row, stirred by a determined group of Republicans and Democrats, over sections in the plans which increase the authority of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Would End Movie Tax

WASHINGTON—(AP) Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) introduced a bill Saturday to take the 20 per cent excise tax off tickets to movie theaters.

Revolt Spreads in Bible College on Faculty Firing

GREENVILLE, S. C.—(AP). Revolt spread Saturday on the faculty of Bob Jones University, famed school of evangelism, where the college founder was reported to insist that the "tiniest facet of his thought" be considered law.

The registrar of the college was fired June 15 for "breaking policies" laid down by the school administration consisting of Dr. Bob Jones Sr., founder, and Dr. Bob Jones Jr., president.

Several other faculty members, three of them deans, have since resigned in protest.

The elder Jones called Mercer's statements part of the "satanic attack" on "any type of aggressive, spiritual uncompromising religious institution today."

The discharged registrar, Dr. Theodore G. Mercer, reported that 70 staff members left Bob Jones last year after a similar series of firings. He blamed his own dismissal on his refusal to obey the elder Jones' ultimatum to the faculty to boycott Greenville doctors who did not practice in the university infirmary.

Bob Jones is a big school with a beautiful tree-shaded campus and about 4000 students, most of them budding evangelists.

Jones Sr. is one of the country's leading revival preachers with more than 50 years on the road.

Dr. Jones, a 70-year-old native of Gale County, Ala., started at the age of 15 as a Methodist Episcopal boy preacher.

He later became allied with the Interdenominational Evangelistic Assn., which largely supports the university.

Mercer asserted he was fired "without an interview or hearing."

The deans who quit are Dr. Karl E. Keefer Jr. of the school of fine arts; Benedetto Ciliberto of the school of commerce and Lewis A. Warwick of the college of arts and sciences. The president of the student body, William H. Leslie Jr. of Norwalk, O., also withdrew.

In his letter of resignation Keefer said that "one must either actively or tacitly agree with all decisions and actions of the administration or leave the organization."

Knifed Youth Clings to Life After Surgery

Although still in critical condition from a stab wound which severed an artery near his heart, Andy Moreno, 21, of 9222 Pioneer Blvd., Los Nietos, was reported improved Saturday night.

The youth was stabbed at 3:30 a. m. Saturday while he and five other boys were camped on the beach at Huntington Beach. The stabbing followed an argument with four occupants of another tent near by.

The knife wound was three and one-half inches long, severed an artery, punctured a lung and cut his liver, attendants said. After the knifing, Moreno collapsed and his assailants hurriedly gathered their gear and fled, the youth's companions told sheriff's officers.

Physicians at Orange County Hospital, Orange, at first gave young Moreno slim chance to survive. The youth's relatives summoned a priest who administered extreme unction at his bedside in the hospital.

Following surgery, however, Moreno began to show improvement and a doctor Saturday night guardedly reported that, barring complications, the youth would recover.

U.N. Secretary Asks Allies to Forgo Total Korea Victory

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP). Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld called on the U. N. Saturday to forgo total military victory in Korea as a prelude to a peace without vengeance.

Hammarskjöld broadcast his ideas in his first major address on world affairs since taking over as U. N. secretary general from Trygve Lie. It was made to mark the signing of the U. N. charter in San Francisco eight years ago Friday.

The U. N. chief spoke against a background of demands from President Syngman Rhee for continued war to unite divided North and South Korea.

Without referring specifically to these demands, Hammarskjöld warned that the U. N. charter does not allow use of force to secure "victory in terms of land or power" but only for self-defense or to repel aggression.

Once this has been done, he declared, there is no provision for further punishment of the aggressor.

The Swedish diplomat said he was outlining a new approach to world affairs which would be opposed by those who believe "in the unconditional surrender of old wars."

"The U. N. action in Korea," he declared, "marks the first attempt in history to meet aggression with unified forces under an international standard. Parallel activity designed to seek a settlement was carried on within the council chambers with perseverance and a firm resolution to uphold the concepts of the charter. 'This approach is a new formula in the history of political conflicts, and its importance may well be underlined by the historians of the future.

VICTORY FOR PRINCIPLE
"In exploring these new avenues of collective security we must adapt ourselves to accept such unfamiliar developments as a war which ends without total victory for any party, but only for a principle."

"Such a victory, although it may not be considered as satisfactory by those who still believe in the unconditional surrenders of old wars, is a full vindication of those brave men who have sacrificed their lives for this principle."

"The U. N., in full harmony with what we believe should be the standards of the future, is an organization dedicated to the principle that military forces should not be used save in self defense and to repel aggression. It does not foresee the use of force to secure the fruits of victory in terms of land and power."

Kerr Probes Treasury Aide Link, If Any, to N.Y. Bank

DES MOINES—(AP) Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) Saturday night demanded to know if Randolph Burgess, deputy to the secretary of the Treasury, receives a pension from and holds stock in the National City Bank of New York. Treasury officials in Washington cited a letter from Secretary Humphrey, printed in the June 22 Congressional Record, in which the Treasury chief said that Burgess "has qualified himself in every respect and has divested himself of his bank stock and complied with all provisions of the law."

Burgess told a reporter in Washington he retired from the National City Bank in Dec. 31, and receives a non-revocable pension based upon his years of service in the bank and contributions to a regular employee-employer insured pension plan. Burgess said he no longer holds any stock whatsoever in the National City Bank. Treasury officials had said the pension is the result of his work with the bank. They said it was a standard-type retirement pension, to which he had made contributions; that it was handled by an insurance company and was not revocable by the bank or insurance company.

Humphrey's letter was addressed to Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), who has been critical of the Treasury's "hard money" policy.

Kerr, in a speech prepared for a Polk County Democratic dinner, said the National City Bank profits greatly "from the hard money policies and higher interest rates" he said Burgess had helped bring about.

Noting that other nominees had been forced to sell their stock and that President Eisenhower's appointment of Tom Lyon director of the Bureau of Mines had been withdrawn after Lyon testified he is receiving a revocable pension from Anaconda Copper Mining Company, Kerr said the same rule should be applied to Burgess.

In Lyon's case, the criticism was made that the copper company would have a potential string on Lyon because it could stop his pension at will.

Eisenhower to Speak

CHICAGO — (AP) President Eisenhower probably will speak at the 45th annual Governor's conference Aug. 2-6 in Seattle, Wash., it was announced Saturday.

Benson Sees Calamity in Starved Texas Cattle, Withered Crops--Vows Instant Aid

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(AP) Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson looked at the hungry cattle and the drouth-withered range of west Texas Saturday and promised worried ranchers immediate federal help.

"We are going to take immediate and effective action to deal with this drouth and stop the excessive slaughter of cows and calves needed to maintain foundation herds," he said.

President Eisenhower had already declared parts of Texas and Oklahoma "major disaster areas" from a drouth now in its fourth year.

He is expected to declare drouth-stricken parts of Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico disaster areas soon.

Benson, in a speech to 1800 cotton farmers and ranchers, said he is taking these immediate relief measures:

- 1—Requesting the Interstate Commerce Commission to authorize railroads to reduce freight rates for cattle moving out of the area and feed moving in.
- 2—Reviewing all the emergency lending authority of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the availability of funds under those powers.
- 3—Surveying funds available within other agencies and the Civil Defense agency, which administers the President's emergency fund.

Benson toured the blistering countryside. He saw sand dunes piled along the highways as they were in the Dust Bowl days of the 1930s.

Dust storms have been so bad bulldozers were called out to clear the roads.

As he went south to Tahoka, Tex., he stopped in a cotton field now too dry even to germinate cotton seed.

Benson picked up a handful of soil and wordlessly let it dribble through his fingers.

He stopped at another point to look at the dead range and at a drove of forlorn Hereford cattle, so lean that their ribs indented their hides. He pulled clumps of dead grass from the soil.

"They can't live on this," he said.

Benson said the crisis affects 13,000,000 head of livestock in 128 Texas counties and more than 2,000,000 in 40 Oklahoma counties.

After his 55-mile tour, Benson spoke before the American Cotton Congress.

Baby Ballet

Ballerinas are born early at the Ebsen School of Dancing, a small but very well known school in Pacific Palisades, which perhaps has contributed more famous names to the stage and screen than almost any other of its type. Here the little ladies start at a very tender age—the school boasts some two and a half and three-year-olds. Classical, folk and modern (interpretive) dancing are taught, and its amusing students once were featured in pages of LIFE.

That thumb still helps, especially on the complicated steps.

"I doan wanna dance now," Mickey tells Instructor Pat Newcomer.

First Aid for Antiques

By Muriel Loriette Mercer

HAVE you been keeping an old ornamental plaster frame, against the day when you felt you could afford having it reconditioned? If you have such a frame and there are several pieces missing, do not be discouraged. With about $3 and a little time, you can reconstruct the frame yourself.

The picture frame in the accompanying illustration is almost 100 years old. Five pieces were missing from the highly embossed, plaster molding. Inner and outer sections of the frame were gold leafed, with the molding gilded. This combination was frequently used for its pleasing effect. In this case it was fortunate as gilt is very easy to apply to an ornate surface. With a little dexterity gilt may be given an "older" effect, to harmonize with the period of the picture.

Tools required: Plaster of Paris, olive oil, liquid cement, glue, a 15-cent stick of modelling clay, soft toothbrush, one-half inch camel's hair brush, clean rags, chisel or screw driver, hacksaw and nail file.

METHOD: Clean frame thoroughly with toothbrush. If grime and dirt remain, cleanse with creamy mixture of boiled, bland soap and water. Wipe off with moist clean rags.

Examine intact portion of molding to ascertain exactly which part of design is missing.

Break off piece of clay, enough to cover design portion. Work in hands until soft. Flatten to 1/2 inch thickness. With olive oil, paint section of design to be cast, using camel's hair brush.

Lay clay on design, pushing deeply into carved ornaments for proper depth. Work from inner to outer edge. Remove excess. Let set for an hour. Pry off clay, starting from lowest point of design. If material sticks, lift edge gently with chisel to facilitate removal. Careless handling will change shape and render it useless.

CASTING: Mix plaster with water to smooth texture. Oil inside of clay mold. Pour in mixture. Scrape off excess plaster, flush with top of mold. Let set until hard. Remove clay. If any clay remains on cast, wash off quickly with soap and water, using toothbrush. Dry.

Hold cast on molding and with pencil lines determine exact cutting angles to be sawed. Hold ornate side, sawing prudently. Smooth rough and high spots with nail file.

When casting is perfectly fitted, apply glue to bottom. Use liquid cement on wood frame. Attach casting. Let stand overnight.

Bronze powders for gliding, with separate bronzing liquids are the most satisfactory. The frame above, was "spotted" with a red bronzing gilt called Brilliant Fire. When dry, dull gold was brushed over entire plaster molding, to give a warm shadowed effect.

carries a crew so large — upward of 30 amateur seamen — that the rocking chair brigade has nicknamed her, "We, the People."

Generally, the larger yachts have had but one hope, which is to be the first to fetch Diamond Head and possibly break the elapsed time record.

TRADITIONALLY, smaller boats have had advantage in handicap and won on corrected time, to become the "real" winners. Obviously, with such disparity in sizes and types of rig which these ocean-goers possess, a handicap system is mandatory.

This trip, though, a more equitable one has been scientifically worked out, thanks to students of the Caltech Sailing Club, under Dr. Clark Millikan.

Race Chairman Ira P. Fulmor, whose Staghound is also again an entry, says this should assure the closest corrected time competition in the 47-year history of the classic.

Today the elapsed time record stands at 10:10:16 and was set in 1949 by the Morning Star. When the cannon roars Saturday this beautiful 97-footer, owned by manufacturer Richard S. (Dick) Rheem, will be competing in the blue-water fixture for her fourth time.

MORNING STAR emerged as a masthead ketch. With this, Rheem hopes, given the right winds, to again lower the record.

Whether Morning Star, Good Will, Bill Stewart's great yawl, Chubasco, or any other of the top-flight deep-water yachts do this or whether they fail, one thing is sure:

More great Corinthian history will be woven in water of the vast Pacific during the next two weeks.

Salvation Army's 'Angel' Dies at 83

LOS ANGELES—(UP). Mrs. W. Roy Gilks, who served 65 years in the Salvation Army, died at her home here Saturday at the age of 83.

A native of Halifax, Yorkshire, Eng., Mrs. Gilks became famous as "The Angel of Devil's Mile" because of her work among the prostitutes of London's city road. She is survived by her husband, Lt. Col. W. Roy Gilks, and three children: George Gilks of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Dorothy May Hughes and Mrs. Catherine Ruth of Glendale, Calif.

Reds Now Try 'Favors' to Soothe East Berlin

BERLIN—(UP). The Communist East German government tried Saturday to win some support from the populace it controls only through the Russian army by announcing sweeping reforms as the western allied high commissioners called on the Soviet to relax its iron grip on the nation.

Ike's Brother in Colombia, Lauds Troops

BOGOTA, Colombia—(UP). Dr. Milton Eisenhower arrived in Colombia Saturday as the personal envoy of his brother, the President of the United States.

He told newsmen President Eisenhower asked him to express "the friendship, good will and wish to co-operate which the United States harbors toward Colombia."

Dr. Eisenhower was met at the airport, on his arrival from Caracas, Venezuela, by high foreign ministry officials and the American embassy staff.

"I want my first words in Colombia to be a tribute to the courage displayed in action by the heroic Colombian soldiers in Korea. This sentiment of sincere admiration is shared by my brother, President Eisenhower, by the entire United States people," the visitor told his welcome.

He is scheduled to remain here until Tuesday, when he will proceed to Ecuador.

The British, French and American high commissioners in a joint statement called on the Russians to allow free elections and a unified Germany. They said the formation of an all-German government should be followed by a peace treaty with the new government.

Their statement was issued after a two-and-one-half-hour meeting in Berlin reviewing the bloody workers' revolt in East Germany against eight years of Soviet occupation oppression.

The allied high commissioners again pressed the Russians to lift martial law in the Soviet zone and restore normal communications and travel between East and West Berlin.

The western powers new appeal to the Soviets followed the announcement by the Communist East German government of new sweeping concessions to farmers, small businessmen and workers. The new Red government moves were an attempt to win support for a regime held in power by the presence of 300,000 Red army troops.

The worried East German leaders, although protected by the Red army, apparently have given up their Sovietization program to appease the workers and other anti-Communists in the soviet zone.

The Communist government has offered the workers more food, clothing and consumer goods. It announced Saturday that East German prisons were releasing thousands of persons imprisoned for economic crimes—that is opposition to socialization. Farmers who were imprisoned for failure to meet delivery quotas also were released.

The government said that private enterprises which had been nationalized would be returned to former owners.

Private business also will be extended credit, the government said. Lack of credits drove many private businesses to the wall under the East German Sovietization plans.

Bonn Chief Declares Rearming Plan Dead

TRAVEMUENDE, Germany—(UP). A leading member of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government coalition said here Saturday that the treaties rearming West Germany in alliance with the West are "practically dead." He urged a foreign policy more independent from the West.

Dr. Reinhold Maier, minister president of Baden-Wuerttemberg and free democratic head of the federal upper house of parliament, said that "we oriented ourselves radically to the West."

Girl in Chaplin Paternity Case Gets Mind Test

LOS ANGELES—(UP). Joan Berry, 32, former actress who in 1946 won a long-fought paternity suit against Charlie Chaplin, is in General Hospital for a psychiatric examination.

Hospital officials said that Miss Berry, married to Russell Seck, a Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, herself requested the examination and was admitted to the hospital Friday.

She was the central figure in the Chaplin paternity case, fought through the courts for nearly three years. Chaplin was acquitted on Mann Act charges involving her.

Hospital officials said Miss Berry has been living in Redondo Beach.

Nimble With a Thimble

Real ingenuity is used by the dressmaker in adapting the sarong-wrap to a one-piece play suit (above), providing it with a full, flaring short jacket, using Bambalino print.

By Bess Williams

LADIES who are nimble with a thimble can be creative, too! Once their learning days are past, there is no law that says they must stick scrupulously to each pattern detail. Rather, they can adventure with fresh ideas, use stripes and border prints at new angles to give a new look, combine the best features of two or even three patterns; adapt the design tricks of professionals to their individual efforts.

In a season when decoration is fashion news, as this year, this is especially true. For instance, most denim sport skirts look like first cousins, but one top American designer gives real distinction to a swirl skirt of sanforized denim by sewing inch-wide ruffles of white batiste in billowing waves around the swirl. Scrolls of thick white cotton braid alternate with the ruffles to turn this denim skirt into a party-going outfit.

Sequins, rhinestones, beads and pearls stud and decorate important costumes this year. So if you are making a flower print dress, outline the large flower motifs of the bodice with sequins. Bind a neckline with a rope of pearls. One leading designer uses this most effectively on a bathing suit this season. If your fabric is plain, row upon row of bold contrasting stitching give it that encrusted effect.

IF A STOLE is part of your costume, line it dramatically. Well done, it can be the conversation piece of the outfit. Incidentally, when lining stoles or jackets, or combining any two cotton fabrics, be sure both materials are labeled Sanforized. Otherwise one fabric is likely to shrink more than the other in washing, thereby ruining the smooth line of careful tailoring.

Here are some do's and don'ts to aid the home sewer with an urge to be creative:

Do watch the fashion pages of newspapers and magazines for ideas.

Do study display fashions in the better stores.

Do keep a scrapbook of idea material.

Do know your model; what color, silhouette, fabrics look best.

Do read the end of the bolt board in buying fabrics. Does it label the fabric as vat dyed, mercerized, Sanforized, or any other "plus" that assures improved service?

Do make notes on a used pattern envelope of desirable changes.

Don't be color-bound. One whose eyes are blue doesn't have to wear blue all the time.

Don't try out too many tricks on one dress.

Flocked polka dots as big as silver dollars give the 1953 fashion accent to the pretty and practical denim dress (above).

Making use of bright, broken stripes is the dress (above) that cuts bodice and sleeves in one, uses a full, gored skirt.

NORWALK.

THIS is a club that is "different." It is the Children's Club, composed of 50 boys and girls, from 8 to 12 years old, who meet weekly at the home of Mrs. J. C. Wall, 12013 Sycamore St. Part of the group are from Mrs. Wall's Sunday School class in the Christ Methodist Church. The majority are "neighborhood kids." They include Catholics and eight different Protestant denominations.

The club's activities are varied. There are handicraft projects, wiener roasts, visits to the park and lively games played in Mrs. Wall's back yard. Often younger brothers and sisters are present. Always there is a cat or dog joining in the back yard fun.

Says Mrs. Wall, 67, the mother of 10 children, who also is a grandmother and a great-grandmother: "So many mothers are here, they are not in any trouble. We have club dues. No set amount. Just what the children can pay."

"And Dad (J. C. Wall) is willing to let me spend money for color books, games and toys. From dad's workshop I pick up scrap material to use in our handicraft activities. Then the children collect old bottles and newspapers. Recently we collected $60 worth of bottles. Right now we are buying pocket testaments for the Boy Scouts with the money we have collected."

Our Cover

CURVE ASSEMBLY LINE

Every Woman Has Her Weigh at Long Beach Gym

By VERA WILLIAMS

EXERCISE BOARD irons away excess weight at Peggy O'Neil's gymnasium for women here. Eunice Nelson, down 60 pounds at weight 180, goes in for strenuous exercise. She's bent on taking off 38 more pounds.—(Staff Photos by Chuck Telly.)

FLAT ON TUMMY and chest, Doris Gilmore swings dumbbells. This is good for chest, arms and back. Gymnasium for women seeks cures for "secretary spread," "dowager's hump" and "high pockets," adding an inch here and taking one away there.

GYM BOSS PEGGY O'NEIL, who does as she preaches, takes some chest and shoulder exercises at her curve assembly line, 122 W. First St. "It is very important for a woman to have a pretty thigh," she says.

The average woman needs to take two to three inches off her waist, two to six inches off her hips, and build up her bust—or more exactly, the chest muscles. She is as likely to need to put on weight as to reduce.

That's what Peggy O'Neil says—and P. O'N. should know because over the state 600 women, aged from 9 to 91 years, are building up or taking down according to her specifications. And that doesn't count the ones who see her on television and do likewise.

A tall, lithe blonde with green eyes, Peggy told the story the other day in her gymnasium, 122 W. First St. That is, it is Peggy's gymnasium for women on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, it's her husband's, Vince Gironda's gymnasium for men.

"I came out to California from New York on an Artists and Models' screen test," said Peggy. "I was in 'Ziegfeld Girl' and practically all the musicals you can think of—including that Ginger Rogers film with all the dream sequences. Vance and I met on the set of 'Our Hearts Were Young and Gay'."

"I got Q fever—that's a fever you get from milk or meat—and I was in bed for six months. When I got up, I was fat—Oh, it was awful! I began training nights at Vince's North Hollywood gym after the men had gone. Pretty soon I began feeling wonderful."

"I opened my first gym six years ago in Studio City. Now I have four gyms—Long Beach, Hollywood, Studio City and the Crenshaw area in Los Angeles. I advocate that a woman exercise in a gymnasium about three times a week, all the way from a half-hour to two hours."

Home exercises are all right if you know you are doing them correctly and know that they are the right exercises for you. A gymnasium has the equipment and can plan a program that is right for the individual.

"In our gyms, we take a woman's measurements, weight, etc., when she first comes in and plan a series of exercises for her. After 12 periods of exercise, we take her measurements and weight again and plan a new program of exercises."

Women know about "secretary spread" and "dowager's hump," says Peggy, but a good many of them don't know about "high pockets," pockets of fat that accumulate just below the waist line where dress pockets would be if she had dress pockets; and many of them don't know about fat that accumulates in the long back muscles, or the marbles of fat that accumulate in the under thighs.

"It is very important for a woman to have a pretty thigh," says Peggy simply.

Did you think, as the writer did, the planned exercise is a relatively new invention? "Oh, my no!" says Peggy, and her green eyes dilate with astonishment. "Statues the Greeks and Romans left us show wonderful development in the males—development that must have been brought about by progressive resistance exercises. . . . And the Roman chair we use in our gymnasiums for the thing was invented by the Romans."

In addition to the Roman chair, Peggy's gyms have a variety of pulleys for back and shoulders; including boards for abdominal exercises; leg slide, leg press and even a toe raise.

A good advertisement for her own system, Peggy is 5 feet 8 inches, weighs 128 pounds ("My bones are slight, so that weight is about right for my height"); 36 hip; 25 waist; 37 bust.

Her husband was Mr. America of 1950; he had a prominent part in a number of pictures, including "Frenchmen's Creek," did stunt and stand-in movie jobs for quite a few years, and still is called back occasionally when movies need a he-man physique.

MERRY-GO-ROUND of reduction is given a whirl by Peggy O'Neil (back to camera) Bernice Eagle-ton and Laurell Specht, hauling pulleys to exercise chest and back muscles at Peggy's gymnasium.

NOISE SHALT BE

Judge OKs Cap Pistols

MADISON, Wis.—(AP). Wisconsin law Saturday sided with "small boys who like noise" against "big ones, who don't."

Gov. Walter Kohler affirmed the state's stand Friday when he signed a bill legalizing cap pistols.

He said he approved the bill "damage to adult nerves notwithstanding."

However, he added a few words of comfort to parents:

1—"A child who is playing with his cap pistol is not sketching on the wallpaper, carving on the woodwork, mining in the front yard, falling out of a tree or throwing rocks at the neighbor's dog."

2—"Providing a child with a cap pistol is not unlike belling the cat—you will always know where he is."

Downtown Lions Club Installs

Raymond C. Kealer, petroleum engineer and City Councilman from the Third District, has been seated as president of Downtown Lions Club, succeeding Robert McNulty.

Installation was Friday at Lakewood Country Club, with William J. Goss, district governor of Lions, installing officer. Other new officers are Dr. Vernon Brickey, Raymond Parker and Raymond Stricklin, vice presidents; Philip Adkins, secretary-treasurer; Joseph Robbins, lion tamer; Joseph Menke, tail twister; Herbert Murphy, Dr. Edward Neushutz, Walter Hoffman; and Norman Gillette, directors.

WASHINGTON—AP. Rep. Yorty (D-Los Angeles), asserting he had been denied an appointment with President Eisenhower, Friday criticized what he termed an "iron curtain of impassable staff assistants between the President and representatives in Congress."

Yorty said he had asked twice within a month for an appointment "to talk about defense, not golf."

Senate OKs River, Port Bill in Debate

WASHINGTON—(AP). The Senate passed by voice vote today a $475,762,900 flood control act, rivers and harbors bill after a debate over a Republican "slow-down" on federal power projects.

The measure now goes to a Senate House conference committee for adjustment of differences. The House voted $57,371,300 less for the program.

The Senate figure is $24,887,200 less, however, than President Eisenhower recommended, and $209,614,200 less than former President Truman proposed.

During debate Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) charged that Republicans in the administration and Congress are "trying to stop the clock" on public power development.

He cited the Interior Department's decision to drop plans for the Hells Canyon Dam in Idaho and a "new power policy" stated by the House Appropriations committee.

"STRAW MAN" Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) handling the bill for the Republicans, replied there was "no partisanship in the Senate on this program." He said critics of the bill were setting up a "straw man" of Republican policy that just isn't so.

Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.) said partisanship "is neck deep" in the handling of the bill. "It's a partisanship of a coalition of reactionary forces in this Senate," he said, and added that he will continue "to speak out" against the coalition.

Knowland said Morse was stating "a strange doctrine...that only one man here has the interests of the people at heart." He said there were others in the Senate who "have worked just as hard and perhaps more effectively" for approval of power projects.

"You can praise yourself all you want," Morse rejoined, "and if you want I'll give you a mirror to look at yourself with."

He challenged Knowland to "fish or cut bait" by accepting an amendment to allow $3,000,000 for a construction start on Ice Harbor Dam in Washington. Knowland said the project had been given "due consideration" and refused to support it. The amendment was defeated.

Magnuson protested that the administration decision on Hells Canyon leaves undeveloped western power sites "at the mercy of predatory eastern interests such as the Idaho Power Company."

He said that the House Appropriations committee's announced policy on power development is a "giveaway" ranking with western land frauds of the last century. He quoted the House committee as declaring that private enterprise should be "taken into partnership" on construction of government dams and should be encouraged to build and operate power features of the projects.

Mercy Army Fights Polio in Dixie City

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(AP). An army of volunteers Saturday swung into the job of inoculating every child here under 10 with gamma globulin in an effort to whip a threatened polio epidemic.

The entire medical staffs of the Maxwell and Gunter Air Force Bases Saturday joined the 100 doctors, dozens of nurses and hundreds of members of the Parents-Teachers organization who have offered their help in the giant attack on polio.

The gamma globulin—some 67 gallons—arrived by air express. The amber fluid was hauled off the plane and loaded on two flatcars while newsreel photographers shot pictures.

Some 30,000 children in the county are to be injected. Two new polio cases were reported Saturday to bring the total now to 75 cases.

A constant stream of people flowed in and out of the headquarters where conferences were held and details worked out for the operation.

The children all must be inoculated in the four days from next Tuesday to Friday. None of the serum will be ready for use before then and none will be left afterward.

Eighteen clinics will be set up in public schools. Doctors will man them in rotating four-hour shifts.

1 Dead, 2 Hurt, L.B. Man Booked on Drunk Driving

NEWHALL—(AP). A Long Beach motorist was booked on suspicion of manslaughter and drunken driving Saturday after a Ridge Route collision in which one of his passengers was killed and two were seriously injured.

The driver is Paul R. Barquera, 25, of 1938 S. Gabriel Ave., Robert C. Feist, 18, sailor stationed aboard the USS Pousset, was killed when Barquera's car collided with a truck. Charles R. Barnett, 19, also attached to the Pousset, and a merchant seaman Oscar Miranda, 27, were hospitalized with injuries.

The truck driver, Clyde N. Sterling, 39, Whittier, was not hurt.

Key's Anthem Script Bought for $26,428

BALTIMORE—(AP). The first complete version Francis Scott Key wrote of the Star Spangled Banner was bought for $26,428 Saturday and turned over to the Maryland Historical Society as the centerpiece for a permanent memorial to its author.

Mrs. Thomas Courtney Jenkins of Baltimore made the gift to the society in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Key Jenkins, whose father was Key's cousin.

House Approves 5% Down for $12,000 FHA Homes

(Compiled From P and UP)

WASHINGTON—The House voted Saturday to let President Eisenhower lower down-payment requirements for Federal Housing Administration mortgage loans on low and medium-priced homes.

It also voted him power to extend the mortgage repayment period.

The mortgage liberalization authority was written into a general housing bill extending major features of the federal housing programs for another year, which the House passed by voice vote.

It is similar to a provision in a Senate-passed measure which now goes to a Senate-House conference to harmonize differences between the two chambers' versions.

The liberalization authority may be exercised by the President whenever he finds it necessary in the national interest or, as Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) told the House, to bolster the building industry.

It will let the President direct the FHA to accept 5 per cent down payments on houses costing up to $12,000—instead of the present $7,000 limit, and to extend the repayment period from 25 to 30 years.

The authority for lower down-payments is in line with suggestions made by private home builders to stimulate construction but they are not satisfied with the over-all provisions.

In addition, the measure will authorize the FHA to insure an additional $1,500,000,000 worth of mortgages.

The measure also will repeal the Veterans Administration ban against discounts of more than 1 per cent on GI home loan mortgages.

Builders had complained the VA order has dried up the GI mortgage market.

Supporters contended that if builders are permitted to sell mortgages to lenders at big discounts it encourages them to sell housing to veterans at a price above its true value. "The house bill also will continue federal aid for another year for construction of community facilities in critical defense housing areas, and broaden it to make New Ellenton, S. C., near the H-Bomb plant, eligible for aid.

U.N. Buys 5500 Homes for Indigent Koreans

PUSAN, Korea—(AP). South Korea signed an agreement with U.N. officials Saturday calling for construction of 5500 housing units for homeless Koreans. About $2,400,000 worth of building materials are expected to be imported for the job.

Air Lines Lose License Battle

LOS ANGELES—(AP). Four non-scheduled air lines have failed in an attempt to halt license revocation hearings scheduled for July 6 by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall has denied the air lines' petition for an injunction to cancel the hearing. The petition claimed proper preliminary steps had not been taken and that the CAB was without authority in the case.

The air lines, all freight carriers, are Trans-American Airlines, Inc., 20th Century Air Lines, Inc., Trans-National Airlines Inc., and Hemisphere Air Transport.

Eggs Add Zest to Eating!

THINK OF THE EGG... one of the oldest, and always the newest, of mankind's foods... and you think of good nutrition, versatility, convenience, compactness, ready availability, economy and, above all, good eating.

The easiest and quickest to cook of all natural foods, the egg is unique in many ways. It comes in its own complete package containing a wealth of vitamins and minerals. Its delicate flavor alone suffices, but it combines with and enhances many other fine foods.

One attractive homemaker and mother who thoroughly appreciates and keeps in mind all the virtues of the egg is Mrs. Tom J. Hardesty, 636 Havana Ave. Whether it be the egg at breakfast, the egg in a main dish, or the egg in a fluffy dessert, she has the answer.

Today her recipe for a quick pancake or waffle batter is featured. Her recipes for Creamy Custard and a Deviled Egg Casserole are also given below.

Creamy Custard

2 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup sugar
5 eggs

1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Beat eggs with fork until yolks and whites are blended. Add sugar, salt, flavoring and nutmeg. Mix thoroughly. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered molds. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) about 35 minutes, until inserted knife comes out clean.

Deviled Egg Casserole

6 hard-cooked eggs
Mayonnaise dressing
Salt and pepper
Vinegar
Paprika

Cut eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove yolks. Mash. Moisten with mayonnaise. Season to taste with salt, pepper and vinegar. Mix until light and fluffy. Pile lightly into egg whites. Sprinkle with paprika. Place eggs in casserole, over which has been poured a medium white sauce to which cheese has been added. Top with potato chips and bake for 15 minutes in moderate oven. Serves 3.

We thought you might like the following suggestions for using eggs, and some additional recipes, the main ingredient of which is the egg. The egg will:

Thicken as in custards and puddings.

Leaven by beating to incorporate air as in cakes.

Add color, richness and flavor to individual dishes.

Coat as in breaded meats and poultry.

Garnish as in canapes, salads

and soups.

Bind as in meat loaves and croquettes.

Emulsify as in salad dressings and cream puffs.

Clarify as in preparation of consommé or in "boiled" coffee.

Eggaroni

2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon horseradish, if desired
2 teaspoons minced onion
4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
2 cups cooked macaroni
Salt and pepper

Melt the fat and blend in the flour. Pour in the milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add horseradish, onion, eggs and macaroni. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired, and serve with toast.

California Scrambled Eggs

4 slices bacon
6 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash black pepper
Dash cayenne pepper
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sliced ripe olives
1 tablespoon thinly sliced green onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Cut bacon into 1/2-inch pieces and fry until crisp. Drain bacon on absorbent paper and pour off all but 1 tablespoon of bacon fat. Beat eggs with salt, pepper and cayenne. Blend in milk. Pour into frying pan with hot bacon fat and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally. When partially set, stir in bacon, olives, onion and parsley, and cook until creamy. Serve at once. Serves 4.

French Omelet

3 eggs
3 tablespoons milk or water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper, scant
1 tablespoon fat

Mix eggs, milk, salt and pepper thoroughly. Avoid foaminess. Heat fat in skillet (approx. 8 in.) just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce heat. As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken, draw the cooked portions with the fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet as it is necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Do not stir and keep mixture as level as possible. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll. Total cooking time, 5 to 8 minutes. Serves 2.

Kitchen Tip:

Mrs. Hardesty's Kitchen Tip: Remove frozen fruit juice from deep freeze the night before and place in refrigerator. It will be ready to serve for breakfast.

Mrs. Hardesty's Pancake, Waffle Batter:

2 cups biscuit mix, 6 eggs (beaten), salt to taste, 1/4 cup milk or cream. Mix thoroughly and bake as for waffles or pancakes.

house to accommodate their special way of life, can sit in their living room and look right through two walls of glass into their patio.

The floor of the patio is composed of concrete that has been divided off into squares measuring about two and a half feet in size. Each section has been separated by means of redwood liners sunk into the concrete flush with the surface.

Three tones were used in the cement colors: Gray, soft rose and green. Occasionally, a square was omitted and in its stead, a tropical plant was set into the open area. Thus, in the checkerboard of the floor, various plantings break the monotony and add greatly to the beauty of the scheme.

Interspersed with the trees and tropical shrubs are pieces

The Bloods' house is constructed on a gently sloping corner lot. Attractive fence and planting set off the home.

Striking a Balance

LIBERALISM, Oregon's Sen. Wayne Morse advised the Senate the other day, is dead in the Republican party. His implication, of course, is that he himself was the only element of liberalism in the Republican party and now that he has divorced himself from the party, it remains nothing but a shell of reaction.

We've never been able to figure out exactly what Sen. Morse means by the term liberalism. But from what we've observed he seems to consider it any thinking that is opposed to the orthodox or the conservative.

By holding this belief, ironically, he places himself in the category of the rank reactionaries.

An idea can be liberal and sound and at the same time unconventional. But that is not necessarily the case. It can be unconventional and dead wrong, too.

Liberalism is not merely a consistent record of obstructionism and rebellion. It has been illuminating to hear Sen. Morse on one hand opposing filibustering as undemocratic, and on the other breaking the Congressional filibuster record in a campaign against liberal states' rights tideland legislation.

Sen. Morse and some of the other reactionaries and extremists of American politics try to make the public believe that it is difficult to be reactionary and extreme. Actually, it is quite easy to get lost in the ditches and byroads.

The difficult course is that taken by the middle-of-the-road politician who tries to establish a sane balance between right and left, enduring in the effort the screams of criticism from the detourists and egg-heads who make a noise far out of proportion to their numbers.

President Eisenhower has been engaged in this struggle almost from the very start. The examples are numerous. Most recent was the "book burning" episode, in which he balanced the need for freedom of ideas at home against the requirement for sensible operation of our information libraries abroad. When he hit book-burning, he was attacked by the extreme right wing; when he advocated elimination of pro-Communist books from our overseas propaganda libraries, he was lambasted by the ultra-liberals. In the end, his views represent a defensible and reasonable liberal-conservative position.

Sen. Morse, of course, would say that the President was hypocritical in this case. But we find in it a refreshing rejection of the theory that all questions must be considered through one narrow peephole of bias.

The Mess in Chicago

MY FRIEND, Brig. Gen. Robert W. Johnson, says in the June issue of Dun's Review that "this country is on the threshold of a new era in government . . . the old-line political boss is on his way out . . . political amateurs . . . when they take the reins of government . . . can accomplish what the machines and bosses were never able to do."

To support his case—and he makes a very good one—Gen. Johnson cites the overthrow of Philadelphia's entrenched political machine by a group of amateurs who decided the time had come to give the City of Brotherly Love a thorough housecleaning.

"Fundamental to our democracy," says Gen. Johnson, "is the manner in which local citizens give their time and thought to the problems of zoning, education, traffic, parking, housing, community planning and the hundreds of details that determine whether or not the community will be rated as a good place to live or as only a mediocre one."

Reference is also made to Chicago where "the Kelly-Nash machine . . . now under the leadership of Col. Jacob Arvey, chose Martin H. Kennelly, a well known businessman, to seek his first elective office as a 'reform candidate' for mayor."

Johnson finds that while there is some opinion to the contrary, Kennelly "has instituted business measures in the operation of the complicated governmental machinery of the Windy City."

He sees this development, together with Col. Arvey's support of men like Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Paul Douglas, as evidence that not all of the professional politicians have "been blinded by the situations on their own doorsteps . . . that some of the smart bosses are cognizant of the public's desire to support amateurs for public office."

While the general has correctly sensed the changes that are taking place in American politics, including wider participation in the affairs of government by amateurs from every walk of life, the situation in Chicago poses a very special problem which does not exist in smaller cities where government is closer and more responsive to the people.

In Chicago, there are two political machines. On the Democratic side, Col. Arvey controls the disintegrating remnants of the old Kelly-Nash organization. When the late Ed Kelly was mayor, this group was a juggernaut which rolled over the opposition, either factional or Republican, with the greatest of ease.

Today it is less formidable. The Republicans hold a considerable number of city and county offices. In 1952, Eisenhower cut heavily into normal Cook County Democratic majorities.

Though the Democratic leaders in Chicago are pleased to be in such respectable company as Stevenson, Douglas and Kennelly, their record of local leadership has, as the Daily News expressed it a few days ago, "fallen so flat and unprofitable to the people that we doubt whether even Stevenson can revive it when he gets back home."

During the present session of the Illinois state legislature, the Democrats, with a few honorable exceptions, fought badly needed judicial and civic reforms. One of the bills they helped to kill provided for the streamlining of Chicago's municipal government.

In these instances, Kennelly, the "reform" mayor, failed utterly to show any leadership. He even declined to express an opinion either on the judicial bill or on the proposal to reduce the size of the City Council which would have given him a freer hand in his administrative duties.

The only conclusion that can be drawn is that Kennelly, who is personally incorruptible and the acme of respectability, has no stomach for tangle with Arvey and the Democratic politicians.

Chicago streets are dirty, its appalling slums a blight on the city's progress. Civic improvements are slow, and costly. While some of Chicago's finest citizens are serving on planning boards and other commissions, their functions are largely advisory and their recommendations can be and usually are emasculated by a cynical set of aldermen pursuing their own selfish interests.

With due respect for Gen. Johnson's views concerning the contribution that political amateurs can make to good government, what Chicago really needs is a hell-roaring reformer of the Fiorello LaGuardia type.

Other large and boss-ridden American cities, notably Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, New Orleans and Cincinnati, have long since cast off their shackles and now stand as models of responsible municipal government.

But they did it with men who, although not lacking in political ambition, dared to challenge and loved to fight.

Who's Telling Truth About Korea?

WASHINGTON—Who is telling the truth about the "original objective" of the United Nations in the Korean war? Is it Syngman Rhee, or is it the Allied statesmen who ignore the written words of the U. N. resolution of Oct. 7, 1950, and the circumstances under which the U. N. General Assembly adopted it?

Just a few days before the fateful resolution was passed, the United Nations armies under the command of Gen. MacArthur had been authorized by the Allied governments, including Great Britain, to cross the 38th Parallel, and the war was being pursued to a smashing victory over the North Korean Communist armies. Then came the intervention of the Communist Chinese forces, and the U. N. troops were repulsed because the Allies got cold feet and refused to permit Gen. MacArthur to use maximum force to destroy enemy bases by air, an absolute essential in modern warfare.

But the U. N. did not adopt any other resolution changing in any way its Oct. 7, 1950, declaration. Hence that resolution still stands as the official policy of the U. N. until it is formally reversed, which would certainly be more candid and forthright than diplomatic quibbling over what plain English words really mean.

Prime Minister Churchill now says it was never intended to unify Korea by force of arms. Gen. Mark Clark, in his third anniversary message this week to his troops—undoubtedly delivered under orders from the Pentagon military politicians who feel they must adhere to the Truman-Acheson line—says the original objective was just to repel aggressions at the 38th Parallel. In all candor, if this is true, then the U. N. forces were themselves aggressors when they crossed the 38th Parallel and they had no business in North Korea at all. Anybody can form his own judgment by reading the exact text of the U. N. resolution adopted on Oct. 7, 1950:

"The General Assembly, 'Having regard to its resolutions of 14 November 1947 (112 (II)), of 12 December 1948 (185 (III)) and of 21 October 1949 (293 (IV)),

"Having received and considered the report of the United Nations commission on Korea.

"Mindful of the fact that the objectives set forth in the resolutions referred to above have not been fully accomplished and, in particular, that the unification of Korea has not yet been achieved, and that an attempt has been made by an armed attack from North Korea to extinguish by force the government of the Republic of Korea,

VALID GOVERNMENT

"Recalling the General Assembly declaration of 12 December 1948 that there has been established a lawful government (the government of the Republic of Korea) having effective control of jurisdiction over that part of Korea, where the United Nations temporary commission on Korea was able to observe and consult and in which the great majority of the people of Korea reside; that this government is based on elections which were a valid expression of the free will of the electorate of that part of Korea and which were observed by the temporary commission; and that this is the only such government in Korea.

"Having in mind that United Nations armed forces are at present operating in Korea in accordance with the recommendations of the Security Council of 27 June 1950, subsequent to its resolution of 25 June 1950, that members of the United Nations furnish such assistance to the Republic of Korea as may be necessary to repel the armed attack and to restore international peace and security in the area,

"Recalling that the essential objective of the resolutions of the General Assembly referred to above was the establishment of a unified, independent and democratic government of Korea,

"1. Recommends that "(A) All appropriate steps be taken to ensure conditions of stability throughout Korea;

"(B) All constituent acts be taken, including the holding of elections, under the auspices of the United Nations, for the establishment of a unified, independent and democratic government in the sovereign state of Korea;

"(C) All sections and representative bodies of the population of Korea, South and North, be invited to co-operate with the organs of the United Nations in the restoration of peace, in the holding of elections and in the establishment of a unified government;

"(D) United Nations forces should not remain in any part of Korea otherwise than so far as necessary for achieving the objectives specified in subparagraphs (A) and (B) above; * * *

Going back and rereading the subparagraph lettered "(A)," one finds the U. N. resolving that the "United Nations armed forces" are to take "all appropriate steps" to ensure "conditions of stability throughout Korea."

It would be more honorable for the U. N. and its spokesmen to admit frankly its defeat and its surrender to expediency than to claim now it never intended to achieve military control by the U. N. forces over all of Korea.

Patent Given for Built-in Auto Dents

WASHINGTON — Over the years, Americans have invented millions of new products—from hairpins to atomic bombs. Some inventions, such as the A-bomb, make front-page news, but the vast majority go unheralded, fade quietly into obscurity.

Here are some of America's more unique inventions:

Patent No. 1,788,151 was granted to Isador Danzig of Brooklyn, who was worried about dents in a automobile bodies. His idea, which he patented, was to build new autos with thousands of built-in dents, thus making it impossible to distinguish between a new car and one that had bumped through years of Brooklyn traffic.

Patent No. 1,180,753 was issued to William Zeigler of Ambidge, Pa., who invented an artificial fish bait featuring a mirror to decoy fish.

He explained the mirror bait image upon looking therein will see another fish approach it from the opposite side with the intent to seize the bait. This will arouse his warlike spirit and appeal to his greed. As a result he will seize the bait quickly in order to defeat the approaching rival.

"In the case of a female fish," wrote Zeigler, "the attractiveness of a mirror is too well known to need discussion. Thus the bait appeals to the ruling passion of both sexes."

Patent No. 930,304 was issued to Felice Pasquale Mate of Havana for a watering system for the fresh flowers worn by some ladies on their hats. Mr. Mate claimed that his invention "can be readily applied to any hat" through an involved system of plumbing and would keep the stems of the flowers immersed in cool water on top of the lady's head.

SHOVEL SEATS

Patent No. 1,976,121 was issued to Louis Gazvoda who apparently took all those WPA "leaning on the shovel" jokes seriously. He patented an invention consisting of a seat to be attached to a shovel. "It is simple and durable in construction, efficient in use and inexpensive to attach to a shovel," he told the patent office.

Patent No. 1,109,264 was issued to Miss N. A. Teeple of Philadelphia, who said in her application: "Rude and flirtatious youths and men 'mashers' frequently annoy and insult ladies seated in crowded conditions by pressing a knee against the adjacent knee."

Accordingly, Miss Teeple patented a steel prong to be attached to a lady's undergarment, which by use of a trigger can be jabbed into an offending knee.

MCCARTHY

Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio, recently returned from Switzerland, found Swiss officials and Swiss people perplexed and disturbed about Sen. McCarthy's influence in the U. S. A. But he also found one man strong for him—Arthur Bliss Lane, ex-U. S. ambassador to Poland.

Lane, a frequenter of the cocktail circuit, was always telling the Swiss what a great guy McCarthy was.

"You're kidding, aren't you?" asked the incredulous Ohio Congressman.

"No, I campaigned for him," replied Lane.

In that "case," remarked Hays, "you're as bad as he is." Ezra Benson, conscientious but bedeviled Secretary of Agriculture, is working on a new scheme to get rid of farm surpluses. He proposes using government money to set up and finance private corporations which would endeavor to sell the farm products the government has accumulated under the price-support program.

Benson believes that the use of private corporations would secure better men, due to the fact that they could pay higher than government salaries.

Chief trouble is that such corporations would tend to compete with private commodity firms already in the field. Meanwhile, the unenvied Secretary of Agriculture stays awake nights figuring how he can get rid of surpluses.

It was a simple question, but the Senate foreign relations committee had to chase the answer round and round.

Meeting behind closed doors, the Senators came across an odd $250,000,000 in the foreign-aid program and asked Secretary of State Dulles what the money was for. Dulles shook his head. They would have to ask foreign-aid boss Harold Stassen, he said.

When Stassen's turn came to testify, the same question was put to him. He shrugged. This was a question, he suggested, for Secretary of Defense Wilson. However, Wilson, when queried, scratched his head and passed the buck to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Omar Bradley.

When Bradley appeared behind closed doors he suggested the man to talk to would be Stassen.

"This is where we came in," snorted Minnesota's Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

Long Beach Is Without Debt Burden

PERHAPS it is civic modesty, but more likely it's because we have a tendency to take our blessings for granted. At any rate, far too little is said about one of the most remarkable aspects of Long Beach's municipal well-being—the total absence of city debt service charges on the taxpayers.

Long Beach, in effect, a city without general bonded indebtedness. Such general obligation bonds as are still outstanding (because they aren't yet callable) are completely covered by sinking funds, officially titled bond redemption and interest funds.

This is an amazing fact—something that gives Long Beach an enviable position among American cities and certainly something of prime significance to residents of areas pondering annexation to this city.

Yet it is not too well known. Recently a man wrote to this newspaper that he understood Long Beach was loaded down with a burden of debt. He mentioned a fantastic figure which, he said, he had been told represented the municipal indebtedness.

He, and many others, will find the true facts most enlightening and surprising.

The total of outstanding general bonds as of June 30, 1952, will be $2,586,750. To cover this obligation, the city has $85,387.50 in cash and $2,945,000 in government and municipal bonds. That's enough to provide for retirement of the bonds and to provide for payment of all interest to their maturity.

No taxes have been levied by the city since 1942 for retiring bonded debt. On June 2 of that year a Charter amendment was adopted requiring that all money from oil production be earmarked first to pay interest and maturities of general city bonds. In May, 1949, a sufficient sum had accumulated to meet all maturities.

So far, we have been discussing general obligation bonds. An equally sound situation exists with respect to Harbor Dept. obligations.

Bonds outstanding in the Harbor division total $2,542,500. The reserve to cover includes $14,775 in cash and $3,250,000 in government bonds. Here again, the sinking fund covers all maturities and interest to dates of maturity.

On May, 1952, the voters approved a Charter amendment that became section 229X which required that 50 per cent of the oil money must be set aside for interest and redemption of Harbor Department bonds if any are outstanding. A sufficient fund to retire all bonds was set aside by May, 1945.

The Water Department has outstanding bonds of $6,350,000 and the Gas Department has $1,418,000 outstanding. These obligations are funded by revenues from water and gas sales, and no taxation is necessary for this purpose.

That's the bright story of Long Beach's municipal debt, one which can be matched by few cities in the country. Many cities are struggling under heavy burdens of debt retirement and interest, levying substantially on property each year to meet these requirements. Long Beach, despite the fact that it has grown with unusual rapidity, has no debt problem whatsoever.

This was made possible by our oil wealth and by wise provisions for its use. Long Beach citizens should tell that story far and wide.

Thoughts

Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they find it.—Job 28:1.

Nature suffers nothing to remain in her kingdom which cannot help itself.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The Neighbors

By George Clark

L.A.C. SAYS:

attended a cocktail party before leaving on their vacation. They took "one for the road" on top of many others at a gay going-away party. They picked up their two small children on their way to a vacation in the mountains.

Not far from their home the father, driving, misjudged the passing distance in passing another car. In the crash the father and mother were killed. Two cars were wrecked, and a person in the other car was made an invalid for life. The father's body was analyzed and pronounced as containing enough alcohol to have made him unsafe as a driver. His estate was sued and a judgment, far above the amount for which he had liability insurance, was granted. It took all his estate, and the two children were left destitute. Quite a ritual was made at that cocktail party about having "one for the road."

We know two or three men among the hundreds we have met who seem to have good sense about drinking. These men make it a point never to drive after even one drink. Some of them refuse to take their cars to any place where they expect to take a drink. Unless they go with friends, they call taxis. Usually these fellows call taxis because they don't like riding with friends who take "one for the road." Some of these careful men have learned from bitter experience. They have been stopped for some law infraction and then taken in because they smelled strongly of liquor. In other words, the police took them off the street because the police know that anyone with even one drink is a dangerous driver.

The most dangerous of all social drinkers are those who think they are such good instinctive drivers that being drunk does not make them dangerous. One of this type recently told us what cured him. He had been to a big party in Los Angeles. He and his wife drove home after midnight without incident. But the next day, to save his life, he said, he couldn't have told what highway he used, how he got his car in the garage, or how he got to bed. He realized that being in that condition would have convicted him in any accident that may have occurred regardless of who was at fault. From that day on he swore he would not drive after drinking. And above all he says he will never take, himself, or offer a guest, "one for the road."—L.A.C.

TOWN MEETING

Punishment

TO THE EDITOR:

People have every right and many good reasons to oppose capital punishment. But those who tried to use the "Thou Shalt Not Kill" excuse in pleading for the Rosenbergs forgot two facts. First, under our laws capital punishment is allowed for the Rosenberg crime, so who SHOULD decide whether to use it?

Second, no such commotion or protest happened when many anti-Communists were put to death for these and less serious crimes although they, too, MAY have been innocent.

If the Rosenberg sympathizers had been loudly crying for the abolishment of capital punishment during the last few years, instead of waiting to protest this punishment in the Communist Rosenbergs' case, then the sympathizers' logic would not be doubted by so many other people.

One thing should be made clear. Forgiveness for a wrong does not and cannot rightfully free one from being punished for committing it.

Would the Rosenberg sympathizers agree that all people who are convicted of crimes, even those less serious than murder or treason, be forgiven and not punished for their offenses?

Stand With Rhee!

TO THE EDITOR:

Instead of playing the British game, coddling the Reds and rebuking the courageous, desperate Korean president, we should stand with Rhee, beat the Reds to their knees, as Gen. Van Fleet has declared we could right now, and call for the expulsion of the Moscow Reds from the U. N. for supplying arms to the Chinese Reds, whom the U. N. have branded as aggressors.

Britain's striving to hold onto

Hong Kong through coddling the Chinese Reds and holding us back from defeating them is reprehensible in the extreme. Britain is no more entitled to Hong Kong (which they wrung from China in 1842 through their infamous war to force India's opium into China) than is anybody entitled to what he forces his victims to give up.

It is high time that we got A-bomb-tough with the Communists, instead of talking about an armistice with them. By beating them to their knees, we not only would keep our unbroken record of winning every war into which we went, but we could give such heart to the stirring millions of Soviet enslaved as to make their uprisings tidal. There can be no peace with the Reds until they are vanquished, and God has given us the atomic power with which to do this. Our leaders should read in Joshua 6 how God dealt with those who would not mend their ways, and use to the full the power we have to rid the world of the insufferable Red menace.

'Wise' Deals

TO THE EDITOR:

What's the Air Force trying to pull? The Air Force was willing to pay Kaiser-Frazer $1,347,000 for a C-119 Flying Boxcar. The same plane, made by Fairchild, who had developed it, cost only $260,000. Before Kaiser-Frazer was awarded the contract, Fairchild said it had plenty of idle capacity to turn out more of the planes.

But the stubborn Air Force wanted Willow Run. The only way it could get it and thus prevent the Army from using it for tank production was to take Kaiser-Frazer in on the C-119 "deal."

The contract was given to Kaiser-Frazer almost three years ago. In the first two years, Kaiser-Frazer had delivered only 11 C-119s to the Air Force. And all of these had been assembled from parts supplied by Fairchild.

I personally think that the Air Force is wasting more money on such "wise" deals than it spends wisely.

Agent, Housewife Win Terminal Contest

An outside agent for a truck line and a busy housewife have written top prize-winning letters on the need for a central passenger transportation terminal in Long Beach—a project which is attracting mounting interest among local people, civic organizations and community leaders.

Paul W. Diefenbach, 1150 Roswell Ave., won the $50 first prize, and Mrs. Dorothy Root, 5911 Olive Ave., received second place and $25, in a letter-writing contest conducted through the Beach Independent-Press-Telegram. Co-sponsors with the newspaper are the Long Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association, whose president, Tom Gregory, offered the prize money, and the Long Beach Kiwanis Club.

In addition to the two top winners, $5 prizes went to Mildred Greenman, 327 W. Sixth St.; Frank J. Sherlock, 5670 Campo Walk; Herb Zimmerman, 2785 Adriatic Ave.; Gilbert Winslow, 3429 Walnut Ave.; Lawrence M. Roberts, 3362 Delta Ave.; and Florence E. Grafton, 719 W. Seaside.

As results of the contest were compiled Saturday, public officials and civic leaders offered comments indicative of the growing feeling that steps should be taken immediately toward the development of a central terminal for ground transportation facilities operating in and out of Long Beach. At the same time, there is much interest in the establishment of improved transportation between downtown Long Beach and Union Station in Los Angeles, the idea being to bring Long Beach into a stronger position on the nation's transportation map.

It has been suggested that a committee, appointed by Mayor Lyman B. Sutter or operating through the Chamber of Commerce, begin a study of the problem. Prospective changes in transportation facilities between here and Los Angeles, including the possible installation of a monorail system, make such a study advisable at an early date, it is felt.

RECOGNIZED NEED

Mayor Sutter commented that "the construction of a central passenger terminal for Long Beach would be fulfilling a need that we have long recognized. I commend the Press-Telegram, the Long Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association and the Kiwanis Club for bringing this matter to the attention of the public."

Aaron Schultz, president-elect of the Long Beach Convention and Visitors Bureau, pointed to the importance of easy transportation to convention visitors. "A central terminal and other improvements in our passenger transport facilities will help keep Long Beach out front as a convention city," he said.

Said Fred Sykes, manager of Long Beach Retailers, Associated: "Since we shall always be the largest city in the nation without direct passenger-rail connection with the outside world we can make the best of the situation by adopting your suggestion of housing all our bus and interurban feeder lines at one location in downtown Long Beach for the convenience of the traveling public, with a direct connection to Union Station in Los Angeles."

ENDORSES PROJECT

Adm. George McMillin, president of the Travelers Aid Society, has strongly endorsed the project.

Here is the opinion of D. W. Campbell, manager of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce:

"Long Beach is a rapidly growing community whose transportation services are many and varied. Growth of surrounding areas and the need for moving large numbers of persons in and out of our downtown area makes consideration of some type of a central transportation facility, adequate for all modes of transportation, a practical matter.

"Currently, visitors and residents alike must discover by a hit-and-miss process, just where transportation service to their destination can be found. With new freeways in process, with monorail and helicopter transportation an early possibility, and with the continued increase in the numbers of people using local and nearby bus services, the modern centrally located passenger terminal would serve a genuine asset to Long Beach."

CONTEST JUDGES

Judges in the letter-writing contest were Don Drury of Long Beach City College Faculty, Gordon Sandberg, director of the transportation department of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, and C. T. Davis, president of the Kiwanis Club. The judges said many fine letters were submitted and that all who made entries in the contest should be commended for the spirit of their letters and their interest in community progress.

Diefenbach, the first prize winner, is a Poly High and City College graduate who has been active in the transportation field here since 1933. He is now a commercial agent for ACME Fast Freight.

He entered the contest more or less on a dare. He was "sounding off" to Jimmy McAllen, past president of the Hotel Greeters Association chapter here, about the need for a terminal, and McAllen challenged him to write a letter in the contest. (His letter is published in full on this page.)

ELECTRICIAN'S WIFE

Mrs. Root is the wife of a naval station electrician and is interested in writing as well as the city's transportation problems. She returned Friday from a vacation trip to Vermont.

"Let's have a central passenger terminal so big, so approachable and so complete that lines emanating from it would take us to Recreation Park, Hollywood or Timbuktu..." she wrote. "Where else on earth can anyone find more real living than in Long Beach—if he can only get here?"

Excerpts from other prize-winning letters:

Frank J. Sherlock—"Our constantly increasing traffic will soon engulf us unless more people can be induced to use public transportation. . . . A properly located transportation terminal in Long Beach, a major point of origin and destination for thousands of people daily, is an absolute necessity if all methods of mass transportation are to be properly coordinated."

IRON IT OUT

Florence E. Grafton—"We need this problem ironed out now."

Mildred Greenman—"Let Long Beach take head, and consider the weary sojourner and his baggage."

Herb Zimmerman—"I suggest that the terminal be built by the city and leased to the several bus lines. A two-level terminal would cost less and provide better service than a single-level one."

Gilbert Winslow—"The probable location of such a terminal to fit the need for present and future would be within Lincoln Park. An underground terminal would be best."

Lawrence M. Roberts was given a prize by the judges because of a specific plan he suggested for the terminal.

ADVICE FROM WORKSHOP GROUPS

New Housing Chief Tells His Approach

By NEIL MACNEIL

WASHINGTON—(UP). Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole this week spelled out for the first time how he plans to go about revamping the government's many housing programs.

But he gave no hint of what is in store for such controversial programs as public low-rent housing and the National Mortgage Finance Association, the government's mortgage buyer.

Cole, who bitterly opposed the present housing law as a member of Congress, promised to approach his task of overhauling the government's housing programs with an "open—but not 'empty'—mind."

"I have my own ideas and beliefs about many of our housing policies and operations," he said. "But there is much more to learn."

The former Kansas Republican Congressman outlined a three-pronged attack on housing problems and the role of government in a speech to the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards at Bolton Landing, N. Y. He promised to spend at least two months on the investigation—"longer if necessary"—and to have legislative proposals ready by January.

Three groups will be named to help out in the program.

1. Program development groups to set the "objectives" of the government's housing program. These groups will include representatives of all interested parties—business, labor, mortgage bankers, welfare groups, minorities, veterans and government housing experts at community, state and federal levels.

2. When the objectives are reached "specific studies" will be assigned to persons outside government to develop into "workable" programs.

3. An advisory review committee will then appraise these programs and recommend the ones to present to Congress. Committee members will be selected from industry and other interested groups to evaluate the programs according to "the social, the welfare and the economic needs of the nation."

Cole said that, since he will have the "ultimate responsibility" for the programs produced, he will participate personally in the three phases of the programming.

The program development groups will be named soon, he said, and start work "the first week of July."

"The meetings are to be shirt-sleeve sessions, not parliamentary debates," he said, "for their objective is to bring out of discussion definite proposals on which action can be based."

He emphasized that he wants "workable results" to come from the meetings.

He also said that any group or person not selected to sit in the various groups will be free to submit in writing any ideas on how the government's housing programs should be operated. He said he will welcome such outside suggestions and they will receive "careful" review.

Cole said he would set "no limitations" on the range of the study now about to begin, but hopes it will "speed our progress and broaden our effectiveness in the whole range of housing and community needs."

He said he had not committed himself either to continuing the government's housing programs under a single, independent agency as at present, or to putting them under already established departments.

This Letter on Union Transit Facility Won $50 First Prize

Dear Sir:

Your splendid offer, supported by Mr. Thomas Gregory, prompts me to contribute my thoughts concerning the need for a Union Passenger Terminal here in Long Beach.

A good share of Long Beach's economy is based on two important activities, the Navy and the tourists. These people are usually residents of other parts of this nation and a large percentage of them come into this area by commercial carriers such as: bus, train, airline, or ship, but the facilities to welcome them here are far from adequate for a city of this size.

The Los Angeles Union Passenger Terminal has proven to be an important factor in attracting more and more convention groups and tourists as well as facilitating the movement of increased military personnel. Unfortunately for Long Beach and this area, no arrangements were made to take care of passengers coming here unless they change station, which involves baggage and personal difficulties.

Long Beach could well afford a terminal of which any city would be proud. Designed to include facilities for helicopter flights from the upper deck, express runways for suburban and intercity express buses, a possible monorail service, plus up-to-date baggage and passenger handling arrangements patterned after the newest depots recently opened in New York and Chicago, it could be a self-liquidating project. The combined rental fees of the present carriers into Long Beach would be sufficient, but such a project would have to be sponsored by some interested civic group because of the competitive reluctance of the lines to initiate the move themselves.

Let's unravel travel for our valuable assets, the Navy and the tourists.

Yours truly,

PAUL W. DIEFENBACH

Girl, 19, Shoots 2 Boys Marauding Orange Grove

PACOMA—(UP). Shotgun-toting Dolores Ruggerio, 19, was held Saturday by police after a shotgun blast she fired "to scare" three teen-age boys out of her orange grove hit two of them.

Miss Ruggerio told officers she spotted the boys in the grove grabbed a 12-gauge shotgun and ordered them to "git before I lose my temper."

She said she fired a blast "over their heads to scare them" when they didn't move fast enough. The charge hit George Villanueva, 12, and his brother Ted, 13. It missed Mike Rodriguez, 13.

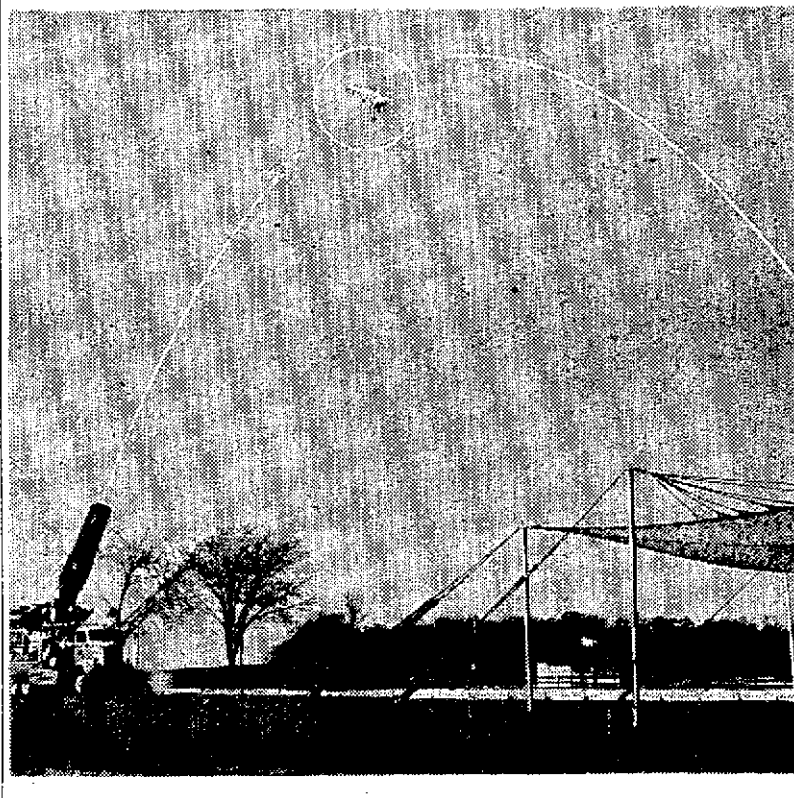

The wounded boys were treated by their doctor and sent home.

Mr. Winger, of Dooley's sporting goods department, is explaining to the girls how you can cast easier and farther with a Whirl-A-Way reel. And incidentally, quoting the low money saving price.

Lavish use of glass adds an unusual note to the N. E. Blood home, enclosing this lanai on two sides, giving view of patio through lanai to living room and maintaining patio privacy.

of colorful lawn furniture in matched pieces. Rather than the more conventional solid-colored duck padding, Mrs. Blood chose for her outdoor furniture pads made of canvas printed with magnolias against a yellow ground. The print of the cushions is contrasted with pipings of solid rust-colored duck.

Vividness is added to the patio by means of vibrant flowering bougainvillea vines that splash their trellises with magneta.

A barbecue area is located directly in back of the patio proper and is roofed with corrugated plastic in a soft blue-green shade.

A portable barbecue brazier and spacious redwood tables provide the necessary accouterments for outdoor dining.

THE LANAI that separates the patio from the house is, in reality, an indoor patio. Here, again, plastic roofing is used which tends to detract from the ordinary "walled-in" feeling that goes with a more conventional room. Glass walls further create the illusion of being outdoors. This long and somewhat narrow area has been tastefully furnished in rattan. The floor covering is composed of squares of Chinese grass matting which, in upkeep, is carefree and is decoratively correct for this type of room.

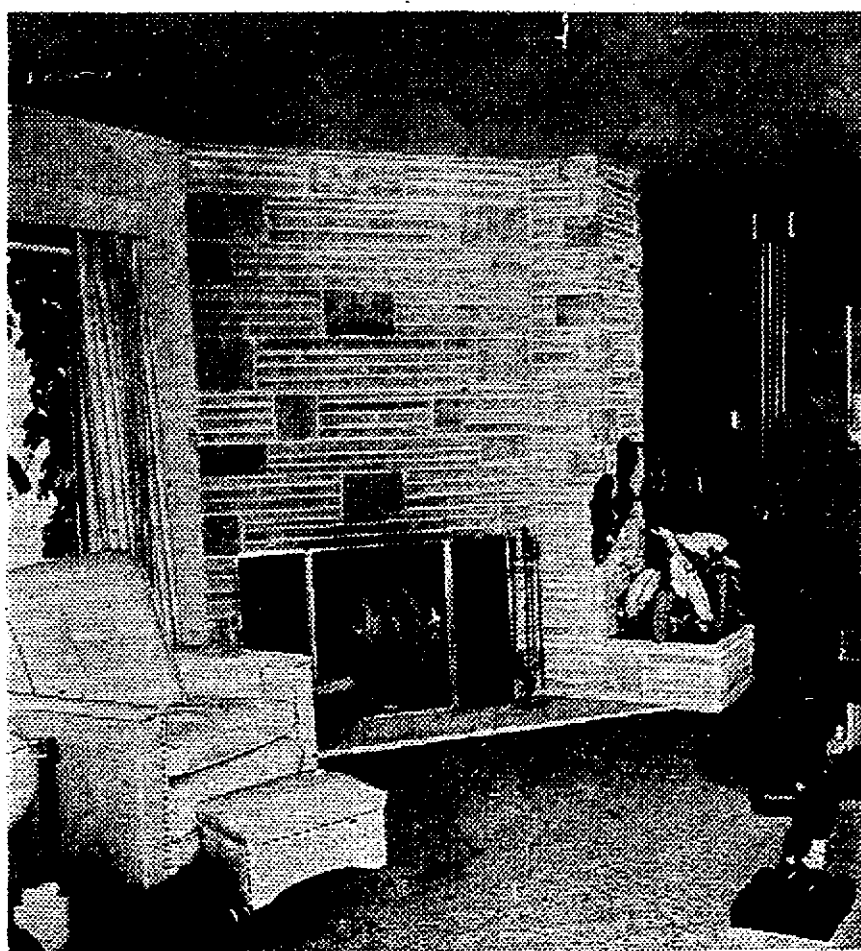

The light, as it comes through the soft green roofing, gives a strange and very peaceful effect that, somehow, is not wholly unlike being under water. Mrs. Blood has further enhanced this effect by draping the plate glass windows with sheer loops of chartreuse and coral fishnet. These colors, plus cocoa, are used in the upholstery of the rattan furniture.

Next to the lanai, and separated by more expansive windows, is the more conventional living-dining area. Outfitted with modern furniture in blond and ebony woods, the room achieves an effect that is at once comfortable yet unusual.

Brilliant Garden Bird

By Bob Gilmore

EVERY YEAR the bird of paradise attains greater popularity. It is rapidly becoming a dual purpose plant: Few ornamentals are as spectacular in the garden and for cut flowers indoors the birds are long lasting and novel in appearance. In addition, Southern California is one of the few areas in the United States where the bird of paradise thrives year after year.

The bird of paradise is not a new discovery. In fact, it enjoys a rather interesting history, dating back about 200 years. The plant was named in honor of Queen Charlotte, Princess of Mecklenburg Strelitz, which accounts for its botanical name of strelitzia reginae. However, the plant's name is its only unattractive feature.

The first specimens were discovered in South Africa and during the 18th Century were shipped to the Kew Gardens in London.

The bird of paradise is a tropical plant. It looks, as its name would indicate, exactly like a bird of paradise. The flower appears as a beaked bird, the pointed section being blue while the adjoining parts are yellow with a touch of red. On close observation you will note that these colors, in addition, blend into orange, green and violet. Growing the bird of paradise is a real floral treat.

IN RECENT years the bird of paradise has become quite popular as a cut flower. This is due largely to the exotic appearance of the flowers plus their amazing keeping qualities. A second bud appears beneath the first flower and after the display has been up for a week or so the first flower may be removed and the second bud pushed out of its skin. Thus, an indoor arrangement of these flowers will often last for weeks at a time.

The bird of paradise, because of its African origin, naturally prefers warm weather. Yet the plants should tolerate cold of down to about 24 degrees. But below that they will not prosper. In extremely cold areas the plants may be utilized as an indoor pot plant.

The flowering season ranches its peak during spring but established specimens seem to flower intermittently throughout the entire year. The plants are relatively pest free; nor are they bothered by many of the usual plant diseases. A relatively rich soil plus plenty of moisture should keep your birds happy.

THE EXACT location that is best for bird of paradise plants is a rather controversial subject. Some experts claim full sun while others recommend partial shade. A compromise might be as follows: Along the coast plant in full sun; in the warmer inland regions a shady spot probably would prove better. Filtered sunlight should be ideal for hot sections.

Seedlings take quite a bit of time to flower. It has been said that plants will not produce flowers for six or seven years after seeding. This is not true, for you can expect flowers from 5-year-old plants.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING TIPS for the week . . . This is the time to transplant seedlings of the warm weather vegetables. Tomatoes are one of the best, and there is plenty of fun in harvesting your own homegrown tomatoes. Obviously, they want a sunny spot. It is advisable to train the plants on a trellis. This keeps the plants clean, facilitates harvesting and makes it more difficult for pests to reach the fruit.

Bush beans will mature rapidly at this time. This type of bean, as compared to the vine-like varieties, produces an extremely early crop. The plants are heavy producers and the crop, if picked before complete maturity, will be sweet and tender.

foil for its luxurious growth of greenery. In front of the large picture window overlooking the lanai and the patio sprawls an oversized sofa upholstered in a raspberry fabric. Before it stand a pair of glass-topped tables supported by Nubian slave boys. The vividness of the sofa is complemented by the soft greens that predominate the room. For example, there is the bottle-green shag carpet and the paler green walls that are important contributors to the color

Dependable Marigolds

By Walter Finch

WE THINK of some flowers as beautiful, some as gay, some as exotic, but for downright earthiness and dependability, where can we find the equal of the marigold family? In the dwarf marigolds alone we find a wealth of garden material—all with bright and cheery blooms like sunbeams lighting your garden paths and beds. For bedding set out plants from flats about four inches apart, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. For borders double row them on offset rows with about the same spacing. You will have solid masses of color to brighten your garden through most of the summer months.

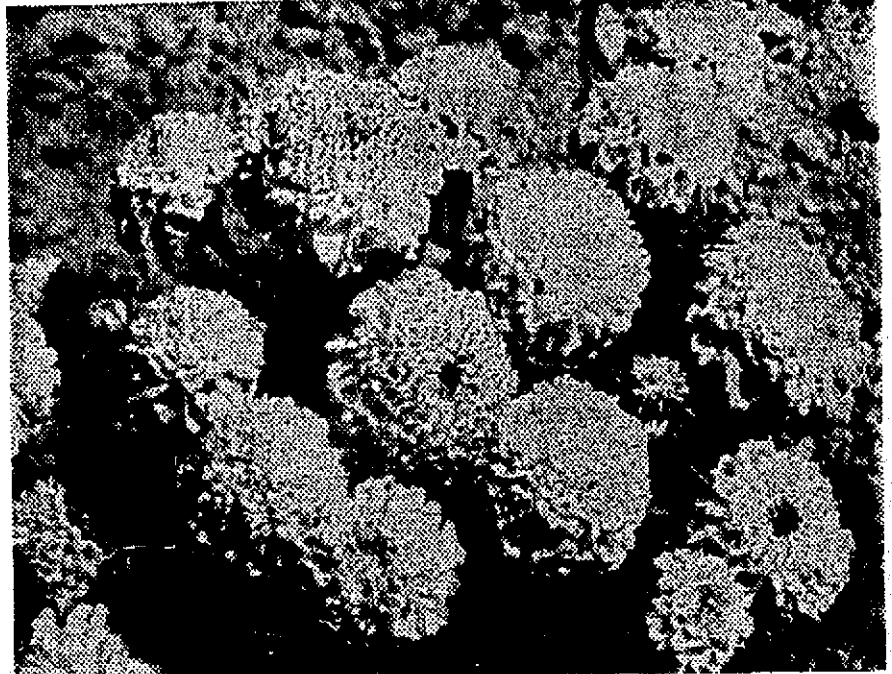

Marigolds are extremely tolerant of soils but do their best scheme. In repetition is the green tweed covering of the contour lounge chair and the upholstery of the dining chairs.

The entry wall, upon which hangs the mirror, is painted a muted purple that is a cross between eggplant and plum for hue. Mrs. Blood's fondness for this purple shade is further exemplified in the kitchen. What a change it is from the more conventional kitchen colors of red, blue and yellow!

Equally unusual in color is the guest bedroom. The ceiling and the bedspread are of an identical soft pink tone. And the unusual deep flame color of three walls compliments the paler pink perfectly. Both were borrowed from colors in the paper that adorns the remaining wall. Against its cool apple-green background, trees and peasant figures are portrayed in the same soft pink and vivid red-pink hues.

The master bedroom is the most conservative of all and is furnished in traditional maple.

Hardy and easy to grow, dwarf marigolds are like cheery sunbeams lending brightness to garden beds, pathways.

in the lighter sandy soils with slight amounts of humus and little or no fertilizer. While they are sun-loving, they can stand up to half-shade. However, they will start to straggle sooner in such shaded locations.

The yellow varieties, such as Yellow Pygmy, Sunny and El Dorado, wear well with the red of Fire Chief and Comanche Petunias or the blues of dwarf and tall Ageratum and the dwarf lobelias. The orange varieties such as Melody and Sun-kist are a natural foil for dwarf Blue Ageratum with a foreground border of White Alyssum. In addition there are many fine two-tone and striped varieties as well as several fine reds. Whichever you choose, you will be well rewarded for your efforts for Marigolds are quite resistant to disease and very easy to grow.

There are over 2000 varieties of EARTHWORMS But We Recommend and Sell Only MASTER HYBRID

CAMERA ANGLE

Let Subjects Be Natural

THE WORDS I used to title today's column represent my pet peeve in picture taking.

I'm sure that everyone of you, no matter how infrequently you may use your camera, has come across people who, when you ask them to pose for you, invariably manage to look coy and say, "Well, all right, if you aren't afraid I'll break your camera." On such occasions, I'll have to admit that I'm tempted to break the camera, quite literally, by throwing it at them!

However, I suppose this reluctance on the part of some of our subjects is actually a challenge to our own picture taking abilities. It is up to us to overcome that disadvantage and not have it show up in the picture.

Some people are actually quite shy—and can't help freezing up when confronted with a camera.

Give the subject something to do. That's a tried and true rule. Find a center for his attention that is sufficiently interesting to take his mind off the camera. In selecting such an activity, let appropriateness be your guide. Make the pose fit both the subject and the situation. That makes for naturalness in your snapshot and you start off with the odds in your favor.

LONG BEACH CAMERA GUILD will have a black and white print competition at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the auditorium of Roosevelt School, 15th St. and Linden Ave. Roosevelt School will be the Guild meeting place during July and August.

Winners of the recent color slide competition were Leila Reichardt, first; Don Hayward,

RECORD ALBUM

Loathsome Lugs!

By Elaine Hauck

SO YOU'RE WORRIED about the popularity of this crazy new "thing" carrying the Horrible Records label! Well you're not alone, if that's any consolation. Tom Murray, the co-creator of those vile little gems is worried, too. He's worried because people are buying the nauseating things.

"The whole business was an experiment," says Murray. "The disc jockeys were the laboratory. We wanted to see if we could make something so revolting that it would show up all this new-sound nonsense."

"But what happened? People like it. It's selling everywhere. Disc jockeys keep calling us to come on their show. We're heroes. I'm afraid, honestly afraid. What will it all lead to?"

Murray and his co-conspirator, Tony Borello, went out of their way to produce the world's worst record. For instance, on the "Fish" side of "There's a New Sound" they made four takes, then scientifically spliced together the worst parts of each. When it sounded too good, they went out and recorded some surface noise on top to make it all the worse.

Now people (?) are clamoring for these musical monstrosities. Murray and Borello, both serious pop musicians, are afraid they'll be typed as the Horrible Boys. They're giving serious thought to changing their names to escape the stagnant stigma of stenchy stanzas.

Murray, though, seems slightly torn. As an advertising executive, he smells the possibility of large money to be made producing more Horrible records. But on the other hand, there is that awful thought that he might forever be identified as Mr. Horrible.

So he thinks he will retire from making Horrible after a last fling of making one Horrible Masterworks edition. That should be delightfully loathsome.

TEN TOP TUNES — Percy Faith's "Song From Moulin Rouge" continues in the top spot on your local hit parade. Others riding high are (2) "I Believe," Frankie Laine; (3) "I'm Walking Behind You," Eddie Fisher; (4) "April in Portugal," Freddie Martin; (5) "Ruby," Richard Hayman; (6) "Limelight," by Frank Chacksfield; (7) "Anna," Sylvano Mangano; (8) "Say You're Mine Again," Perry Como; (9) "Pretend," Nat King Cole and (10) "Vaya Con Dios," Les Paul and Mary Ford.

ELAINE ELECTS: The Hill-toppers on "I'd Rather Die Young" (Dot); Victor Young's "Melba Waltz" (Decca); Nat King Cole's "Angel Eyes" (Capitol) and the Ames Brothers' "You You You" (Victor).

BEAUTIFUL RECORDINGS of the older classics release the tensions of today. Try the "treatment" with these new lps from the Long Beach Public Library. Bach, "Suite No. 3 in C Major," with "Suite No. 6 in D Major" (Janos Starker, cello); Brahms, "Concerto No. 2 in B Flat Major for Piano and Orchestra" (Rubinstein, pianist; Munch, conductor); Dvorak, "Slavonic Dances" (Talich conducting the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra); Mendelssohn, "Symphony No. 3 in A Minor" (Solti conducting), and Schubert, "Trio in E Flat Major" (Badura-Skoda, piano, Fournier, violin, and Janigro, cello).

The summer requests are making "Don Juan in Hell" an all time favorite, with more scattered interest in other records for the study of shorthand, music and languages.

Plane Talk

By DON BRACKENBURY

SPACE WAS at a premium last Sunday, so a few items got crowded out. We'd like to repeat a couple of them.

ESPECIALLY DO WE want to note that Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, former president of the Southern California Aviation Breakfast Club and one of the nation's best known women fliers, will speak at the club's meeting today at 10:30 a. m. in Hoefly's Restaurant, 4200 Lakewood Blvd.

ALSO WANTED to mention that T. and Mrs. Frank Wall of San Pedro have bought a new Navion. They took their first flight last week to San Francisco and we understand they are well satisfied.

THEMSELVES well known as equestrians, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Toler left this week in their Navion for Calgary, Canada, to view the annual roundup there. Dr. Toler was a member of the Long Beach Mounted Police.

TALK ABOUT LUCK! Jack Miller, veteran traffic controller in the Long Beach tower, has just had two friends visiting him: Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Carlson of Ludington, Mich. Mr. Carlson is a grocer and he and his wife were attending a retail grocers convention in Grand Rapids, Mich., when he won an all-expense-paid round-trip by air to any place in the U. S. The Carlsons, being smart people, came to Southern California.

POWDER PUFF DERBY time—Oh, all right gals: All-Woman Transcontinental Air Race—is rapidly approaching. The women fliers, 50 strong we hear, will take off Friday from Lawrence, Mass. The faster ships may be in Saturday afternoon if weather stands up. Quite a few arrivals are expected on Sunday, so be at Long Beach Municipal Airport for the finish.

THE AERO CLUB of Southern California will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Aviation Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel to present an award from Federation Aeronautique Internationale to Capt. James S. Nash, USAF, for his world's record flight in a North American F-86 Sabre.

SPEAKING OF THE SABRE, there is an excellent article on the F-86, North American Aviation and particularly Dutch Kindelberger, chairman of the board, in the June 29 issue of TIME magazine.

AND FROM LIFE, we received advance galley proofs of a new novel by James Michener, author of the prize-winning "Tales of the South Pacific." It's entitled "The Bridges at Toko-Ri" and is an excellent story of jet fighter operations of a carrier task force in Korean waters. It will appear in the issue of July 6. It's fiction, and fascinating.

LEO AND MRS. YODER flew up to Boise, Idaho, last week to deliver a Navion and came back via Western Air Lines. Leo also reports he sold one of those Hawaiian Air Lines DC-3s, which we mentioned in an earlier column, to Standard Oil Co. in Dallas, and is to deliver one to Allegheny Air Lines, Washington, D. C., July 5. Business is good, no?

SPEAKING OF SALES, Scott Aero Service, Inc., this week loaded a Cessna 140 and 170 aboard the Chilean tanker Malbo here for delivery to various flying clubs of Chile. Two other 140s were shipped aboard the tanker Rancagua a week ago. The planes are part of 31 bought in the U. S. on a recent trip by Senor Eduardo Sanfuro Gomez, minister of the court of appeals (if we have correctly translated his title) in La Serena, Chile.

Senor Sanfuro is official buyer for Chilean flying clubs and, according to Randall M. Scott, will be back in the States this fall to purchase another 50 aircraft.

HANK DOWNING, building contractor down at San Juan Capistrano, was impatiently awaiting relicensing of his Twin Cessna this week at Scott Aero Service so that he could get in a little local flying in preparation for an eastern jaunt shortly. The ship is now relicensed, we might add.

IT'S A GOOD THING that the word "pilot" can be used to describe both airplane and boat drivers. Because Bill Buxton, whose regular job is piloting Doug Graham's Cessna 195, of late has been piloting the new Chris-Craft purchased by the oil man.

MEMBERS OF FLYERS POST, American Legion, are going out to Veterans Administration Hospital Monday night to help push beds for patients to see entertainment in the Recreation Hall. They'll welcome help. Meet at the Seventh St. gate at 6:30 p. m.

NORM SCOTT and his oldest boy ducked away from the busy city life last week end and flew to Lake Havasu in Norm's Stinson for a little fishing. Norm said they had a swell time, but didn't say how many they caught.

MARCH OF TIME television program over KTTV Monday at 7:30 p. m. will feature a program, "The Air Age," celebrating the 50th anniversary of powered flight. It will trace the history of flight from the Wright Brothers' Flyer to modern jets.

UNDERSTAND THAT, as an extra event at last Sunday's big picnic for Long Beach employees of Douglas Aircraft Co., Dean Donald did acrobatics in his Piper Clipper. Al Moody, another member of the Douglas Flying Club, went along and took aerial photos of the fete.

PRICE OF FREEDOM HIGH

L.B. Man Outwitted Nazis, Soviets

By BOB SWANSON

Herman Scheinfeld has found the freedom he sought so long—but he paid a heavy price. His payments were in lost years, physical suffering and heartbreak, but through it all he managed to outwit the Nazis who swarmed into his native Poland and the Russians who followed.

The liberty-loving, quiet-spoken Scheinfeld spent a fantastic one and one-half years hiding in a Polish forest, while German soldiers hunted him.

Back home, he found the Russian form of "democracy" equally revolting. They had killed his father, mother and sister. So he escaped with ease across the border into Germany, landed in a camp for displaced persons and came to America.

Now 43, Scheinfeld is trying to make up for the lost years. He has a job at an Artesia furniture factory and is attending classes three nights a week at Long Beach City College. He lives at 1812 Orange Ave.

LIKES IT HERE

"It's hard," he admitted, "but I like being here in America."

He hopes to get his state pharmacy license in a year or two then resume his career where it left off in 1943 when the German army overran his home in Boryslaw, Poland.

There is little outward trace of the adventurer in Scheinfeld's makeup or little indication of the physical suffering he endured in the thick, Polish forest.

"After living six months alone, I made contact with 15 others in the forest," Scheinfeld recalled. "But the soldiers came and killed 11 of them, leaving under a shelter. The rest of us were only 50 yards away. We ran and escaped. It was easy to lose the soldiers. The forest was thick with undergrowth."

Before that, Scheinfeld walked into a small village at the edge of the forest at night and obtained food from a doctor friend.

KILLED FRIEND

"The Nazis killed my friend and his family. They shot at me once, but I swam a river and got away," said Scheinfeld.

It was a daily battle for survival. When the Germans burned a Polish village, Scheinfeld and his hunted colleagues prowled the abandoned homes for potatoes, beans, onions and other food.

"I remember we found a cow that had been burned. It was the first meat I had eaten in nearly a year," he said.

The Russians came in August, 1944, he recalled. That's when he came out of the wilderness, shoeless, his clothes tattered but sporting a decorative handlebar mustache.

"The outdoors isn't so bad," he reminisced. "It is healthy, even if miserable."

"After nearly 17 months, it seemed like home to me. Strangely, I was almost afraid to leave."

It was about 40 miles to Boryslaw. On the way, he learned the fate of his family at the hands of the Russians. They had taken over the 20-room family home as well.

SPIRIT WILTED

The rugged Scheinfeld settled uneasily into the pattern of civilization as he found it. His freedom-loving spirit wilted under

HIS FIGHT for freedom is told by Herman Scheinfeld, 43, left, to Don Drury of Long Beach City College, where the ex-Polish adventurer is enrolled at night classes. the Russians. For a year he worked at his old job as a pharmacist. Scheinfeld doesn't know for sure how much more university work will be required.

Finally, he had enough. Besides, there was the danger that the trigger-happy Reds would accuse him of sabotage.

The war was over and, for a man of Scheinfeld's experiences, the problem of escaping to Germany was a minor one.

"The roads were filled with refugees," he said. "I just walked over the border. Naturally, I avoided the guards."

Another year passed while he lived in the displaced persons camp. Then he was sent to America by the American Joint Distribution Committee. He landed in New Orleans, three days later came to Southern California.

"I had no job, but people helped me find one. It was not too hard."

Scheinfeld works six days a week, studying and attending classes at City College at night. Now he is studying American history and introduction to government.

He still has a rocky road to travel before he gets his license as

Fall From Avocado Tree Kills Man, 75

Alex Chisholm, 75, of 483 1/2 Dawson Ave., was injured fatally Saturday afternoon in a fall from an avocado tree at 504 St. Louis Ave.

The fall was seen by Ruby Magorien, 515 Dawson Ave., who summoned an ambulance. Chisholm was pronounced dead at Community Hospital. Attendants said he had suffered head injuries.

How to Grow Thousands of Flowers Without Dirtying Your Hands

Plant Scientists Reveal How To Make Flowers, Fruit Trees, Shrubs, Bloom In Virtually Any Soil—Even If You've Never Planted A Seed Before In Your Life!

By ADRIAN ARTHUR GROMIS

—Within the next minute's reading time you will see on this page a "radioactive" photograph taken at a leading American Agricultural Experimental Station.

What's this got to do with flowers? This photograph will show that YOU, who may know next to nothing about gardening, can turn your garden into the showplace of the community with thousands of colorful, flaming blossoms—not five years from now—not next year—but this season—even if right now you don't have a seed in the ground, and even if your soil is undernourished. . . . YOU can grow basketfuls of jumbo-size, garden-fresh vegetables. . . . pick delicious vegetables. . . . tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers from a vegetable patch right in your own backyard. And that YOU can amaze the "experts" in your neighborhood with a rich, thick carpet of lawn—and at a cost so low, it's almost too ridiculous to mention! And you won't even have to dirty your hands digging messy, evil-smelling fertilizers into the soil.

What Scientists Discovered

Do you know that when mice in a laboratory are fed on a diet of mineral-poor flour, they are so weakened that they often cannot walk in a week, cannot see after two weeks, often die in three weeks. But if they are fed life-giving whole wheat flour for as little as seven days, they frisk around like tub tigers.

And the same thing is true of every plant in the world! Starve it even one of the vital, life-giving elements and minerals it needs for rich, green foliage, heavy branching and vigorous, healthy roots and you won't get any flowers no matter how much sun and water you give it—no matter how many hours you slave over it.

This is what makes most average people throw up their hands in disgust and say, "Well, gardening's not for me, I give up!" They just don't realize that almost all garden soils are to some degree deficient in at least one of the 13 life-giving soil elements a plant needs to bloom and flourish. But now read about the scientific 60-minute test that can make all kinds of flowers bloom for you by the thousands in virtually any soil!

Here's Proof!

Of Test No. 1

For many years, scientists at one of America's leading Plant Experiment Stations have been testing new types of concentrated plant foods—plant foods that contain all of the 13 vital soil elements necessary for plant life—plant foods that could be dissolved in ordinary sink water, and when sprinkled on lawns or plants could go to work in minutes.

Finally in the spring of 1951 these scientists added traces of radioactive isotopes to these new types of liquid plant foods to see how fast they could reach every root, every leaf, every stem, every tissue. The solution was applied to roots of ordinary plants. Exactly 60 minutes later leaves were cut off and pressed against radio-sensitive film. Now look at the picture below, left!

Look at the light, bright areas on the leaf and stem! It shows that this liquid type of plant food is so highly effective, so fast acting that it is absorbed by roots and reaches vital growing tips of leaves not in weeks, not in months, but in exactly 60 minutes.

Who Ever Heard Of Growing Beautiful Flowers Without Dirtying Your Hands?

Meantime, plant scientists at a western research laboratory made a second astonishing discovery! They found that when dissolved in water, these liquid plant foods of the RX-15 type become readily available to plants. You don't even have to work heavy fertilizers into the soil. Late in the summer of 1952 they discovered that when certain trace elements were added to that plant food in a special way (NUTREGENE-PROCESS) you could merely sprinkle it on leaves of mineral-starved plants and see bloom you never dreamed possible in undernourished soil. Because not only do the leaves instantly absorb the vital iron, copper, manganese, zinc, nitrogen and other minerals in the plant food—but even more important automatically shoots life-giving nutrition to the vital mineral-starved parts of the plant where it is most needed.

Why Grow A Few Measly Flowers When You Can Grow Thousands Just As Easily?

And now do you realize what this type of plant food means to you if you are a person who loves flowers? It means that today you can send your child out with his sprinkling can to spray a few leaves—and in 10 splash-happy minutes he can revitalize your whole undernourished lawn and garden. . . . give you results you never dreamed possible in 7 days!

It means that whether you're an expert gardener or the greenest beginner—now YOU can make plants bloom even in the most mineral-starved soil with just a sprinkle or two of this ridiculously inexpensive plant food—RX-15!

This type of plant food means that you can grow masses of beautiful roses, dahlias, phlox, gladioli and chrysanthemums in your garden this season with a sprinkling of this plant food once or twice a month. It means that no matter how starved your soil may be, now, with a few sprinklings of RX-15, you can pick baskets full of all kinds of vegetables. . . . juicy tomatoes, massive heads of lettuce, cabbages, luscious corn, peas and strawberries from a small patch right in your own backyard!

A Beautiful Garden—Yours For Pennies!

It means that RX-15 can help you grow a thick, golf-green lawn the very first time you try—and it will only cost you pennies to apply it! It means you can grow hundreds of flowers in your window boxes—grow thousands of flowers this season from plants you already have in your garden. From seeds you can still place in the ground!

And because RX-15 instantly feeds plants all 13 life-giving soil minerals they may need for healthy growth, even in undernourished soil, it means that merely sprinkling with RX-15 can make mineral-starved lawns, fruit trees, shrubs, houseplants start to spring back to new life.

21 DAYS MADE THIS DIFFERENCE

Actual photos and letter sent in by Mrs. Mary Hess of Brooklyn, N. Y., demonstrates amazing growing power of RX-15.

"Due to illness I had almost given up hopes of having a nice flower garden. The beds in front of the newly built porch were pitifully bare. All I had were a few struggling Zinnia and Snap Dragon plants. My 'Heavenly Blue' Morning Glories growing next to the pillars were barely 4 inches high. Then I heard about RX-15. I sprinkled it on my garden once when it arrived and again eleven days later. To the astonishment of myself and all my neighbors, in a few days everything started to grow just beautifully. Just 3 weeks later when my son and his bride came up to see me, they nearly keeled over at the marvelous change. Surrounding the entire house were thick masses of flowers growing over knee high. The Morning Glories reached the porch roof and were loaded with an abundance of the most gorgeous blue blossoms. It really seemed like a miracle. Your wonderful product surely fulfills all the given promises. P. S. I am sending you 'Before' and 'After' photos of my house. Mary Hess, 5917 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn 27, N. Y.

Letters From Home Gardeners Rave About Remarkable Results.

"Largest Zinnias Ever"

Mrs. Madeline Berner, Pittsburgh, Pa.: "Sprinkled RX-15 on some late flower seeds I decided to plant at the end of the season. To the utter amazement of myself and my neighbors, I have grown the largest Zinnias you have ever seen. RX-15 is truly the marvel of all plant foods."

"Tomato Plants 8 Feet Tall"

Mr. Gustaf A. Lundberg, Chicago, Ill.: "I had so many flowers and vegetables RX-15 didn't know what to do with them all. My tomato plants were over 8 feet tall. Had 42 tomatoes on one plant alone—over 400 tomatoes in all. RX-15 is wonderful!"

"Roses Bloom In October"

Mrs. Charles E. Price, Philadelphia, Pa.: "Used RX-15 on my rose bushes early last spring. It is now October and my roses are still blooming freely. They are much larger and deeper in color than any roses I have ever seen. All my neighbors stop to admire my beautiful garden."

"Kept 3 Friends' Houses Full Of Flowers"

Mrs. Mark Prevost, Detroit, Michigan: "Thanks to RX-15 we had the most beautiful Mums in the whole neighborhood. I kept 3 friends' houses, besides my own, full of flowers all summer long."

"Does All You Say And More"

Herb's Greenhouse, Dwight, Ill.: "Have used all kinds of plant foods and fertilizers and there is nothing that can compare to RX-15. It does all you say and more."

AND NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME RX-15 CONTAINS "NUTREGENE" THE "GROWTH" INGREDIENT THAT INCREASES GROWING POWER. SO IF RX-15 WORKED SUCH WONDERS LAST YEAR, IMAGINE WHAT IT CAN DO IN YOUR GARDEN THIS YEAR!

Photographic Proof Of Test No. 2

ONE PINCH OF RX-15 MAKES THIS DIFFERENCE. Look at these two young geranium plants. Both were potted in the same soil, grew side by side under identical conditions. Plant A received normal supply of water once a week. Plant B, at right, received same supply of water with tiny trace of RX-15 added. Photos above show the difference only 24 days later. Now available to gardeners, RX-15 works wonders on all your plants, flowers, grass and shrubs in just a few days.

not next year—but next week! You Owe It To Yourself! Try RX-15 Right Away! Wouldn't you like to test the amazing growing power of RX-15 in your own garden without risking a penny? Then visit May Co.'s big garden shop Monday, phone your order or simply mail this coupon at right. When your big, season-long supply of RX-15 arrives use it on your delicate, flowering houseplants—try it on hard-to-grow roses, fruit trees, shrubs, lawns, flowers—anything you've never had much luck with. If in just 7 days these hard-to-grow plants don't take on new life—if the foliage isn't greener, more luxuriant—if this season you don't see more buds, sprouts, flowers shooting out on these RX-15 treated plants than you've ever seen before—return the unused portion for your full purchase price refunded. If you are not 100% convinced RX-15 will do all we say, simply return the unused portion anytime within 90 days, for your money back.

It means that you can have the garden of your dream this season. . . . but nature does the work—not you! You'll be delighted at the way plants, seedlings, shrubs, bulbs, and fruit trees start shooting out new buds, stems, branches. . . . the way they produce thicker, greener, bigger leaves and flowers, even in undernourished soil, when you sprinkle them with a spoonful of RX-15 dissolved in a gallon of water—and it goes to work instantly!

LOOK WHO'S THE FAMILY GARDENER NOW!

MARY, MARY, QUITE CONTRARY, HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW? Unlike the Mary of nursery rhyme fame, this young miss does know what makes her garden grow. Read the article below. It tells how a wonderful new plant food discovery and a child's sprinkling can make flowers virtually bloom by themselves!

If Your Soil Is Starved Of Trace Elements Here's How New "Growth" Ingredient Goes To Work In Seconds!

ONE SPRINKLE GIVES TREES NEW LIFE. Both these orange trees are growing side by side in the exact same orchard. Yet three weeks before this photo was taken both trees were in the same sickly "yellow-leaved" condition. Both were given the exact same amount of sun and water. But tree on right was sprinkled with just 2 ounces of Nutregene* type of trace elements found in RX-15. . . . now available to gardeners for first time!

These 10-Foot Tomato Plants Grow In Sand! Note size of man in comparison. New science of gardening without soil called Hydroponics grow 1224 pounds of tomatoes in 4 basins of pure sand. These plants are fed with nothing but a few teaspoons of new fast-acting liquid plant foods.

These Roses Grow In Bottles Of Water! Thrive and bloom on nothing else but an occasional pinch of fast-acting plant foods of RX-15 type. This proves that RX-15 contains the life-giving minerals vital to healthy plant growth.

Have you ever wondered how some gardeners grow so many flowers with so little work even in undernourished soil? And why you can never grow many flowers no matter how carefully you plant your seeds, no matter how many expensive plant foods you feed your flowers, no matter how many hours you slave in your garden?

What's the answer? Believe it or not, you can feed your plants tons of fertilizers—you can enrich your soil with the best soil conditioners—you can give your garden all the sun and water it needs. . . . and still YOU MAY BE STARVING YOUR PLANTS TO DEATH! How is it possible? Up to now, if your soil was deficient in either iron, copper, zinc or manganese it was extremely difficult to feed your plants all the elements vital to healthy growth. Did you ever try to eat a green, half-ripe apple? It has all the same vitamins and minerals of a delicious red, ripe apple—but you can't digest it! And for thousands of years science has known that there was absolutely NO complete fertilizer—no matter how rich in minerals—that could be properly absorbed by plants. There was absolutely no complete plant food or fertilizer that could guarantee to feed plants all the vital, life-giving minerals every plant needs for masses of bloom.

So now is it any wonder why a tiny spoonful of RX-15 containing vital soil minerals and life-giving elements needed by plants can make your roses, shrubs, fruit trees, lawns, bulbs, houseplants, produce bigger leaves, stems, branches—triples growing power of roots, leaves, flowers in 7 days or less!

Recognize Red China?

THAT THE UNITED STATES should recognize Red China on the basis of our historic attitude of recognition of de facto governments, and that we should make a settlement with the Communist Chinese to include Vietnam and Formosa—with the latter maintaining an independent national status—is

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Independent-Press-Telegram Book Editor

the opinion of Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court.

The Justice forms these conclusions in "North From Malaya" (Doubleday, $3.95), his third book on which he reports on his jaunts into other lands. Previously he had traveled into and written about Iran and India; this time he tells what he saw and heard, and the basis of his conclusions, in a trip into Malaya, Burma, the Philippines, Vietnam, Formosa and Korea.

Justice Douglas believes that Red China is here to stay and that recognition would enable America to work within China at the diplomatic level, with some chance of prying her loose from Russia, of making her less and less a tool of Moscow, of orienting her more and more to the West. Anyhow, he argues, if we were to string along with legitimate Asian aspirations, the Soviet would have little chance of utilizing or subverting these aspirations by virtue of our opposition to them.

President Truman's decision, and the action of the Security Council in defending Korea against invasion were sound politics, in the Justice's opinion, but he also believes the conflict with Red China in Korea might have been avoided, that Red China at one time was anxious for a political settlement with the United States.

After all, Justice Douglas concludes, the real enemy is Russia, who uses communism to build the most ambitious theater, the most oppressive one, the world has known.

"If there must be a fighting war against communism," he declares, "Russia is the only nation to fight."

Bantam Books (25 cents): "The Far Cry," by Fredric Brown; "The Fabulous Clip-joint," by Fredric Brown; "Rock Bottom," by Earl Conrad; "Air Bridge," by Hammond Innes; "Rim of the Caprock," by Noel M. Loomis.

Stephen Longstreet is an illustrator as well as an author with a sensitive pen. This drawing, "Market," is from his latest book "The World Revisited" (Henry Holt, $3.75), in which he returns to Europe and a new world and a new wisdom. Substance of visit is resignation, a wry acceptance that things are not what they used to be.

This Is Murder!

"The Cat Walk" (Doubleday, $2.50) is the newest whodunit by Long Beach mystery writer D. B. Olsen, in private life Dolores Hitchens. The locale is Los Angeles, one of the ancient homes of the West Adams district; the cat walk is a strange little bridge built between former stables, now converted to a garage apartment, and the house. It is the 12th book to feature the exploits of the slight spinster detective, Miss Rachel

Murdock, who, after a couple of murders, spins a tight web of suspicion about two suspects, lets one fall with a thud as the plot skein entangles in the last pages. Here is confusion and humor with homicide, a better-than-average yarn.

In another dilly, Mike Shayne, Brett Halliday's fictional private dick with red hair and Irish characteristics, comes back to entertain in his usual action-packed fashion. In this one, "One Night With Nora" (Dodd, Mead, $2.50), he awakens in the dead of night to find a beautiful girl (all such girls are beautiful, it seems) undressing in his moonlit apartment. By the time he discovers what it's all about, two murders are committed and Mike has all but lost the confidence of the Miami police.

Art Circles

By Vera Williams
Independent-Press-Telegram Art Editor.

OPENING a four-session Summer Art Forum, Arthur Adair, chairman of the art department of Palos Verdes College, will speak on "The Contemporary Artist Reflects His Time" at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the 49'er Theater on Long Beach State College campus, 6201 E. Anaheim St.

Ward Youry, assistant professor in art at State College will speak on "Free Forms in Ceramics" July 8; Lennox Tierney, chairman of the division of art and music, John Muir College, on "Architectural Forms in China, Japan, Siam and India" July 15; and Dr. Jane Betsey Welling, guest professor in art at State College, on "Art and Inter-Group Relations," July 22.

All sessions will be free and open to all students on the campus and the public.

AT 1 P. M. TODAY, San Pedro Art Association's members will present their "Best Paintings" exhibition. Entries in oil, watercolor and pastel will represent each artist's conception of his most outstanding work.

The unique exhibition will be in San Pedro's new art gallery, 820 S. Beacon St., and Association President Jay Meuser says the show will be unjuried and noncompetitive in that there will be no awards of any kind.

The exhibition will continue through July 12. Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p. m. daily, closed Tuesdays.

FRAN SOLDINI has three pictures in outstanding shows. Her "The City," symbolic painting of buildings and people, done in warm colors, in the California Water Color Society show last year, is in the 59th annual exhibition of Western Art, which closes Aug. 2 in the Denver Art Museum. Out of 1463 entries, 256 pieces were chosen.

"Summer Sails," many sails in the bay, is in a California Water Color Society show which leaves the University of Michigan Museum and Gallery on a Michigan circuit.

GEORGE W. COBLENTZ, professional artist, will demonstrate the painting of Mount Whitney at the dinner meeting of East Los Angeles Art Club, 4558 1/2 Whittier Blvd., Wednesday evening. He was commissioned by the Firestone Company to paint this mountain for its Christmas card last season.

He is past president of the Southwest Art Association, a member of the Painters and Sculptors Club, Laguna Beach Art Association and the co-ordinating Committee for Traditional Art of Los Angeles. In World War I he served as field artist with the United States Army in Europe. His work has been exhibited at the Huntington Library, in one-man shows at the Broadway-Crenshaw, at the Laguna Beach Gallery and at Tacoma under auspices of the Washington State Historical Society. His drawings and cartoons have been published in Los Angeles metropolitan papers.

All meetings of the East Los Angeles Art Club, which is county-wide in membership, are open to the public and visitors are invited to attend this demonstration.

"I saw a woman taking Pete's picture one day, and got an idea it might make a painting," says Messick, whose work has hung in the Smithsonian Institution, Metropolitan Museum of Art and Carnegie Institute.

Walk-up Death Gives Cops Delicate Problem

NEW YORK — (AP) It took a block and tackle, and seven policemen Saturday to remove the 450-pound body of a woman who died in a third floor East Side apartment.

Mrs. Florence Shine, 43, apparently suffered a heart attack after climbing the stairs to her mother's apartment.

Conventional attempts to move her body on a stretcher failed.

Campaign Action Due to Pick Up

By THE LOOKOUT

Both Democratic and Republican 18th District organizations Saturday disclosed plans for stepped-up political activity in the last half of this year, in anticipation of bitter ballot wars in 1954.

It appears now that both groups will have headquarters operating within a few weeks. The Democrats are having offices in the Transportation Bldg., East Ocean Blvd., refurbished preparatory to opening on July 15. Republicans expect to have headquarters going in July or August.

The Democrats got $1079 from the recent dinner at which Sen. Robert S. Kerr spoke, and are spending it on the headquarters project.

Republican Central Committee-men met Friday evening at the law office of O. M. Murphy and made tentative plans for a fund-raising dinner in September.

Officers of both groups plan to spend the next few months recruiting and grooming work forces for next year's competitive events.

TO ISLANDS

Robert Rife, field agent for Rep. Craig Hosmer, left this week end for the Hawaiian Islands. He and Mrs. Rife are going there for a short vacation, and the field office in the Federal Bldg. will be closed during their absence.

Rife is an active candidate for appointment to the Federal Maritime Commission. Since announcement he is under consideration, numerous letters of recommendation have been forwarded to Washington. Last week Rep. Hosmer sent to the White House a statement signed by western Congressmen urging appointment of a west coast man to the commission.

GOVERNORSHIP

Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight indicated last week that he will run for Governor next year and Sen. Thomas Kuchel disavowed any interest in the Governorship. But the man whose intentions are the subject of the greatest curiosity — Gov. Earl Warren — wasn't talking.

Rumors as to Warren's future still run rampant, but even close friends declare they haven't the slightest idea whether he plans to seek re-election. The Warren family is right out in the national spotlight again as a result of a magazine article. The June American features the Warrens as "Family of the Month" in an article titled: "They Live in the Limelight."

Sen. Kuchel denied any aspirations to run for Governor in a talk prepared for a TV broadcast tonight (KBCA-TV 9:30). He indicated he will seek re-election to the Senate in 1954.

Lt. Gov. Knight really gave away no secrets when he wrote to a friend that he was hoping for a "promotion" next year. For months it has been evident the popular lieutenant governor intends to seek the gubernatorial chair in 1954.

Western Women Fliers Go East for Start of Race

Barring one or two last minute withdrawals, 55 light airplanes will take off from Lawrence, Mass., next Friday morning in the 7th annual All Woman Transcontinental Air Race to Long Beach Municipal Airport.

The California contingent, including three planes from the Long Beach area, left here last Tuesday to fly to the starting point.

One of the three planes is a Cessna 120, flown by Shirley Block, 23, of 14019 Dumont Ave., Norwalk, winner of the 1952 race. Her co-pilot is Iris Critchell, 205 Ave. 1, Redondo Beach.

The other two local entrants are Aileen Pickering, 730 Ellery Dr., San Pedro, pilot, and Fern Stiefeler of West Los Angeles, co-pilot, in a Cessna 140; and Mae Sharp, 1412 N. Spring St., Compton, piloting a Luscombe.

The race, familiarly known as the "Powder Puff Derby" is restricted to aircraft with a maximum 300 horsepower. The women pilots fly only during daylight hours and only in weather conditions where visual flight is possible.

Takeoff time is scheduled for Friday at 9 a. m. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, retiring Air Force chief of staff, is honorary starter. Official starter is Lt. Col. Joseph W. Mahoney, former manager of the Condon Airport at Lawrence and now commanding officer of the 101st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron of the Massachusetts Air National Guard.

The race is a handicap event, with each plane competing against its handicapped speed. The plane bettering its handicap by the greatest margin is the winner.

Cash prizes totaling $2200 and trophies will be presented to winners at a banquet Wednesday night, July 8, in the Lafayette Hotel. Prizes are $800, first; $500, second; $400, third; $200, fourth; and $100, fifth. Four aircraft firms, including Baker Aircraft Sales and Air-Oasis Co., both of Long Beach, each are awarding $50 cash awards to finishing planes.

Some of the faster aircraft in the race are expected to land at Long Beach Municipal Airport Saturday. All planes must land by 5 p. m. Monday to be eligible.

Current Open Hours for L.B. Banks

While some Long Beach banks are considering possible change in banking hours, the following are current hours banks are open.

California Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday. Closed Saturday.

Bank of America—American Ave. branch: 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Friday. All other branches: 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily.

Farmers & Merchants Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday. Closed Saturday.

National City Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily; 9:30 a. m. to noon, Saturday.

Pacific National Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily. (Announcement will be made later of a 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday schedule.)

People's Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily; 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Saturday.

Security First National—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Thursday; 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday.

Western Bank—10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily. Present schedule calls for 9:30 a. m. to noon Saturday hours.

All banks will be closed next Saturday, July 4.

Her Road to Musical Career Leads L.B. Girl Back Home

A young Lakewood accordionist is back on the road to a promising career as the result of her effective use of the "squeeze play" on her family.

Janet Cutrer, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Cutrer Jr., 2817 Candlewood St., was doing fine with her music lessons at Long Beach Music Center until they were interrupted a year ago when she moved with her family to Mobile, Ala.

The quiet, brown-haired girl got the blues in Mobile. The Alabama city had plenty of good piano, organ and voice teachers but none for accordion to match Long Beach instructors.

Janet put the pressure on her parents. It was an easy victory, for Mr. and Mrs. Cutrer wanted to return to Southern California. The family moved back here from Mobile last September.

Everybody's happy now. Janet is practicing her accordion two hours a day, taking lessons and studying music in a six-hour class each Saturday. She has appeared on the Harry Babbitt television show, as a guest artist at the recent Compton Concert and at community programs in this area.

The young performer is left-handed, a handicap when she first began playing the accordion four years ago. By hard work, she trained her right hand to do what she wants it to on the keyboard side of the accordion and finds the southpaw dexterity valuable in intricate technique she is now mastering on the left hand keys.

Stevenson Takes Leave of Yugoslavs for Greece

The agency said Stevenson told newspaper correspondents at Skopje that he found Yugoslavia determined to defend itself against aggression.

Cadet Convicted in Slaying of Texas Girl

VERNON, Tex. — (UPI) A West Texas jury Saturday night ruled Walter E. Whitaker Jr. must die for the strangling of Joyce Fern White.

Whitaker, 21, of Hartford, Conn., sat impassively as the jury decision was read. He had shown no emotion throughout his week-long murder trial.

His parents also sat motionless. The elder Whitaker, a Connecticut trucking operator, bowed his head. The handsome air cadet was convicted of murder with malice. Whitaker had told the jury how he slapped Joyce while making love to her in his car's back seat, and then blacking out.

The state accused him of strangling the 18-year-old Lubbock, Tex., high school senior last Jan. 8, saying she wanted to marry him and charging he planned with cold malice to get rid of her.

Whitaker led officers to a prairie grave and dug up Joyce Fern's body on Jan. 28.

Two Texas Rangers led Whitaker from the courthouse to the Wilbarger County Jail as soon as Judge Victor Lindsey read the verdict. His parents followed him out of the room, their eyes moist.

Then four brothers of Joyce Fern—Kenneth, Alvin, Perry and Ray—filed from the courtroom.

Mrs. Lena B. White, 58, the girls' mother, was not present for the verdict. She had broken down in sobs as she testified Friday and had wept softly during final arguments Saturday.

Kenneth White, who coaches at the Cooper Community High School near Lubbock, told reporters as he walked from the room: "That verdict is exactly what it ought to be."

The jury returned its verdict after three hours and 45 minutes. The fate of the dark slender youth went to the jury after state's attorneys called him an "egotistical killer" and the defense termed him insane.

City-Sponsored Summer Fun for L. B. Kiddies

MERRIMENT on the merry-go-round at Bixby Park is enjoyed by Long Beach children. The annual summer recreation program, sponsored by the Recreation Department and the city schools, gets under way on city playgrounds Monday.

Playground Program Opens Here Monday

Things to do—scads of them—on the action-packed schedule of fun which the Recreation Department and city schools have drawn up for the city's children this summer.

The big program begins Monday at 9 a. m. at all municipal playgrounds and at 41 school playgrounds in Lakewood, Los Altos, Long Beach and Signal Hill.

There also will be organized play at the Avalon School grounds. "This is a nine-weeks program of supervised recreational activities," says Walter L. Scott, coordinator of municipal and school recreation and the major domo of the 1953 summer play schedule.

ORGANIZED PLAY

There will be organized playground competition in softball with league play for both boys' and girls' teams. The boys will compete in four divisions, smallest boys in the "D" league and the big boys in the "A" league, with boys "in between" competing in the "C" and "B" leagues.

Girls will vie in two leagues—junior and senior.

There also will be basketball team play, volleyball, touch football and a wide variety of inter-club and all-area competition in popular sports.

One of the activity high lights for boys will be the annual Playground Olympiad, slated for August.

Elsewhere, for the action-minded, there will be outings, for boys, at popular Camp Sea Hawk, on Marine Stadium, and for girls at newly-established Camp Woodland, north of Colorado Lagoon.

Girls also will enjoy play days, beach outings and picnics.

CLASSES APLENTY

In the realm of more quiet recreation there will be handicraft classes, rhythms, music and puppetry classes. For the smallest children there will be special classes in handicraft and sand modeling, with occasional story-hours thrown in to keep the tiny boys and girls happy.

The big play program also takes full advantage of the city's matchless aquatic facilities.

Once again this summer there will be free swimming lessons for youngsters and adults. Heart of the aquatic program will be the Alamitos Bay area, with other classes in swimming slated for Rainbow Pier Lagoon and at Colorado Lagoon when that area is reopened.

For the more advanced swimmers there will be courses in life saving and boatmanship. Climax of the summer aquatics program will come with the all-area swimming and diving championships, with boys and girls competing in a day-long event.

Details of the entire program of fun and recreation are available in all at the nearest playground

Bob Russell to Return for Pageant

Bob Russell, singer, TV and radio actor who directed last year's Miss Universe stage productions, will arrive in Long Beach Monday to direct four stage productions during the Miss Universe Pageant July 10 to 18.

Each of the four shows will be different and each of the shows will feature contestants in the pageant and professional acts.

Oscar Meinhardt, producer of the pageant, said featured would be the Friendship Waltz number which will star the 70 contestants waltzing with naval officers from the Los Alamitos Air Station.

"The Whole World Likes Our Ike," a song which Russell has written and will sing; "American Beauties," which will feature United States contestants in evening gowns; an European castle ballroom scene and other spectacular numbers will also be on the programs, Meinhardt said.

125 High School Principals Open Parley Here Monday

The role of the administrator in curriculum development will be discussed by 125 junior and senior high school principals at a conference of the Southern Section, California Association of Secondary School Administrators opening Monday at Long Beach State College.

Dr. Wesley Bratton, dean of State College's summer session and extended division, said this is the first of what is hoped to be an annual workshop for Southern California secondary school principals.

The principals will meet at State College to hear various speakers in the mornings and to participate in discussion groups in the afternoons.

Speakers scheduled are Dr. Galen Jones, U. S. officer of education, who will speak Monday and Tuesday mornings; Dr. L. D. Haskew, dean of the school of education, University of Texas, whose talk will be Wednesday morning; and Curtis Davis, assistant superintendent of San Jose city schools, another Monday morning speaker.

Dr. C. C. Trillingham, county superintendent of schools, will address the closing sessions Thursday afternoon.

The principals will attend a banquet Wednesday at 6 p. m. in the Lafayette Hotel at which the speaker will be Dr. Nelson Bessing, professor of education at the University of Minnesota. John Wilson, principal of Jordan High School here, will be toastmaster. Dr. Paul Fisher, principal of

2 Local Men Rounded Up in Highway Fight

AUBURN—(AP) Two San Quentin parolees, one from Long Beach and the other from Wilmington, were captured and jailed here Saturday after a wild, early morning chase and gun battle with highway patrolmen.

Officers identified the pair as Barry D. Malloy, 22, of Long Beach, and Charles E. Falk, 23, of Wilmington.

Patrolmen George Haines and Lyle Tice said they took up the chase at 4 a. m. when the speeding car ignored a signal to stop for a routine patrol check near Applegate.

As Tice turned on his red warning light, the fleeing car speeded up and one of its occupants started firing at the patrol car.

One of the fugitives also fired a shot into the front tires of a passing truck, apparently hoping it would swerve into the patrol car, but the truck driver, Ernie Coppe, kept control and pulled off the highway.

The fleeing car finally crashed into an embankment and both men jumped out and started to run. The fired twice and Falk surrendered. Malloy was picked up later as he walked along the highway.

Falk was charged with suspicion of car theft and assault with a deadly weapon. Malloy was booked on the same charges, plus suspicion of passing bad checks.

Sheriff Charles Ward said the men stole the car in Wilmington and admitted passing a number of bad checks at Lake Tahoe resorts.

He said both men had served time in San Quentin and had been paroled from the minimum security prison at Chino only a short time ago.

Fire Peril Closes National Forests

LOS ANGELES—(AP) On Wednesday several sections of the Angeles and San Bernardino National Forests will be closed because of extreme fire hazards during the summer months.

William V. Mendenhall, supervisor of Angeles, said about 350,000 acres of the forest's 690,000 will be closed.

He said the move is an attempt to keep hikers, campers and others out of more dangerous and remote areas. Travel will be permitted over highways, trails and to and from cabin sites.

Sim Jany, supervisor of San Bernardino, said similar precautions will be invoked with certain steeper, chaparral-covered mountain slopes closed to all persons without permits.

Signs will be posted at entrances to closed areas of both forests.

Spanish Army Gun Explodes, Killing 23 Men; 13 Hurt

MAHON, Minorca, Balearic Islands—(AP) A gun blew apart during Spanish army artillery drill Friday and killed 23 soldiers.

Thirteen other soldiers were on the seriously injured list.

The 38mm. field gun blew to pieces at a military camp 13 miles from this naval base.

The Spanish army minister, Lt. Gen. Augustin Munoz Grande, arrived today for mass funeral services.

How a Well-Trained Dog Should Not Act

GINGER'S IRISH SETTER is up, but Patty Brandt, 6, of 5337 Monlaco Rd., made up her mind that her dog was gonna be a show dog, like it or not. Ginger finally remembered the manners he was taught the past seven weeks in the county department of parks and recreation dog training program and took his place in the "graduation show" Saturday morning at Wardlow Park, Lakewood.

Red Legation Aide Jumps Train, Dies

WASHINGTON—(AP) A man identified as Ilie Dulgheru, 34, a chauffeur for the Romanian legation, was killed by a moving train Saturday when he tore himself from the grasp of two trainmen and jumped through a door.

A Pennsylvania Railroad train, en route to New York, was in the terminal yards when the man leaped from it. He apparently tumbled down a slight embankment and under the wheels of a Baltimore and Ohio train arriving on a parallel track from Chicago.

There was no coroner's report, pending fuller police investigation. State Department records showed Dulgheru had been in the U. S. since September, 1945. Like other representatives of iron curtain countries, his movements were restricted.

The Romanian legation said Dulgheru's wife sailed five days ago for medical treatment in Romania. It said Dulgheru had no permission to return to Romania or even to leave Washington. Capt. Richard Felber of the homicide squad said a trainman and a conductor tried to restrain the man, but he managed to leap anyway. He died immediately as the car wheels passed over him.

The legation declined to give any further information "until we study the problem."

Dow Mead in Legion Office; Mother Will Lead Auxiliary

C. DOW MEAD
Heads Legion Post

History will be made Thursday evening when a mother and son team will be installed as heads of Samuel Thomas Post 325, American Legion, and the post's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Minnie M. Mead, an employee of the Chell Air Force Depot, Maywood, who lives at 6831 Orange Ave., will assume office as president of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Mead is the mother of two World War II veterans and the wife of a World War I veteran.

C. Dow Mead, 261 Barclay St., a manager for Jim Dandy Doll markets, will be installed as post commander at the clubhouse, 51th St. and Dairy Ave.

The Meads succeed C. W. (Pat) Paschal and Gladys Walden who headed the post and auxiliary for the past year.

MRS. MINNIE M. MEAD
Auxiliary President

Other post officers who will be installed are Bill Montgomery, first vice commander; Jack Egan, second vice commander; Bob Unkitch, adjutant; Jack Dew, finance officer; Bruce Winther, chaplain; Percy Frye, historian; Bud Hawkins, sergeant at arms; Richard Mannon, assistant sergeant at arms; Jeff Marshall, judge advocate; Bob Gracely, Charles B. Gracely Jr. and Devore Walden, executive committee members.

Auxiliary officers, in addition to Mrs. Mead, will be Eunice Parr, first vice president; Elsie Cronkite, second vice president; Maide Day, secretary; Ann Egan, treasurer; Carol Mead, chaplain; Edith O'Brien, historian; Margarette Riggerstaff, sergeant at arms; Helen Wickam, marshal; Lois Butler, parliamentarian; Mildred Fox, Frances Shank and Barbara Gracely, executive committee women.

Devore Walden, Legion 19th district commander and past commander of the post, and the ritual team of Harbor Volture 1262, 40 & S. will install the post officers.

Esther Penn Gregory, 19th district auxiliary president and Maywood unit drill team will install the auxiliary officers.

Bar Official Hits Einstein Probe Advice

SARANAC INN, N. Y.—(AP) An official of the New York State Bar Association accused Dr. Albert Einstein Saturday of "bad Americanism, had intellectualism and appealing to illegality."

Louis Waldman, chairman of the association's civil rights committee, criticized the mathematician for telling witnesses not to answer questions at Congressional hearings.

"Those who advocate use of the Fifth Amendment as a means of shielding their silence are guilty of abuse of the amendment," Waldman told 600 association members.

He mentioned Einstein's recent statement and added: "Advocacy of a blanket refusal to testify regardless of the basis of self-incrimination is bad Americanism, bad intellectualism and an appeal to illegality."

"Whatever may be said of the philosophy of civil disobedience, apart from foreign rulers of a dictatorial tyranny, it has no place in a democracy..." The association unanimously adopted a resolution urging Congressional study of the whole problem of the "privilege against self-incrimination and the corresponding immunity statutes."

Russ Radio Scolds Latvia, 4th Colony to Feel Red Lash

LONDON—(AP) New woes in the Soviet-captive Baltic states were reported Saturday night by Moscow Radio, accusing the Red leadership in Latvia of nearly every sin in the Communist creed. Last week the target was the sister Baltic state of Lithuania. These two and Estonia were absorbed into the Soviet Union in 1940 and little has been heard from them since.

Four Soviet republics in recent weeks now have felt the Kremlin's wrath: the Ukraine, Georgia, Lithuania and Latvia. Leaders in them have been severely criticized and in some cases purged.

Two Jewish Orphans Reared as Catholics Reach Villa Haven as Custody Fight Ends

SENLEIS, France—(AP) The 4½-month odyssey of the Finaly orphans in Southern France and Spain ended here Saturday night in the comfortable villa that is their new home.

It was nearly dark when Robert, 12, and Gerald, 10, arrived in the car from Spain. They were accompanied by Mlle. Germaine Ribiere, representing the Catholic Church, and the police commissioner of the French city of Hendaye on the Spanish border where the Austrian Jewish orphans entered France Friday.

They looked healthy after their 750-mile trip.

The boys were permitted to pose for photographers, but newsmen were not permitted to interview them. French security troops patrolled the lawn to make sure no unauthorized persons reached the villa.

The villa, in the village of Saint Leonard, 30 miles north of Paris, is owned by Andre Weill, a wealthy and influential member of the Jewish consistory. The boys, who have been the object of a custody battle between the Grenoble Orphanage supervisor, Mlle. Antoinette Brun, who raised them since 1944, and their aunt, Mrs. Hedwig doggedly fought every court case in Rosner of Gedara, Israel, are to live with the Weills until they are 21.

The parents of the boys, Dr. and Mrs. Fritz Finaly, were dragged away from their home near Grewy, France's top court of appeals, held a decision naming Mrs. Rosner guardian of the children.

The boys were raised by Mlle. Brun, a kindly Roman Catholic woman who at considerable risk of Nazi reprisals cared for several Jewish children in her orphanage. Members of the Finaly family may live with Robert and Gerald four years ago began a long struggle to regain custody of Robert and Gerald. Mlle. Brun feared the boys would take the boys away from outside religious influences. When they are 21 they family would take the boys away from Israel and raise them as Jews.

Sixth Army Soldiers to Aid Scouts at Giant Jamboree; Crews at Site

NEWPORT BEACH — The Third Annual National Boy Scout Jamboree, opening July 17 at the Irvine Ranch, will put into use thousands of Army tents and other government equipment furnished through the Sixth Army from Ft. MacArthur in San Pedro, it was announced.

Tentage, vehicles, bedding and medical supplies necessary for the outdoor event will be the main equipment provided by the Army to the Jamboree.

All equipment is being borrowed by the Scouts, it was reported, but there will be no cost to the Army as insurance policies covering loss or damage have been taken out by the Scouts.

Workmen now are in the process of pitching 3500 tents on the 3000-acre Jamboree site. Tents also will house hospitals, latrines, press headquarters and Jamboree personnel other than the Scouts, who will live in their own pup tents.

More than 100 Army vehicles are being used in the construction and maintenance of the camp. Smaller trucks will be used for the transportation of supplies, with buses, sedans, a fire truck, and other vehicles provided for Jamboree personnel.

Since April 1, a mounted automatic earth auger has been digging holes for tent poles, under Army supervision.

Army co-operation to the Scouts, headed by Lt. Gen. Joseph Swing, commanding general of the Sixth Army, and Maj. Gen. Herbert Gay, commanding general of Third Corps at Ft. MacArthur, has been authorized by the 82nd Congress which passed a law authorizing the Army to assist the Scouts at the Jamboree.

Commanded by Capt. M. D. Fox, a maintenance detachment of six men from Ft. MacArthur is controlling Army equipment at the camp site.

During the Jamboree, three Army units, including Ft. MacArthur, San Diego, and Santa Ana personnel, will lend a hand to the Scouts.

Army medical officers will assist in inspection of foods and cooking facilities, it was reported. Col. Thomas Hanigan, of Santa Ana, will command troops from the three units during the Jamboree.

Jamboree Troop 30, Long Beach Council of Boy Scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster Paul Harvey, had a preview outing in Houghton Park over the weekend.

The Scouts, all from Long Beach troops, used equipment similar to that which will be issued to them when they attend the Jamboree.

Warren Signs Bill to Aid Retarded Children Schooling

SACRAMENTO — (AP) Gov. Warren Saturday signed a bill allowing school districts to exceed the maximum building area permitted under the state school building aid program if they plan to take care of mentally retarded or physically handicapped children.

Warren also signed bills:

1—Empowering the State Agriculture Department to indemnify owners of diseased animals slaughtered in eradication campaigns after a quarantine has been established and the governor has declared an animal disease emergency—by Sen. Hatfield (Newman).

2—Giving the State Board of Education authority to set the regulations governing duty-free rest periods for school teachers—by Sen. Dilworth (Hemet).

3—Requiring applicants for water appropriations to notify the district attorney and board of supervisors of the county of the proposed diversion—by Hatfield.

Pair Marry Despite Dad's Effort to Slay

SANTA MONICA — (AP) A wedding ceremony went off on schedule Saturday a few hours after police say a father tried to stop it by attempting to kill members of his family.

Leonard Cremering, 51, was jailed after his wife, Ruth, 41, was stabbed with an ice pick and beaten with a hammer. Their son, Robert, 11, was hit on the head with the hammer, but less seriously injured.

Detective Sgt. Stewart Jones said Cremering, a former mental institution patient, said he was opposed to the marriage of his daughter, Ruth Ann, 18, because he "didn't think it would be successful."

Despite the assaults on her mother and brother, Ruth Ann was wed to Donald Curran, 20, of El Segundo in a fashionable church wedding.

"I planned to kill the whole family," Cremering was quoted by police. "I guess I didn't do a very good job of it."

Officers said he admitted striking his wife with the hammer while she slept but didn't remember stabbing her. Mrs. Cremering suffered a punctured lung and possible skull fracture. The boy was not hospitalized.

Jones said Cremering recalled striking his wife and she woke up screaming. Then he went into the son's room and hit the boy on the head.

Ruth Ann, awakened by her mother's screams, ran to help her brother, Jones said, and together they fought off the father. She then ran outside shouting for help.

When officers arrived, Jones said, they found Cremering seated in a chair.

Jones said Cremering was a patient at the Camarillo State Hospital three years ago and later released.

He is booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Tornado Hits Iowa Farm Area; 1 Dead

ADAIR, Ia. — (AP) A tornado cut a swath through Adair County late Saturday, killing one person, injuring two others, one seriously, and wrecking five farm homes.

Mrs. Walter McMurphy, 56, was killed and her husband seriously injured when the twister destroyed their farm home four miles south of Adair.

Lenoy Betts, 27, a neighbor, was also injured. He entered the Betts home just as the tornado picked it up, whirled it around and smashed it.

High winds, lightning and heavy rains did considerable damage elsewhere as severe thunderstorms ripped through the state.

Adventist Meet Under Way Today

LYNWOOD — Motorists traveling through Lynwood on Imperial Hwy. today were amazed at the sight of thousands of people, moving through long rows of tents to a huge auditorium where the 51st Seventh-day Adventist convention was under way at 8:30 a. m.

The 10-day camp meeting in the midst of 750 tents on the Lynwood Academy grounds will continue through July 5.

The Sunday program today includes an address by Elder Charles Hall of Inglewood at 8:30 a. m.; a televised worship hour at 11 a. m., directed by R. R. Bietz, president of the Southern California Conference; and an address on Bible prophecies by Dr. Paul Quimby at 2:30 p. m., concurrently with a young people's meeting in the "Youth Tent."

Taylor G. Bunch will be the featured evangelistic speaker at the night services. Speakers at Monday's meetings will be Elders Wilbur Dunn, Monrovia; D. R. Guild, Huntington Park; D. E. Rebok, Washington, D. C.; Paul Quimby, Angwin; W. C. Webb, and Bunch.

To Whom It May Concern: "For over 30 years I have been going from one doctor's office to another hoping to find someone to help me with my asthma and stomach condition. No one knows how much I had suffered until I came to Dr. Chan. Night after night I had to sit up because I wasn't able to lie down to sleep. I was coughing and wheezing most of the night, besides my stomach was full of gas. After taking Dr. Chan's Herbal Therapy for one week, I began to improve. Now, after five months of continuous treatment, my asthma and stomach trouble are just about over. I wish to recommend this treatment to anyone who is anxious to get well. I am sure that Dr. Chan will do all he can to help you as he has helped me." Signed: Mrs. Tina Smith.

Dear Dr. Chan: "The day I came to your office with my mother and brother I was about to give up hope of getting rid of my asthma attacks. I spent hundreds of dollars for shots and pills, but yet found no results. After reading your advertisement, I tried you for my last resort and was thrilled to find that I responded wonderfully. After the first treatment, I was able to breathe normally and could sleep better for the first time in months. Now I am feeling fine and hoping others will benefit from my experience with Dr. Chan's Natural Method." Signed: Mrs. Vivian Murray.

Rejected Captures Rich Westerner; Fleet Khal Second

By DAVE LEWIS
Sports Editor

HOLLYWOOD PARK—With everything stacked in his favor, the King Ranch's Rejected charged to his first stakes victory as expected here Saturday when he disposed of his only serious contender—Rex Ellsworth's game filly, Fleet Khal—in the last few yards to nail down first money in the $100,000-added Westerner, Hollywood Park's "derby."

TED WILLIAMS
Released by Sept. 1?

Williams Back to US

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIR WING, Korea—(AP). Capt. Ted Williams, a veteran of 38 missions in Korea, has been ordered back to the United States by Marine flight surgeons for treatment of an ear and nose ailment, a Marine Corps spokesman said Saturday.

The Boston Red Sox slugger, who has been piloting Marine Panther Jets in Korea for 5½ months, was grounded June 10. The spokesman said the 35-year-old pilot would leave for the U. S. within a few days. Just this week the rangy athlete was awarded three air medals for his missions.

(In Boston, the American quoted Maj. Beldon Lidyard, head of the Marine Corps personnel department in Washington, as saying Williams would not be held in service after Sept. 1 unless he requests it.)

Thus the $100,000-a-year outfielder might be available to play with the Red Sox in the last month of the season.

Padres Score Six in Eighth, Clip Stars, 9-5

HOLLYWOOD—(AP). The San Diego Padres exploded for six runs in the eighth inning Saturday to beat the Hollywood Stars 9-5 in a Pacific Coast League game.

The victory gave the Padres three out of five wins for the series with two games on tap today. Bob Kerrigan was the winning pitcher, despite giving up 16 hits. Lloyd Hittle was the loser in relief.

San Diego greeted Hittle with three straight hits in the eighth. Red Lynn took over and issued three straight walks. Gordie Maltzberger finally got the side retired.

The early going was even. San Diego took a 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth, but Frank Kellercher homered with one aboard to give Hollywood a 3-2 advantage. Red Mathis hit a round tripper for San Diego to even accounts in the seventh. Then the Padres exploded.

Once Over Lightly

POT POURRI:
Although events of the past few days have helped puncture the myth that the Yankees are invincible, baseball men still see little hope of breaking the club's dominance of major league ball in the near future.

One leading expert says there is every reason to suspect the Yankees can win as many as 15 pennants in a row.

Another top baseball man points out that the Yankees are not going to be checked as long as they control 300 or more handpicked players for seven years—four years in the minors plus another three on options.

All of baseball's ills can be cured by one rule: an unrestricted draft, he maintains. By unrestricted draft, he means just that. A player sent out to the minors would be subject to draft after the first year. In that way, one club would not be able to monopolize the top talent.

The Yankees at the present time have at least 20 men—probably even more—who could be drafted by virtually every other club in the major leagues.

WHEN THE BRAVES moved to Milwaukee this season, their American Assn. farm—the Milwaukee Brewers—transferred to Toledo.

And while the Braves are having a most successful season in Milwaukee, the old Brewers—now the Sox—are enjoying similar success in Toledo.

The Toledo story actually is a junior-sized edition of the Milwaukee story.

Last year, the club drew only 195,000 home attendance in Milwaukee, while it appears as if it might top the 300,000 mark at Toledo this season.

The club itself, the Braves' only triple-A farm, has been on the sensational side since George (Twinkletons) Selkirk took over the field management recently after the Sox had become mired in a cellar in no time at all. Selkirk had them in the first division.

IT IS HEARD that Bob Mathias, the great decathlon champion from Stanford, has been offered a motion picture contract calling for a total of $100,000 over a period of years.

Most motion pictures today are made with an eye on the foreign box office... and it is believed Mathias would be excellent "box office" because of his athletic success abroad.

FRANKIE FRISCH has long been regarded as the man who will replace Leo Durocher as manager of the New York Giants... probably in 1954.

However, it is heard that Lefty O'Doul will be seriously considered for the post if he wants it.

O'Doul has had several chances to return to the majors down through the years, but has turned down all offers. However, it is said that he would snap at the job now if it was available.

THEY'VE THOUGHT UP a new one for auto racing... a future based on the type of race that has become popular in horse racing.

A Des Moines, Ia., group called National Speedways, Inc., promises to hold a race on June 5, 1955. It is open to anyone who has a yen to be in a race and any type of car can be used... from midgets on up to the kind used at Indianapolis.

As in horse racing, prizes, the participant pays progressively. Payments in this case will range from $5 due this July 1 to $50 payable two days before the race. In between another $45 must be paid making the total entry fee $100.

The promoters promise to match the entry money, dollar for dollar, to make up what should be a good sized purse.

THE DETROIT TIGERS drew over a million fans last season despite the fact they finished in the American League cellar.

Because of this, there was hope that they might draw a million again this season.

However, at the present time it appears the Tigers will draw little more than 600,000 at home. This would mark the sharpest decline in attendance the game has ever known. Only three seasons ago the club drew 1,000,000 at home.

The Tigers must draw a million at home and 800,000 on the road to break even this season.

WHILE TRAVELING with the Yankees say that the team's success during its recent 18-game winning streak was due to (1) a hot batting and pitching streak, and (2) the poor play of the opposition.

It is being predicted in some quarters that Ed Runge, a Pacific Coast League umpire, will be drafted by either the National or American League next season.

There is some talk of putting an age limit on auto racers. Some say it should be 35. The average age of the field at Indianapolis this year was 32.6 years.

Incidentally, major league baseball careers average less than eight years; professional football, five years; low ballers remain active after 34; golfers start downhill in their late 30s, while tennis players begin fading in their late 20s.

Bums Shade Braves in 10

Anxious to Please, Gratified by Crowds, Braves Agree to Higher Stadium Rental

MILWAUKEE—(UP). The Milwaukee Braves Saturday voluntarily agreed to tear up the contract calling for $1000 a year rental for the new County Stadium and negotiate a new $25,000 contract.

The Braves management also announced that it had decided to contribute to the club's modern scoreboard at Braves Field in Boston to the county for erection at the Milwaukee Stadium.

The club said it decided to make these moves because the "response, enthusiasm and support have surpassed expectations."

The Braves organization was moved to Milwaukee from Boston this spring because of a lack of attendance at Boston. The Braves drew only 281,000 at Boston during all of last season, but the club has played to 623,540 persons in its first 25 dates in Milwaukee for a whopping 24,941 average.

Lou Perini, Braves president, said at the time of the shift that he believed the club could draw 1,000,000 fans in its first year at Milwaukee, but Braves officials revised their estimates upward in recent weeks as game after game is sold out.

When Perini first considered making the sudden shift to Milwaukee in April, Milwaukeeans were overjoyed. Among those swept up in the general enthusiasm were the members of the county park commission and the county board of supervisors.

Joseph Cairnes, executive vice president of the Braves, told the county officials at that time that the club would be faced with many heavy expenses involved in making the move and he asked for a favorable contract for use of the new $25,000 County Stadium which had just been completed.

The county agreed to let the Braves use the stadium for a nominal rental fee of $1000 a year for the first two years, which amounted to about $13 a game. The Braves also retained the rights to the concessions.

In recent weeks, several members of the county board have expressed dissatisfaction with the terms of the contract and some have suggested that the Braves should renegotiate the contract in view of the tremendous turnout of fans.

A Braves spokesman said the club had decided to offer the county $25,000 a year for the first two years because of the support of the fans "which so greatly exceeded the expectations of any of us."

The defeat was Milwaukee's sixth in a row and was a tough one for righthander Jim Wilson to lose. He went the full 10 innings for the Braves and gave up only seven hits.

Milwaukee tied the game at 3-3 in the seventh when right fielder Andy Parko hit a homerun into the left field bleachers. It was the first game Parko played since he was injured June 15.

Race Tied on Reese's Homerun

MILWAUKEE—(UP). The Brooklyn Dodgers swept into a first place tie with Milwaukee Saturday night as Pee-Wee Reese slammed a 10th inning homer to edge the Braves, 4 to 3.

The defeat was Milwaukee's sixth in a row and was a tough one for righthander Jim Wilson to lose. He went the full 10 innings for the Braves and gave up only seven hits.

Cubs Spill Giants, 2-1

CHICAGO—(UP). Hard-luck Warren Hacker withstood faulty fielding by his Chicago Cubs teammates and held the New York Giants to seven hits as he registered his fourth triumph against 10 losses, a 2 to 1 victory before 13,765 fans Saturday.

The Cubs' first run was provided in the third inning when Hal Jeffcoat hit his first home run of the season.

After Jeffcoat's circuit blast, Hacker and Frank Baumholtz singled, moved to second and third on George Metkovich's sacrifice, and Hacker scored the winning run on Bill Serena's long fly.

A two-base hit by Monte Irvin in the fourth inning, after Hacker and pinch hitter Bob Holman singled, sending Spencer across the plate to score and Hacker to the showers. Venerable Dutch Leonard came in and forced pinch hitter Davey Williams to pop out and end the game.

Cardinals Sweep Pair From Phillies

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(UP). Harvey Haddix weathered a ninth inning attack of the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory and a sweep of the day-night doubleheader after the Cardinals had won the afternoon game, 7-4.

The Phils, trailing 4-2 going into the ninth inning, loaded the bases with only one out. Pinch-hitter Johnny Wyrostek struck out and Solly Hemus made a great stop of Ted Kazanski's smash toward centerfield. He knocked down the ball and only one run scored. Then Haddix retired Richie Ashburn for the final out, knocking down his line drive and throwing to first base.

Haddix got a three-run Redbird rally started in the third inning with a single. Rip Repulski walked and Haddix scored when Earl Torgeson threw into Jeffieff trying for a forceplay on Hemus' grounder. Repulski was out trying for third. Then Stan Musial drew a walk and Enos Slaughter tripled.

In the first game the Cardinals broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning scoring three runs on three hits, a walk and an intentional pass.

It was the fifth defeat this season for star righthander Robin Roberts. The Redbirds got 14 hits for Jerry Staley who posted his 11th win against two losses.

Hose Nod Bosox in 'Whirlwind' Finish

BOSTON—(UP). A tricky gust of wind blew Minnie Minoso's long fly into fair territory for a two-run double Saturday as the Chicago White Sox came from behind in the ninth inning to defeat Boston 6-5 and take their sixth successive win.

With two out in the ninth, and runners on first and second, Minoso hit a high fly that passed over the corner of the roof of the left field grandstand and then blew back to fair territory. Bob Wilson, a pinch-hitter, scored from second while Nelson Fox came home from first base.

Nats' Rally Trips Bengals

WASHINGTON—(UP). The Washington Senators broke their six-game losing streak Saturday night when they came from behind to score three runs in the ninth inning on only one hit and edged the Detroit Tigers, 6-5.

Twice during the game the White Sox, who now have won 13 of their last 15 games, came from behind.

MEL BURNS

Other ex-title holders competing are Gene Sarazen, who won in 1922, 1923 and 1933; Henry Picard, 1939; Bob Hamilton, 1944; Jim Ferrier, 1947, and Chandler Harper, 1950.

Two 18-hole rounds of qualifying are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday, with the low 63 joining the champion in the 36-hole bracket unless the champion chooses to go for the low medal prize on Tuesday or Friday; there will be two match play rounds, reducing the field to 16. From then on, 36-hole matches are staged daily through the finals July 7.

13-Game Win Streak Hawks Face 2 Foes

Two more games are on tap for the Long Beach Nitehawks this week as they attempt to keep their 13-game win streak intact. The Hawks softballers travel to Glendale Wednesday night for a charity game against the Glendale Elks. Friday night they take on Hunkers in a return match at Park Ave. Field. Both games will start at 8:15 p. m.

Huntress, which dropped a close decision to the Hawks earlier in the season, will have its regular lineup headed by veteran Virgil Jones on the pitching slab. Les Hancey likely will get the hurling call for the Nitehawks.

Moto, O'Toole Team in Aud Grappling Feature

Tag team wrestling returns to the Municipal Auditorium Thursday night when sleeper hold expert Mr. Moio teams with 240-pound Tommy O'Toole in the main event against Billy Varga and Sailor Fred Blassie. They'll battle for two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Motorbikes, Hot Rods in July 4 Features

The Fourth of July week end at Carrell Speedway will feature a variety of fireworks both nights as the AMA motorbikes roar into action Friday night and hot rods of the CRA tangle in the 50-lap Gold Cup championship Saturday.

Promoter Don Besile promises a top-notch field of the fastest roadsters in the Southland for the hot rod race.

The motorbikers will be trying to stop the surge of Chuck Besney who is seeking his third straight title.

The 45-minute time limit remains. This bout also will be contested over the best two of three falls rule.

The special event will bring together Dennis Clary, "Mr. Muscles from Muscle Beach," and Irish Pat Ealey, the drop kick specialist. They will battle in one fall or a 30-minute time limit.

To open the star-studded card, Penc Pasquale, Norwalk strong-boy, battles John Tolles, the present Texas heavyweight champion, in a one fall, 20-minute time limit.

Bears Sign Beal,
Ex-California End

CHICAGO — (AP) The Chicago Bears announced Saturday the signing of Bel. Beal, speedy University of California end, for the 1953 National Football League season.

Beal, who stands six feet three inches and weighs 205 pounds, can run 100 yards in 10 seconds, the club said.

Heavy Sales at Happy Homes

HALF OF ED KRIST'S new Happy Homes development, typified by the above three-bedroom exterior, sold out at the opening last week end. Homes are on Imperial Hwy. at Curtis and King Rd., Norwalk.

Krist Development 50% Sold at Opening

Ed Krist's new development of 132 three-bedroom homes was 50 per cent sold out at last week-end's opening on Imperial Hwy. at Curtis and King Rd. in Norwalk, the Southland builder reported Saturday.

Krist credited the heavy sales partly to the factor of immediate occupancy, as well as the fact that both non-veterans and veterans may buy the homes on no down payment, the only cash outlay being $397 to cover loan costs and prepaid charges. Monthly terms are $68.95, and the full price $8495.

Continuing on display is the model home, furnished by the Paradise Furniture Co., typifying the 12 different contemporary stylings offered in the new development.

Krist said that durable construction and functional layout, with the budget-careful family in mind, is present throughout the new homes. Features include rustic modern natural redwood ceilings, enameled drainboards and worktops, breakfast bars and range fans in kitchens, bathrooms with showers over tubs, electric heaters and chrome accessories, large picture windows, steel sash throughout, asphalt tile floors, insulated roofs with wide overhangs, blower-type wall heaters, paved and enclosed patios, large carports and lawns.

Happy Homes may be reached via Imperial Hwy., past Bellflower Blvd. to Curtis and King Rd., or via Firestone Blvd. to Studebaker Rd., then south to Imperial Hwy. and west to the property.

Melody Park Homes Bring Viewers' 'Ahs'

Melody Park homes, at Brookhurst and Chapman in Garden Grove, are bringing comments from viewers like "These homes are nicer than any I've seen for $20,000," developers report.

The three-bedroom — two bedroom and den dwellings, priced from $13,995 to $14,400 and sold on FHA terms with down payments ranging from $2995 to $3400 down — are built by Tietz Construction Co.

Fifty-six "extras" are featured in every home. These include brick exteriors, sliding glass Lanai walls, Lanai patios, orange trees on up to one-quarter of an acre lots, flood lighted yards, forced air furnaces, Roman brick fireplaces, touch plate wiring, Hot-Point dishwasher built in, G. E. disposal, Thermador range and oven built in, two Pullman tile baths and others.

New Shoe Store Opens on Pine

A new shoe store opened in Long Beach this last week end. It was Sav-On Shoes at 224 Pine Ave., owned and operated by Murray Bruch, Harry Hafter and Jules Gisser. Hafter has been in the retail shoe business in Long Beach for seven years. Bruch in the wholesale shoe business in Los Angeles for several years, and Gisser has been with New York firms associated with the shoe business.

"Cancellations at low prices" are promised by the partners, who promise all name brand shoes at prices close to cost.

Dress and casual shoes for men, women and boys are carried. Women's shoes range from size 2½ to 11, quadruple A to triple E, and men's shoes from 5 to 14, triple A to quadruple E. Working shoes and boots also are carried.

Musick Talks on Sheriff's Duties

Functions of the Orange County sheriff's office were outlined to the West Orange County division of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors recently by Sheriff Jim Musick.

Added administrative cost and duplication of equipment required for setting up a sub-station in the area does not make the proposal feasible, Musick said.

Handley Food Sales Group Chief

Harry Handley of George A. Hormel & Co. has been elected president of the Long Beach Food Sales Assn.

Other new officers are: F. H. "Nels" Nelson of the E. E. Hoagland Co., vice president; D. R. "Dick" Koller, Denison's Foods, secretary; Curtis Murphy, Ohio Match Co., treasurer; Dean Booth, Best Foods, Inc., sergeant at arms; Gene Driscoll, Independent-Press-Telegram, program chairman and George "Pop" Hall, Albers Mill Co. (ret.), greeter.

Please accept this as my personal apology to all the fine folks who were at our new HAPPY HOMES community in Norwalk last weekend and just couldn't find one of our representatives to talk to them. WITH THE BIG 3 BEDROOM HOMES we're offering, it's no wonder that there were just too few of our representatives on hand last weekend to service so many of you home buyers. Things will be different this week, I promise. Our organization is being tripled to handle the crowds of NON-VETS AND VETS who can buy these HAPPY HOMES with NO DOWN PAYMENT except $397 for loan costs and all prepaid charges. FULL PRICE of your HAPPY HOME is still $8495. You pay it off at $68.95 monthly, saving thousands of dollars interest because it only takes 27 years, not the usual 25 or 30 years. Remember, YOU CAN MOVE IN IMMEDIATELY. Here are just some

One of Many Models

Carson Mutual Popularity Booms

On the basis of terms, quality of construction, design and location, the Carson Park Mutual Homes project is proving increasingly popular among Southland home-seekers, the developers stated this week end.

Officials also pointed out that low terms are available to veterans, even to those who have used their G.I. loan benefits. Veterans of Korea and World War II are also eligible under the terms, which are FHA-approved. Non-veterans also are thronging the development sales office at 6741 E. Carson St. to take advantage of the Carson Park price structure, officials said. Non-veterans can buy any three-bedroom home at $595 down.

Barbee Named by Brokers Group

Bill Barbee, of the Rex L. Hodges Realty Co. and member of the Long Beach Board of Realtors, has been named Long Beach representative of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers. The Brokers Institute has announced its second publication for the year, a bulletin written around the motto, "The Right Investment Is Equal to a Lifetime of Toil."

Why I Want to Own My Own Home

By WILLIS FOSTER

We all take pride in the ownership of many things, but to me owning my own home gives the greatest satisfaction of all. Security, stability, the opportunity to express originality, and community participation, are only a few of the advantages in owning your own home.

Security, both financial and mental, is of the greatest importance in the establishment of a good home. A home is always a good investment even though some temporary misfortune may arise. A credit rating has been established by this purchase and may be used as security for financial assistance. If the sale of the home is ever necessary, at least equity is realized. Freedom from worry of eviction and not having the problem of constantly moving, from one community to another, will add to the building of a happy home.

A great satisfaction may be obtained by the knowledge that your children will grow up in one community without the constant change of schools, habits, and associates. Permanence is essential for emotionally stable and well-adjusted citizens.

A person is always happiest when his surroundings are of his own choosing. Colors, architecture, and furnishings may be expressed appropriately by your own personal selections. Even in a large family each person may feel free to express his individual ideas in decorations and furnishings.

Ownership enables a person to contribute more fully to his community welfare. When a citizen pays taxes he has the feeling of actually helping materially, and therefore he feels free to express his opinions and desires to build a better community.

Great joy and pride is derived from the fact that you actually own something of great value. This responsibility is character building, thus qualifying the man of the family for a better position in life. Our nation's progress is indirectly determined by our happy homes.

Lloyd's Marks Double Event

Lloyd's of Long Beach, marking the first anniversary at the uptown Atlantic-Bixby Knolls location, is offering a double sales event—combining the anniversary with their regular semi-annual sale.

Art Lloyd, merchandise manager, said, "Lloyd's has endeavored to keep pace with the growth of Long Beach and by way of thanking the many valued customers for their patronage during this last year, the store is offering the opportunity of purchasing at tremendous savings the traditionally fine furniture for which Lloyd's of Long Beach has become known throughout the entire Southland."

Mickey Lloyd manages the Provincial Department and Maury Symonds the Modern Department.

Wins Safety Award

NEW PRESIDENT of the Ramblers, Frank Benson, receives the club's safety award from John Arkush (right) local Packard dealer and sponsor of the club. Award was given Frank for having driven the past 12 months without an accident or traffic citation.

World of Wheels

by DICK KLINE

PACKARD DEALER SPONSORS YOUTH CLUB—The Ramblers, sponsored by John Arkush Packard Co., is interested in contacting young men between the ages of 16 to 23 who would like to become members. The purpose of the club is to promote safe driving and a knowledge of correct legal operation of the automobile. Each member's car is expected to be outstanding in appearance and mechanical operation.

TWO THOUSAND CHILD INJURIES SEEN DURING SUMMER—Two thousand child pedestrians will be injured in Los Angeles County during the next three months unless motorists and parents join forces in an all-out drive to prevent vacation tragedies, the Automobile Club of Southern California warned Saturday.

More than 780,000 school children in the County are on vacation. Motorists were reminded that during the summer months school crossing guards are not operating, and children who have been in the habit of crossing with guards now will be on their own.

Parents are called on to keep their children away from streets and to direct them to supervised playgrounds. The club points out that every Southland community has at least one such recreation area where child activities and safety programs are supervised.

POWER STEERING BIG HELP IN LIGHT CARS—A marked improvement in traffic handling due to power steering plus greater speed in upper traffic range acceleration were two important conclusions reached in an independent performance test on the 1933 Chevrolet, reported Saturday.

Harry Swanson, general manager of Cornier Chevrolet Co., pointed out that the impartial tests on Chevrolet's 1933 model, revealed for the first time in the June issue of Science and Mechanics magazine, showed that power steering is a real driver aid, even to owners of relatively light weight cars.

Unique Coffee Hour; Gay Housewarming

By BETTY CAREY
Independent Women's Editor

In response to the cleverest invitations of this or any other week 200 friends of Georgienne Hunter and Mildred Shank converged on the Hunter home at 550 Mesa Way for a coffee hour on Tuesday morning. We stress the "coffee" because starting with the invitations the coffee pot motif was employed in every possible manner.

Coffee pot cut-out invitations saying "Will you join us for coffee?" showed a picture of the two hostesses smartly gowned and dispensing coffee at a table set with fine china and silver. Inside another picture tersely labeled "Not before 10!" we find the same duo in wrappers, curlers and house slippers in a less elegant scene. Clever, we say.

Assisting the hostesses and wearing miniature lamp Dresden coffee pots holding tiny French bouquets were Roberta Swaffield Griffin, Ann Settle, Joan Hunter, Margaret Shank, Loraine Miller, Sally Lemon, Vivian Davis and Louise May of Compton.

A silver coffee urn held pink and orchid peonies and blue larkspur on the refreshment table. In the beautiful Hunter garden, a riot of colorful bloom, white wrought iron tables and chairs were placed for the guests.

The charming new Cape Cod abode of Marjorie Sawyer at 18 66th Pl., was the scene of a gay surprise housewarming party on Friday eve when a coterie of friends arrived to inspect and initiate the inviting, Provincial home.

Among the party-givers were Janie and Gil Brown, Betty and Fred Tebbetts, Sally and Red Nesmith, Cecile and Hap Appleton, Joan and Julie Bescoe, Suzanne and Orrin Merritt, Marie and Jack Ivey, Betty and Bix Bixby, Dot and Howard Bigony, Pat and Walter Gilkey, Bunny and Bev Riley, Claire and Lou Dingle, Connie and Cliff Reiman, Chris and Bo Weil, Jean and Gil Karste, Ina and Willie Harris, Lillian and Tom White, Bobbie and Don Hunter, Mary and Ray Copeland, Bea and George Hart, Ruth and Gordon Dougherty, Bessie and Louis Raese, Dorothy and Fred Wise, Jeanne and Paul Bauer, Hazel and Al Cassidy, Birdie and Russell White, Vaile Young, Betty and Bob Lang of Covina, Ila and Val Clark of Brentwood.

Returning voyageurs include Jeannette and Ray Waestman who are back at their Linden Ave. home after a marvelous two and a half months abroad. They sailed on the Queen Mary to England where they enjoyed all the pre-coronation color, motored through the Scotch highlands; thence went off to Holland where they saw the terrific tulip show, the first put on in 18 years. They toured about the countryside in a Mercedes-Benz, driving for four days up the Rhine through the Black Forest country, saw the coronation films with a French accent in Paris, then to Switzerland, Italy and the Italian and French Riviera. They ran into Virginia Inhoff and her parents in Rome, where they also had dinner with the peripatetic Marshall Stones who had just flown in from Cairo. They sailed back on the Queen Elizabeth.

The warm hospitality of Irma Knight and Elizabeth Sullivan was everywhere evident when they were at home to friends at a large tea at Irma's home on Wednesday afternoon. Mattie Sullivan greeted guests at the door and the hostesses received in the living room where pink peonies lent accents. Irma was gowned in aqua-hued taffeta and Elizabeth was smart in a gray denim cocktail dress trimmed with little white tassels.

In the dining room blue water lilies and pale rose and white peonies arranged by Jeanette Enloe were the focal point on the tea table.

European travel was the main subject in one of the many conversation groups with voyagers Vivian Davis and Maude Clock discussing their respective itineraries. Maude leaves today and will travel on the Corona, and Vivian and her husband John plan to go in early July.

Some of the out-of-towners noted renewing old acquaintance were Pauline (Klene) Chambers and Ruth Cannon of Pasadena, Frieda Nicholson of Arrowhead, Floy Williams, Rosemary Sadler, Fio Newton and Helen Jones of Palos Verdes, Eleanor Kingsley of Pomona, Ruth Ferguson, Claire and Gertrude Wilson of Los Angeles, Virginia (McKerrie) Stevens and Betty Winckler from Santa Ana, and Shirley Merrell over from Covina.

Patio Brunch Bridal Fete

The lovely garden and patio at the home of Mrs. Raymond J. Kirkpatrick, 281 St. Joseph Ave., was the setting for a gay garden brunch Wednesday honoring Miss Nancy Ridgeway, bride-elect, whose marriage to Wayne Albert Wiggins took place last evening.

Hostesses with Mrs. Kirkpatrick were her daughters, Mrs. Don Hodges, and Miss Ramona Kirkpatrick, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Kirkpatrick. Guests were asked to bring their favorite recipes and ingredients for a pantry shower for the honoree.

Bidden were Mmes. Calvin Garverick, V. R. Marichal, Burton W. Chace, J. Herbert Davies, Will H. Winston, Will H. Winston Jr., Jerry Cain, A. P. Ely, Ben K. Parks, Don Murphy, Ansel J. Olson, Sam McKee, Gordon Brown, J. Rose, Howell, Calvin Lauer, J. Donald Locke, J. W. Penman, Ruth Reece.

Mmes. Gerald DeFreese, S. L. McGinnis, Floyd Wolfe, G. A. Mackey, Harold Morris, Vern Garten, Vernon Cliffe, Louis Hart, William Sievers, Suzanne Marichal Taylor, Misses Polly Garverick, Joanne Parks, Anne De Freese, Coni Chace, Louise Belatti, Janet Hart, Barbara Lauer, Mrs. Robert Anderson of Newport Beach; Mrs. Virgil Ridgeway, mother of the honor guest, and Mrs. Grace Wiggins, mother of the bridegroom.

Thursday, Mrs. Ridgeway entertained at a tea when friends dropped in during the afternoon to view Nancy's trousseau.

Capital Social Scene

Western Barbecue Is Delightful Adventure

By VIRGINIA WELDON KELLY

Press-Telegram Washington Correspondent
A good many people thought a third political party was in the offing when Garvin E. Tankersley and Mrs. Tankersley (the former "Bazy" McCormick, niece of Col. Robert McCormick) sent out invitations to a "coalition party" at their Al-Marrah Ranch, nine full miles—as the crow flies—from the Capitol dome, on River Rd.

Actually, the party was entirely social. It was the annual outdoor gala that the Tankersleys give for friends in both parties at their western style working ranch where they raise Arabian horses and fat cattle. The Al-Marrah ranch is a fabulously beautiful place and the hospitality of the hosts is the real "alight, hitch, set, and eat" kind that all of us from the south and west are familiar with.

Guests arrived in the 95-degree heat and had their choice of a swim in the pool, horseback rides or rocking chairs.

Among those who swam like aquabellies were the Treasurer of the United States, Mrs. Ivy Priest, and Mrs. Karl Mundt, wife of the Senator from South Dakota.

Other guests hovered about the portable chuck wagon—propelled by a real Mexican in sombrero and serape—that dispensed bite-sized tamales and hot dogs.

Promptly at 6:30 the ranch dinner bell rang and the several hundred guests stampeded for the chow line: Hash, "hush puppies," country style salads and relishes, apple pie and buttermilk. Several foreign dignitaries eyed the buttermilk warily and asked what the beverage was. Centerpiece for the outdoor buffet was a 250-pound three-foot in diameter Swiss type cheese from Ohio. The cheese would have worn a sign

President's Warm Personality Revealed During Visit With Cousin, Sarah Ferguson

By ELAINE RISINGER

Ever wonder what it would be like to visit with the President? If you're Sarah Ferguson and the President is your first cousin, Dwight, the exciting occasion turns into a friendly chat crowded into the busy schedule which surrounds the Chief Executive.

Now back in her Belmont Shore home, Mrs. Ferguson, who has always been one of Ike's most loyal rooters, delightfully recalled some of the humorous and serious veins of their conversation.

Getting to see the President is no easy matter. Even for a relative it took a letter from Thomas E. Stephens, Ike's personal secretary, confirming the visit, plus two phone calls, before the final date was set. When Mrs. Ferguson arrived at the White House, (she wore a gray outfit and a perky pink rose and straw hat for the occasion) Stephens escorted her to Ike's office where she was to see the President between committee meetings.

"Dwight (as she usually refers to him) was very pleasant. He looked the picture of health, and he has taken on a little weight," Mrs. Ferguson said. "He is a very affable and very charming person. Those persons who work with him love him."

What did the two discuss? "I told him that the people of California liked him," she said. Eisenhower replied, "How do you like Nixon?" Then, referring to the Nixon controversy during the political campaign, Mrs. Ferguson quoted the president as saying, "I knew 'here,' and he pointed to his heart, 'what I was going to do, but I had to let the American people have a week to decide. I have never called a meeting that he hasn't been present."

"We didn't discuss the Korean War—neither he nor I," she continued. "Ike has no fear; he believes in what he is doing."

In a more serious mood, Mrs. Ferguson said the President expressed a desire for a religious revival in the hearts of the people of religious faith, values and conduct. He has found that religion and God give him the decisions that he has to make in a crisis. The many nations are constantly looking to us for help, not only in material aid but in divine guidance.

The famous Eisenhower grin was displayed when Mrs. Ferguson told an anecdote about one of her talks. The attractive gray-haired grandmother said, "I told him that I gave a five-minute talk before a local women's club on 'Eisenhower the Man,' and when I was finished they applauded me three times. At the club leader's reply that Eisenhower couldn't have given a better speech himself, Ike threw up his hands and roared with laughter."

In probably her most revealing comment on her talk with the President, Mrs. Ferguson said, "I left there with the feeling that I was doing him a favor for seeing him."

After the visit Mrs. Ferguson and her friends toured the White House and visited public monuments. "I also had a nice talk with Hosmer over the telephone," Mrs. Ferguson added.

Mrs. Ferguson, whose mother, Susan Eisenhower, was a sister of Dwight's father, explained her acquaintance with the President. "I met Dwight when he was in the first World War stationed in Gettysburg, Pa. It was there I met Mamie and their first child. I had a nice visit when he was here in Long Beach about the air base. I corresponded with him while in Europe and since back in the United States."

Her home at 174 Argonne Ave. is filled with several pictures of the general. On her piano is a photograph showing the general with her son, Harry L. Vogel of Cumberland, Md. Visiting this son was the main incentive for her trip to the east.

Looking into Eisenhower's future, Mrs. Ferguson predicted, "I've always felt he'll have two terms. When he's through, he'll go to his farm in Gettysburg."

Lochridges on Holiday

A six weeks holiday is in store for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Lochridge, 3665 E. First St., who soared off through the skies in one of the new Lockheed "Flying Dutchmen" to New York. In their absence Mrs. Mabel Jackson of Los Angeles will occupy their home.

The travelers will go to West Caldwell, N. J. where they will visit Mrs. Lochridge's sister, Mrs. Walter Gillett, and to New York City to be houseguests of her brother, Carroll Adams. They will tour the Massachusetts and Maine seacoasts and return to Detroit for a new car. They will then motor home via Banff and Lake Louise.

Plane Trip

Dr. and Mrs. Irving Lösner of 1135 Amelia Dr., are leaving tomorrow by plane for a two-week vacation in New Orleans, Miami, and New York City.

ARRIVING TOMORROW from Long Meadow, Mass., are Mrs. Gilbert E. Keegan and children, four-year-old Beth, and seven-year-old Gil, for a month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Lawson Sr. of 4229 Virginia Rd. It is the first time in more than two years that the former Jane Lawson has been in the Southland and, as a result, her many, many friends are planning courtesies in her honor. Mr. Keegan plans to join his family here in August for a visit and they will then return to the eastern city together.

Virginia Hester Is Bride of Eric Laddey in New York

The marriage of Miss Virginia Hester, formerly of Long Beach, to Eric James Laddey of Newark, N. J., was performed yesterday in New York City by the bride's father, Chaplain James M. Hester, Lt. Comdr., USN (ret.). The service took place in the Broadway Tabernacle Congregational Church, and a reception followed in the home of Pennell Churchman Kirkbride III, formerly of Beverly Hills. The bride's mother is Mrs. James M. Hester, and with her husband, resides in Long Beach.

Miss Elizabeth Burnham of Pasadena was the bride's only attendant. James McNaughton Hester, brother of the bride, was best man, and Marshall French of LaFeria, Tex., gave her in marriage.

Miss Hester wore a ballerina-length gown of ecru-toned, pearl-embroidered lace over satin; her veil fell from a cap of heirloom rose-point lace. Miss Burnham wore peacock blue taffeta with ecru-toned accessories.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, the couple will live in Newark, N. J. Mrs. Laddey is a graduate of Scripps College in Claremont, the Tobo-Coburn School in New York City, and served as a naval officer in World War II. Laddey, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, served during World War II as a naval officer in the South Pacific and on the staff of the assistant secretary of the Navy in Washington. He is president of the Eric Laddey Beverage Vending Corp. of Irvington, N. J.

Helen Newcomb Lovely Bride of Hugh Carter

The fragrance of early summer flowers permeated the home of Superintendent of Long Beach Schools Douglas A. Newcomb and Mrs. Newcomb, 256 Granada Ave., Friday evening when their daughter, Helen Joan, became the bride of Hugh Clendenin Carter of Omaha, Neb., and Los Angeles. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Emerson G. Hagen of First Methodist Church in the presence of members of the two families and a few intimate friends.

The attractive bride, given in marriage by her father before an improvised altar in the sun room of their home, was radiant in her nylon tulle gown. It was designed with fitted bodice embroidered in seed pearls, bouffant skirt and tiny bolero jacket. Her tiered veil was attached to a crown of imported Brussels lace, taken from her mother's wedding veil. Traditionally completing her attire was something old, a lace handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Daniel E. Carter of Omaha, Neb.; something borrowed, a pearl cross fastened to a multi-pearled bracelet belonging to Mrs. John Hunter, and something blue, a ruffled garter. Her arm bouquet was of white orchids surrounded by bouvardia.

Miss Pauline Nelson of Long Beach, maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Janie, junior bridesmaid, wore pink organza frocks and carried American Beauty roses.

Langdon Hedrick of Phoenix served the bridegroom as best man, and Douglas Newcomb Jr. was the usher.

A reception immediately followed the vow exchange in the home. The bride's table was graced by bouquets of American Beauty and pink roses. Hostess duties were assumed by Mrs. J. E. Dutton, Mrs. Waldo Moore, Mrs. James Bradford of Omaha, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Peter T. Andrews of Los Angeles, a Scripps College friend of the bride, and other college friends, Miss Mary Mewhirter of Yorkville, Ill., Miss Anne Davis, Los Angeles, and Miss Beverly LaFronboise of Seattle. At the guest book was Miss Goldie Marcus. The wedding music was played by Miss Betty Swanson of Los Angeles.

The occasion marked also the 52nd wedding anniversary of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dutton of Long Beach. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Newcomb was becomingly gowned in mauve pink silk shantung, and Mrs. Carter wore a gray frock accented with a pink motif. Their corsages were pink orchids.

After a wedding trip to Northern California, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will be at home to their many friends the latter part of July at 5296 Village Green, Baldwin Hills.

The former Miss Newcomb is a graduate of Poly High and Scripps College. Her husband is a graduate of California Institute of Technology and is now employed by the State Department of Architecture in Los Angeles.

Chapter Head Prominent Pair to Wed in New York at Conclave

Miss Katherine Wilkerson, president of Zeta Omega chapter of Alpha Iota, international secretaries' sorority, flew to Calgary, Canada, on Tuesday as the official delegate to attend an international convention June 25, 26 and 27.

Miss Wilkerson was accompanied by Miss Fern Thompson of Los Angeles, international grand historian of Alpha Iota.

Miss Wilkerson is locally employed as bookkeeper at YMCA.

Dorothy Rankin Smith

Niagara Falls, N. Y., will be setting the first week in July for the wedding of Dorothy Rankin Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Rankin, 953 Park Circle, to Charles Bembridge, prominent retired contractor of Beverly Hills.

The bride-elect, for six years head of the Music Department at Jordan High, has been granted a sabbatical leave of absence from the Long Beach school system, and will continue her music studies in Europe at the Royal Academy of London, Edinburgh University and the Fontainebleau School of Music near Paris.

The couple will sail July 10 from Montreal on the Empress of Australia for London and will join the Temple University Tour of Music Festivals in Paris, Aug. 2. They will attend performances in Paris, the Wagner Festival at Bayreuth, the Vienna Boys' Choir and Mozart Festival at Salzburg and then to Scotland for the Edinburgh Festival.

They plan to return after the first of the year, spending some time in New York, where the bride-elect will arrange her quartet music scores for publication and her fiancé will work on his autobiography. He served in South Africa as emissary for the French government, was mural decorator for the Royal York Hotel in Toronto and has been associated with major movie studios for many years.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Occidental College and received her master's degree from USC. She is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota, PEO, Organist Guild and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Reveal Troth at Buffet

GARDEN GROVE — A birthday fete and a graduation buffet dinner party announced the engagement of Frances Ann Hickman. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hickman of 12161 Ninth St., were hosts at the party for friends and relatives.

Miss Hickman has pledged her troth to Rex E. Hickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hickman of Palmdale, formerly of Garden Grove.

The bride-elect attended Poly High where she was a member of SFO. She was a song leader at Garden Grove High.

Her fiancé is also a graduate of the Long Beach high school where he was a varsity basketball player. He is presently serving in the Naval Reserve.

The young couple have set no date for their wedding.

Present at the party to hear the announcement were Mrs. Frances Forhan, grandmother of the honoree; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Forhan, Miss Betty Jane Forhan, Miss Melissa Ann Harris, Miss Patricia Orr, Raymond DeWitt, all of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. A. W.

Postal Group Events Told

Mrs. Leonard Hill was installed as the new president of the Auxiliary to Branch No. 198, National Association of Postal Supervisors, at a dinner meeting in the Colorado Lagoon clubhouse. She succeeds Mrs. Lester Bothell.

Installing officer was Mrs. William H. Green, president of the Auxiliary to the National Association of Postal Supervisors. Assisting Mrs. Green was Mrs. John O'Connell. Mr. and Mrs. Green were honor guests at the dinner meeting and each gave a talk on legislation and the retirement annuity.

Others inducted were Mrs. Leo Lynes, vice president; Mrs. Edward Barker, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Darby, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. J. Luker, recording secretary; Mrs. James Pomplio, sergeant-at-arms. Each new officer received a corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Bothell was presented with the past president's pin by Mrs. Lynes on behalf of the auxiliary. Each outgoing officer and chairman was the recipient of a gift from the group.

Another event enjoyed by the auxiliary was a luncheon given by Mrs. Bothell, the outgoing president, at the home of her son in Garden Grove, at which time she was presented with a lovely bone china cup and saucer by the auxiliary to add to her collection.

Fly to Peru for Summer

Roger Child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Child, 3333 Lewis Ave., and Alfonso Cruzado of Lima, Peru, classmates at California Polytechnic College, left Friday for that South American city, where they will spend their summer vacation in the Cruzado home. They will drive to Houston, Texas, and fly from there to Lima.

No stop-overs are scheduled until their return trip, as they plan to arrive in time to attend the wedding of Mr. Cruzado's sister, Sororita Louise Cruzado, which will be one of that city's outstanding social events.

During their stay, the young men will visit many interesting places in South America, including the jungle and the Andes Mountains. They also will fly to Bogota, capital of Colombia, where they will be houseguests of another college classmate, who is the son of the Colombian consul.

They will return to their studies in the fall.

Federated Clubwomen Oppose Red China in United Nations

By RUTH REECE
Press-Telegram Club Editor

In a letter to President Eisenhower, Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, informed him that the federation is opposed to the seating of Red China in the United Nations, adding that the organization does not believe in compromise on this issue.

Mrs. Ahlgren said, in her letter, "As president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest group of organized womanhood in the world, I urge you to stand firm and not to join with those nations that would seat Red China in the United Nations."

"Our organization represents many of the mothers and wives of the men fighting and dying in Korea. We do not believe in compromise. Our men are fighting in Korea so that peoples of the world also may have freedom and independence as we know it. To admit Red China to a seat in the United Nations would be a direct betrayal of those who have died in Korea."

"We ask you to back up our men on the political front as valiantly as they are performing on the fighting front."

Many Long Beach clubs that do not belong to the GFWC also have expressed opinions in accord with Mrs. Ahlgren on the subject.

Lots of excitement among members and friends of the 18th Congressional District Republican Women Federated concerning the next meeting of the organization at 1 p. m. Wednesday in the supper room of the Lafayette Hotel, for at that time a popular writer and lecturer will be the guest speaker.

She is Margaret Lee Runbeck, who will discuss the topic, "India, Our Other Eye." The writer has just completed a two-year tour of India with the United States Intelligence Service working on the vast problem of educating the Indian illiterate. The fight against illiteracy is a tremendous, never-ending struggle, Miss Runbeck reports. She discovered that the average person in India has a vocabulary of 400 words, while it takes at least 10,000 words to read a newspaper.

Mrs. Sarah Ferguson, chaplain for the club, will give the invocation and will present high lights on her recent visit in Washington, D. C., with her cousin, President Eisenhower. Mrs. George P. Taubman, who will preside, has invited the presidents of all women's clubs to hear Miss Runbeck.

High light of the week for Ebell Club members and their guests will be the traditional summer courtesy tea slated to begin at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in Ebell Clubhouse. Assisting the president, Mrs. Fred C. King, will be Mmes. J. Roscoe Howell and George M. Baker, cards; Mmes. Everett M. Findley, Mack L. McGee, John N. Nunes, Jessie M. Armstrong, Will H. Winston, decorations; Mmes. Harold O. Gray and Robert Rothenbach, awards, and Mmes. L. E. Shanks, Frank J. Hallius, Joseph M. Striegel, R. I. Crawford, Arthur F. Bonzer and Roy L. Congdon, refreshments.

This tea precedes the summer brunches, the first of which will be held July 8.

Downtown Lady Lions Club will have a luncheon at noon Friday at the Greenbrier Inn in Garden Grove, with bridge and canasta arranged for the afternoon. Hostesses will be Mmes. Frank Anderson and Cartwright Hunter.

Joseph Kennick, superintendent of social welfare, will speak on the topic, "What It Will Take to Win" at a luncheon meeting of the Democratic Women's Study Club at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Marine Room of the Wilton Hotel. Mrs. Joseph Parker will preside and Mrs. Mary Swift Beeks, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

At the morning session at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. E. B. Rinearson will be in charge of the study hour and Mrs. Eva Moise will present current events.

Long Beach Policewives will meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Mounted Police Clubhouse when reports will be made on the philanthropic work of the organization. Mrs. Bruce Ketchum, president, will preside.

All wives of police officers are invited. A social hour will conclude the evening.

Miss Nancy Lee Ridgeway Is Radiant Bride

(Curtis Studio)
Mrs. Wayne Albert Wiggins

More than 400 guests attended the wedding of the socially prominent Miss Nancy Lee Ridgeway and Wayne Albert Wiggins at eight o'clock last evening in First Congregational Church. Rev. E. G. Hangen officiated at the impressive rite before an altar banked in flowers.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Virgil W. Ridgeway, 3101 E. Ocean Blvd., the bride was regal in her white net and lace gown styled with sweetheart neckline, tiny standup collar of lace complemented by long lace gloves. The sunburst of net at back of her gown extended into a chapel-length train. Her headpiece, a tiara of lace and seed pearls, held a fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of two white orchids surrounded with lilies of the valley and stephanotis. Dr. Ridgeway gave his attractive daughter in marriage.

Miss Carolyn Schiller of San Marino attended the bride as her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Anne DeFroce, Mrs. John T. Hammalian Jr. of Alhambra, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Janet Hart and Mrs. Suzanne Marichal Taylor of Long Beach. Each wore a ballerina-length green silk shantung frock, fashioned with a very bouffant skirt and off-the-shoulder effect shawl collar on the fitted bodice. In their hair were bandeaux of matching shantung and they carried cascades of delight roses.

Robert Clinton Hopkins of Sacramento served the bridegroom as best man. The guests were seated prior to the ceremony by John T. Hammalian Jr., William Virgil Ridgeway (brother of the bride), David Milton Durst of Santa Monica and Ernest Schag of Los Angeles.

A champagne reception was given at the Pacific Coast Club immediately following the exchange when Mrs. Ridgeway chose a gown of gray organza with lace insets and pink orchid corsage to receive guests while the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Grace Wiggins of Los Angeles, wore a pink lace gown and white orchid corsage.

The former Miss Ridgeway is a graduate of Wilson High and USC where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi, Mortar Board, AWS Cabinet, ASSC Senate, Freshman and Sophomore Council, YWCA Cabinet and in 1952 received the Elizabeth Von KleinSmid Honorary Award.

Her husband, also a graduate of USC, is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Blue Key, Skull and Dagger Honorary Societies, served as student body president of USC from 1950-51 and was a member of the college debate team.

The popular young pair will honeymoon in Carmel and will make their future home in Los Angeles.

St. Matthew's Setting for Vow Exchange

A nuptial service at St. Matthew's Catholic Church united Miss Bernice Ann Kretschmer and W. Lee Porterfield, both of Phoenix, Ariz. Rev. Philip L. Grill solemnized the ceremony.

The bride formerly resided in Long Beach and attended St. Anthony's High. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret R. Kretschmer of Long Beach and Dr. O. S. Kretschmer of Denver, Colo.

She also was a student at St. Mary's Academy, Denver, and State University of Iowa where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta. She is a member of Phoenix' Saguro Club.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Porterfield of Cleveland, Ohio, is a graduate of University of Ohio and received his master's degree from University of Chicago.

For the ceremony the former Miss Kretschmer was attired in a regal gown of marquisette and Chantilly lace styled with a bertha collar and short court train.

Her French illusion veil was caught by a crown of pearls. She carried orchids and stephanotis.

Attending the couple were Miss Betty Loraine Walker and Richard Lee Mann. Robert Curtis Graham and Nick Jorules ushered. The wedding reception was at the Victor Hugo after which the couple left on a honeymoon in Southern California. They will reside in Phoenix.

Another recent event was the club's annual dinner given by the freshmen in honor of the graduating sophomores on Tuesday at the home of Sandra Scoggins, 3416 E. Second St.

Miss McAllister, Lt. Manning Married in Rites Saturday

Miss Mary Cordia McAllister's marriage to Lt. Mark Anthony Manning Jr. occurred Saturday morning at St. Barnabas Catholic Church. Rev. Thomas Foley, pastor, officiated.

Miss McAllister was attired in traditional Chantilly lace over satin, a striking contrast to her brunet coloring. Her headress was a lace crown decked with pearls from which fell an illusion veil.

Her flowers were white butterfly orchids and bouvardia atop a prayer book.

Preceding her down the aisle were Miss Charlotte McAllister, her sister, maid of honor; Misses Jean Manning and Joan Manning. Gordon Arbogast served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were John J. McAllister, Theodore Landry, Joseph J. Williams and Paul Patterson. The reception was at Pacific Coast Club.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. McAllister, 3749 Olive Ave., the bride was graduated from St. Anthony's High School and the bride was graduated from St. Anthony's High School and Immaculate Heart College. She is a member of Association of American University Women. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Manning of Springfield, Pa., is a graduate of Villanova College, Pa.

The newlyweds will reside at 921 E. 46th St. after honeymooning in San Francisco. Their at home date is July 12.

Mrs. John Francis Nielsen

Aileen Young Bride of John F. Nielsen

Wearing an exquisite gown of rosepoint lace and pleated tulle over bridal satin, the former Miss Aileen Mae Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Young of 3885 Gundry Ave., recited her marriage vows with John Francis Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Nielsen of 1823 Pine Ave., at 8 o'clock Friday evening in United Presbyterian Church.

The bridal gown was trimmed in a Peter Pan lace collar and the full skirt was pleated tulle over satin and fell into a cathedral-length train of tiered pleated tulle. An orange blossom tiara held her illusion veil. She carried white roses on a white Bible covered with old lace.

In the bridal entourage were Mrs. Lew Webster, matron of honor; Meses. Donald H. McKillop, Kenneth Davidson, Misses Virginia Westgate and Diane Fruhling, bridesmaids; Linda Young, flower girl; John G. Lowe, best man; Ralph Hovis, Kenneth Davidson, Robert Smith and Lew Webster, ushers.

After a honeymoon at Lake Louise, the couple will return July 14 to reside at 170 Arlington St., Pasadena.

The new Mrs. Nielsen is a graduate of Poly High and attended Scripps College and UC at Berkeley. Her husband, also a graduate of Poly High, attended Pepperdine College, Occidental College and Stanford University. He is now an executive with Sears, Roebuck & Co.

From Oregon

Mrs. Karl Layton and sons, Gene and Jimmie, of Grants Pass, Ore., are visiting Mrs. Layton's mother, Mrs. Lotta Haskell, of 430 Ohio Ave., for a week. Mrs. Layton formerly was a member of the Press-Telegram editorial staff.

Ens., Mrs. Richard G. Hanson Honeymooning in Mexico City

An 8 o'clock evening ceremony June 19 at Oneonta Congregational Church in South Pasadena united in marriage Miss Dorothy Lee Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Daniels of Acadia, and Ens. Richard George Hanson, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Berdell Hanson of 5041 Vista St.

After the nuptial service, performed by John R. Elmore, a reception was staged in the church garden. The newlyweds then left for a honeymoon to Mexico City and Acapulco. They will reside in San Diego.

In the wedding entourage were Mrs. Roy Donald Hall, matron of honor; Misses Carolyn J. Boehm, Marilyn J. Boehm, Marilyn Ruth Vale, Mrs. Arthur E. Gorpheide and Mrs. Jaye L. Hunter, bridesmaids; Richard Osborn, best man; James Halverson, Jerry Halverson, Richard Thornburg, William Westover and Roger Kemis, ushers.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle featured a low scalloped neckline and five tiers of tulle gracing the skirt. Her veil was of Chantilly lace.

The attendants' gowns were of white eyelet lace over aqua taffeta with which they wore or-gandy picture hats.

Mrs. Daniels was wearing light blue lace over taffeta with a matching lace hat. The bridegroom's mother chose a rose lace and chiffon ensemble with hat to match.

The former Miss Daniels is a graduate of UCLA where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma, Spurs and Trolls. She was vice president of her freshman class.

Her husband attended Wilson High, Long Beach City College and was graduated from USC where he was a Beta Theta Pi.

AMONG CAREER WOMEN

Three Business Clubs Play Important Role in International Organization

By ANNE GILCHRIST
(Editor's Note: This is another in a series giving the history and background of the various business women's clubs of Long Beach.)

The largest organization in the world devoted entirely to the interests of employed women is the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, affectionately and familiarly shortened by members and its many friends alike to B & P.W. In California alone there are over 15,000 members active in 249 clubs. The International Federation represents clubs in 29 countries and Carolyn Haislip of England is International President.

Long Beach is indeed fortunate to have three active B & P.W. Clubs—the Margaret Ives B & P.W., the Long Beach National B & P.W., and the new Manuela Nieto chapter.

Nationally, the organization was formed in St. Louis, Mo., in 1919 and in that same year the original Long Beach Club came into being. It is the Long Beach B & P.W. and was founded by Zaidie Brown, a librarian, now deceased.

The Margaret Ives Club was organized in 1931 and, until 1948 when it changed its name to honor a local member who assisted in organizing the national in St. Louis, was known as the National B & P.W. of Long Beach.

Newest member of the Federation locally is the Manuela Nieto Club founded last year and named for the first woman property owner in what is now the Lakewood area.

All three of these Long Beach Clubs are members of the Sierra Mar District, the California Federation, and the International Federation. Membership is open to every employed woman interested in the purposes of the Federation and acceptable to the individual club.

Aims and purposes of B & P.W. remain the same now as in 1919 and they are to elevate business and professions; to promote the interests of business and professional women; to bring about a spirit of co-operation among the working women of the United States; and to extend opportunities to these women along the lines of industrial, scientific, and vocational activities.

B & P.W. Clubs operate in four major fields to carry out their aims and purposes—through education and vocations; health and safety; international relations; and public affairs.

Specifically, Long Beach National, in addition to assisting with civic drives and charities, gives scholarships to students at Long Beach State College studying for a business or teaching profession.

Margaret Ives, under Girls' Week activities, carries on a permanent project to assist girls at John Dewey High School through personal consultations, awards and personal contact, as well as participating in civic drives and other charities. In addition and for the betterment of its members, Margaret Ives carries on a study and action program related to social, economic, and political problems as they affect employed women.

Through the California Federation, local women have been working effectively to elect qualified women to public office on a bi-partisan basis. Their efforts were rewarded this past year when a past California State Federation president was elected to the State Assembly at Sacramento.

President of Margaret Ives is Vivian Showalter and the club holds regular meetings the 1st and 3rd Monday of each month. President of the Long Beach National B & P.W. is Gladys Marsh who presides at meetings held the 2nd and 4th Monday of the month.

Manuela Nieto is headed this year by Alice Belknap and meetings occur the first and third Tuesday of the month.

Weep No Tears if Contract Is Won by Enemy's Mistake

Sometimes you get the chance to make a fine play only because an opponent has already made a mistake. That shouldn't spoil your enjoyment. It's pleasant to make your contract after sparkling play by both sides, but you shouldn't weep bitter tears if your chance for the contract has been given to you by an enemy's mistake.

In today's hand, after brief but energetic bidding, West opened the king of clubs and continued with the ace of clubs. South ruffed the second round of clubs with the deuce and immediately led a low trump to dummy's ace and a small trump back towards his hand.

East made the mistake of playing a low heart on the second round of trumps, hoping that South would go up with the king. As it happened, however, South was clever enough to make the safety play of finessing the ten of hearts.

West naturally discarded a club on the ten of hearts, thus revealing the trump break. South switched immediately to diamonds, knocking out East's finesse of the ten of hearts and also for the rest of the play. East could have defeated the contract, however, by playing the jack of hearts on the second round of trumps.

If South allows East to hold the trick (the best play), East returns a club. South dares not ruff in his own hand, since then East will have more trumps than declarer. If declarer ruffs the third round of clubs in the dummy, there is no way to lead a trump through East.

UDC Chapter Seats Staff

The attractive Naples home of Mrs. C. E. Ziemmer at 24 Sicilian Walk was the setting for a party honoring new officers of the Maj. John R. Gathright Chapter No. 1899, of Glendora, United Daughters of the Confederacy, with Miss Ethel Kimbrough presiding.

Mrs. Robert L. Sanderson, past president of the Gen. Joe Wheeler Chapter of Long Beach, installed the new officers. Miss Kimbrough will serve as president for her second year, and others holding office are Meses. J. H. Tindall, Ralford Windham, Mary Richey, Jack Hastie Sr., F. B. Nellums, Eunice Pederson, T. K. Hughes, and Miss Ethel Wiley.

The group then went to the dining room where Mrs. Ziemmer, assisted by Mrs. E. N. Duncan, served luncheon at a table centered with gardenias. A tour of the bay concluded the day's festivities.

Dodge-Nelmes Vows Recited

Now on a wedding trip of undisclosed destination following their marriage June 21 in Atlantic Ave. Methodist Church are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Dodge. The former Florence Lee Nelmes, daughter of Mrs. Edwin H. S. Knapp of 2114 Cedar Ave., and her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Dodge of 925 Coronado Ave., will reside here after July 3.

Rev. Willard A. Schurr officiated at the afternoon ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church social hall. James E. Johnson gave his niece in marriage.

For her wedding the bride was beautifully gowned in a floor-length lace and accordion pleated net in tiers over satin. A heart-shaped cap held her illusion veil and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley in a bouquet.

Her attendants were Darlene Kennepohl, maid of honor, in an aqua net over taffeta and bridesmaids Jean Benson, Aletia Gray and Diana Pilgrim in orchid, green and yellow net gowns over taffeta, respectively. Their corsages were of alternate colors.

Charles S. Hill served his brother-in-law as best man and ushers were Kirk Van Sooy, James L. Vial, Donald Downs, Richard Lowry and John Salazar. Little Nancy Ann Johnson preceded the bride to the altar as flower girl. Candlelighters were John Salazar and Richard F. Lowry.

Hostesses at the reception were Mrs. Charles S. Hill, Mrs. Richard F. Lowry, Miss Meriel Mills and Miss Maureen McGarry. The wedding cake was cut with an ivory-handled knife which had been used by the bridegroom's mother, her mother and two sisters, at their wedding. Charlene Lewis presided at the guest book.

The former Miss Nelmes is a graduate of Poly High and attended Whittier College. Her husband, a graduate of Wilson High, was graduated with honors from Long Beach State College.

Man Objects to Bare Legs in Office

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The following is a quotation from a man's letter.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: Can you write something about those office women who come to work without stockings? I suppose they do it for reasons of economy, but it is poor economy and poor taste, and we men who are in the same office find it unattractive. I am afraid to sign my name, as any man would be who wrote this, but can't you put it over to the girls that they look anything but properly dressed when they appear without stockings? Of course the women who do this are in the minority."

"An office man with ideals of propriety."

I must admit that in most offices it is better taste to wear stockings. A few years ago appearing in an office without them would have been shocking. However, during the war, because of shortages of rayon and silk, women discovered how much more comfortable they were in hot weather without hosiery.

I think it depends on the type office and the temperature. As a general rule a gal is not likely to be considered top-level material with her stockings off. She lacks a dignity and taste which is required of executives or those in positions of big responsibility.

On the other hand, in the tropics where the heat is sometimes almost unbearable, there is more leniency in such matters. Even then, if a woman is ambitious she should be on the safe side.

When going without stockings during leisure and play time, and sometimes even to gala affairs, use one of the wonderful leg makeups available today.

It is impossible to tell the difference between these and stockings (if they are applied skillfully) in the evening, and almost impossible to tell the difference in the daytime.

Another complaint which has come from the masculine sector concerns women bosses, mainly that they are too bossy. This opinion sometimes comes from a man who is old-fashioned and is irked by the fact that women are in such positions. However, women in business have to watch the emotional and temperamental factors. A woman can take up for herself but she always accomplishes much more if she retains her own charming feminine personality while doing so.

Pair Wed in Minneapolis

Gloria Post, daughter of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Charles D. Frindle, 4433 Woodruff Ave., and Sgt. Robert C. Evans of Minneapolis, Minn., were married a few days ago in Minneapolis.

Sgt. Evans, former combat correspondent for the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea, now is serving with the Public Information Office of the Marine Corps Air Detachment at Glenview, Ill. He and his new bride plan to make their home in Long Beach in the near future.

Mr., Mrs. Edous Honeymoon

Honeymooning at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., last week following their recent marriage there, were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Edous, both of Long Beach.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Edous of Huntington Park, took as his bride Betty Youmans, daughter of Mrs. Emma E. Gilbert, 4374 Elm Ave., in single ring services recently at Woodruff Community Church. Rev. A. A. Hoelscher united the couple in the presence of many friends and relatives.

Mrs. Edous wore a green lace ballerina length gown over yellow tulle and carried a corsage of yellow orchids. She was attended by Miss Dorothy Jensen of Long Beach who served as maid of honor. Gregory Aykfield of San Francisco acted as best man for the bridegroom.

Mrs. Edous is a graduate of Hiram College, Ohio, where she majored in social science. Edous was graduated from the USC where he majored in industrial engineering. He is a member of Beta Sigma Tau and Alpha Phi Omega fraternities.

Following their honeymoon at the Nevada resort, the couple left to tour the midwest for a month before returning to make their home in San Diego where Edous has been living since accepting a position as industrial engineer at the U. S. Naval Station this past month.

Patriotic Theme Chosen for Officers' Wives July Event

By VIRGINIA NEWTON

Although it will take place after the Fourth of July, nevertheless the Officers' Wives Club of Long Beach will have a luncheon party in the patriotic theme July 7 at Officers' Club, Allen Center. Reservations may be made with Mrs. R. M. Whelpley or Mrs. H. Von Burkart.

It will be a very gala holiday event with the guest artist of the afternoon being Arthur Beaumont of Los Angeles. He will do on the spot sketching.

The club again extends an invitation to all officers' dependents, whether sisters, mothers or wives, to join the club, and to attend this coming luncheon party.

Mrs. McKnight, wife of Lt. Comdr. George W. McKnight, has as her summer houseguest from San Francisco her sister, Jane Protheroe.

The RONs and their ladies enjoyed a dinner party and meeting at the Officers' Club, Allen Center, recently with plans being discussed regarding their convention in Philadelphia.

Col. and Mrs. Charles C. Cavender and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Martin P. Wehling were guests of honor at an informal reception at the Fort MacArthur Officers' Mess recently. The occasion was a farewell event for the two officers who are leaving for new assignments.

Up from Coronado for the USS St. Paul and USS Manchester dinner party at the Villa Riviera recently was Mrs. Stelter, wife of Capt. Stelter, commanding officer of the St. Paul. Mrs. Stelter was the houseguest of Mrs. Claude Fligg, who entertained in her honor at a delightful informal coffee hour at her home in Naples.

Mrs. Stelter was excited over the good news that her husband would be relieved of his command shortly and return home to duty in San Diego.

During the summer months the luncheon meetings of the Officers' Wives Club at Fort MacArthur will be discontinued until Sept. 24, but the group plans to meet informally for bridge and canasta on the first and third Thursdays of each month. At the last meeting Mrs. Pamela Grubb, millinery instructor, spoke on the subject of designing and making hats.

Mrs. Charles Smith, luncheon hostess, was assisted by the ladies of the 77th AAA Battalion.

Michael Fligg was a jolly host to a group of his school friends at a birthday dinner at the Villa Riviera, when he celebrated his 10th anniversary. His mother, Mrs. Claude Fligg, assisted.

It was a happy reunion in San Francisco the first of the week for Col. and Mrs. C. C. Pickle and their three children of this city when the General Miess docked from the Orient. Col. Pickle returned after a tour of duty with the Marines in Korea. They are visiting relatives in Oakland.

Tonight at the Armed Services YMCA the WSCS from Grace Methodist will be hosts at a buffet supper party.

Mrs. Wilbur Lee Hart from Tacoma, Wash., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Claude Fligg and sons.

Col. and Mrs. Hugh J. Socks of Fort MacArthur were honored at a farewell party recently at the Fireside Inn in San Pedro by members of the AG Section and their families. Col. Socks and his family are leaving for Florida and from there the colonel will leave for overseas duty.

Lt. George H. Nuse of Fort MacArthur and his family are visiting relatives in Washington.

Sojourns Prove Most Popular Summer Fare

Wives and members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club are returning home gradually from one of the most unusual treks in the club's history—the longest distance ever covered to attend an "interclub" meeting—in fact, in this case, three interclub meetings—one of which was international. The details of these unique gatherings were arranged by interclub chairman Bud Ridings.

The "welcome mats" were rolled out in grand style by Kiwanis members in Detroit, Mich.; St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, and Springfield, Ill. At every place visited their hosts were presented with gift packets containing sample products of Long Beach, tourist information and "Miss Universe" publicity. Official L. B. Chamber of Commerce greetings were extended by President Al Davis and Kiwanis President G. T. Davis responded to each welcoming speech.

At one stop Pete Drake did an admirable job answering the questions of an interviewer on a radio program. The local Kiwanis Club Quartet gained new laurels at each meeting.

In Springfield a grand reunion was held with Madeline and Rex Reason, who hosted a most elaborate buffet dinner for the visitors and took them all to the Lakeside Club for dancing. Others who had the honor and fun of this grand trip were Harry Christensen, Bruce Gray, Jack Hammond and Norm Masterson, who compose the quartet; Hester Gray, Iola Masterson, Donna Ridings, Esther Davis, Lorraine and Ed Penning, Barbara and Ted Corcoran, Harry Galbraith and Verla and Dick Browning.

It is "back to college" for Louise and Clayton Burgess, former Long Beachites—not to their own Alma Mater, but to the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota. There Clayt will be pastor of the St. Anthony Park Methodist Church and director of the Wesley Foundation. This very evening the Burgessses and their son David drive away from our sunny California to go through Yellowstone Park and the "bad lands" of Dakota to their new address—2207 Knapp St., St. Paul 8, Minnesota.

Lady Anglers "went to sea" last week to catch their own supply for the annual Fish Fry dinner Saturday night, but luck wasn't with them so the main part of the bill of fare came from the local markets. However, dinner chairman Iva Blumenstein and club President Neva Houghton put on a gala affair with 200 dinners served before the dancing started. Among the many couples participating were Billie and Jim Hanson, Ellen and Ernie Kapps, Millie and Clay Hopper, Jane and Bob Riley, Margie and Willie Hendrickson, Helen and Ed Walsh, Viv and Bill Skidmore and, of course, Bush Blumenstein.

It was "bon voyage day" for Ethel and Arthur Woodford when a host of their friends went aboard the Lurline before it sailed to Hawaii. Last summer's vacation was so successful that the Woodfords are repeating the same treatment for a month this year.

Seventy couples had reservations Friday night for the informal dinner dance of the Long Beach University Club held at the Balboa Bay Club. In charge of this social event was Ernie Lockwood, assisted by Beverly, with dinner arrangements made by Dr. Bill Cheney and wife, Julia. (Both of these couples were especially busy Friday, each putting on a cocktail party before the trip down the coast.) Among those contributing to the evening's festivities were club President Cecil Willis and Gerry, Margaret and Dick Kimball, Winnie and Dr. Paul Prince, Helen and Bob Buck, the Gene Blumbergs, Maryalice and Pres Johnson, Florine and Dr. Max Marks, Ruth and Dr. Henry Caraco, Phyllis and George Carmichael, Helen and Dr. Earl Doty, Shirley and Henry Hinkley, Eleanor and Dr. Herbert Carlson.

Three weeks of life in the wide open spaces in widely separated places for Winkie, Virginia and Tom Russell. Friends, relatives and business associates have received postal cards from a dude ranch at Sadona, Ariz.; from Alpine Lodge in Colorado, and from a farm near Clinton, Ind.—Virginia's old home town.

Other city dwellers who got back to the soil were Nina and Chuck Matthews and daughters Peggy and Judy, who have just returned from the lemon grove and home—of Helene and Bob Matthews near Carpinteria. No doubt Donnie and Bob Jr. also joined in the reminiscing of former L. B. days with their visiting relatives.

City Club Notes

Woman's City Club announces the following group meetings for this week:

Group Two, Wednesday noon, dessert luncheon, Colonial Hall; hostesses, Mmes. Golda F. Smith, Nellie R. Smith and Lelia Belle Gilligan.

Group Eight, Wednesday noon, luncheon in home of Mrs. J. A. King, 19 Loma Ave. (penthouse); hostesses, Mmes. J. L. Horton and R. C. Miller.

Mrs. Charles Lloyd Gunn.

Gunn-Shanks Vows Spoken

A lovely June bride is the former Miss Margaret Grace Shanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Shanks of Palos Verdes Estates, who recited vows with Ens. Charles Lloyd Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Gunn of Western Springs, Ill., in the Neighborhood Congregational Church in Palos Verdes Estates. The wedding took place at seven o'clock the evening of June 18 with Rev. Richard Dawson officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in white Chantilly lace over satin styled with lace jacket. Tiers of net over white satin formed the bouffant skirt. A tiara of orange blossoms held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of pale pink roses, feathered white carnations and stephanotis.

The bridal party consisted of Mrs. R. L. Folger, only sister of the bride, matron of honor; Janet Gunn, only sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid; Don Keene, best man; John A. Bauman and Fred Noble, ushers; Robert Gordon Folger, ring bearer, and Margaret Susan Folger, flower girl.

A reception took place at the Shanks home following the ceremony. While her husband is on active service as a naval officer, the bride will remain with her parents and in the fall plans to attend UCLA. The couple honeymooned in Yosemite Valley.

The former Miss Shanks, a graduate of Wilson High, attended UC at Berkeley and Oregon State College, where she was an Alpha Gamma Delta. Her husband, a member of Theta Xi, attended University of Illinois and is a graduate of Oregon State College.

Mrs. William Thomas Shailer

Sherry Jones, William Shailer Say Vows in Lakewood Church

Lakewood Village Church was the setting Friday evening for the marriage of the former Miss Sherry Agnes Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Jones of 3061 Chestnut Ave., and William Thomas Shailer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Beck of 1850 Lime Ave. An all-white floral theme prevailed in the church and parish hall where the reception took place immediately following the vow exchange.

Chaplain W. R. Hall officiated in the presence of many Southland friends of the popular young pair. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin and a lace and tulle cap entwined with seed pearls held her fingertip veil. She carried an arm bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

In the bridal entourage were Mrs. Marvene Walker, matron of honor; Misses Elizabeth Allen and Louise Cain, bridesmaids, all in light blue embroidered organza frocks. They carried daisies. Serving as best man was John Pflaum and ushers were Daniel McCurdy of Pasadena, Glenn Collingswood and Hoyt Hayden. Hostesses at the reception were Mmes. Louise Hayden, Agnes Collingswood, Louise Bingham of Fontana and Miss Elizabeth Hayden.

The couple left by plane for Mexico City to revisit points of interest. In the summer of 1948 both attended the University of Mexico City. They are graduates of Poly High and LBCC. While in college, the bride was a member of Tjane Piger, Alethea and Alpha Mu Gamma. Her husband, also a graduate of UC at Berkeley, received his bachelor of arts and master's degrees in Spanish and was a member of Sigma Delta Pi and Alpha Mu Gamma, Spanish society.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jones was dressed in a navy frock accented with rose accessories and a pink orchid. Mrs. Beck chose a navy dress and wore a white orchid.

Mrs. Zietan Gives Brunch

Mrs. T. H. Zietan, chairman of Group Y of Ebell Club, was hostess at a brunch in the new Garden Grove home of her daughter, Mrs. Hamilton E. Young, honoring newly installed officers of the group. Assisting was Mrs. Robert T. Zietan.

Chef of the Week

Prominent Merchant Noted for Many Civic Interests

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

His childhood memories take him back to Lithuania . . . but when Aaron Schultz decided to move bag 'n' baggage to the shores of these United States, he came straight to Long Beach. That was in 1923.

Scenic Tour Concluded

Mr. and Mrs. George Hair of 23 Lime Ave. have returned from a four-week vacation trip which took them by plane to many interesting scenic spots in Mexico and Central America. Leaving by Pan-American Air Lines for Mexico City, where they spent 10 days, they enjoyed side trips to Taxco, a silver mining town in the mountains. Access to the town is by narrow, cobbled streets. While in Taxco, they were enthralled with the quaint shops which offer lovely silver and other objects for sale.

Another side trip took them to Acapulco where they stayed at the Las Americas Hotel, situated on top of a high cliff where they dined under the stars each night. It was while here that they were joined by four other couples and the group enjoyed dancing, swimming, sailing, bridge by the poolside, and other vacation activities.

From there the Long Beach travelers flew to Guatemala City. They took a Clark Tour up to the Mayan Highlands to a town 160 miles back in the mountains, where the Indians come for miles around, barfoot and with great loads on their backs, to hie paid "prayers" to pray for them on the cathedral steps. On one Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Hair estimated there were about 4000 of them at the market.

They next flew to Merida, Yucatan, and on to Cuba and Nassau for brief sojourns. They found Nassau disappointing, as it was very hot and it was their lot to arrive on the Queen's birthday when everything in the entire town was closed.

Going from Nassau to Miami, they were glad to find themselves in the United States once again and celebrated by buying hamburgers and hot dogs. Next they visited Atlanta where they attended the American Collectors convention. Mr. Hair is a national officer and they remained there a week to attend the sessions and the festivities arranged for the delegates.

Engaging in the furniture vocation with his brother, the business has expanded and progressed from a small store at Broadway at Elm . . . to American Ave . . . to Pine Ave . . . to an exclusive maple store on Pacific . . . to Pacific Coast Highway . . . to Bellflower . . . to the City of Anaheim . . . then to uptown Atlantic. He now maintains two stores in Long Beach, 317 American and 4321 Atlantic. Goodwill and civic interest have been his policies right from the start.

The first statement is evidenced by his successful enterprise . . . and the second by the fact that he is now serving as president of the Convention Bureau and on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Long Beach Retailers Assn. The Red Cross and Community Chest drives are well aware of his presence and enthusiasm each year. Also, he is a past president of the Furniture Dealers' Assn., and vice president of the sponsor group for the City of Hope . . . but to prove his abilities and talents as an extremely alert civic leader . . . he's the new vice president of Miss Universe Pageant.

First and foremost a family man, Schultz may be found atop a horse or fishing in the company of his two sons, 24 and 21 . . . up in a tree with a grandchild . . . or tumbling on the floor with one too young to climb. Really a kid at heart, he rarely misses a cowboy or detective story which his own personal TV set has to offer, and he can toss around with the best (or the worst) of wrestlers. Mrs. Schultz dials in her own TV in another room.

Our "chef" captures every opportunity for kitchen puttering, and can successfully execute two dishes . . . one of which is Finkuchen (Old Fashioned Omelet), his recipe for today.

FINKUCHEN

(Old Fashioned Omelet)
Break eggs into a bowl and beat by hand slowly, so not to break the fibres. Then add salt and pepper to taste. Take an empty frying pan and warm the pan with hot water. Place a chunk of butter in the pan and after it has melted pour the eggs over the melted butter. Cook over a moderate flame. Do not turn the eggs over as they will stay fluffy on top.

Members of the Lynes family, originally from Iowa, gathered for their annual reunion a few days ago at Silverado Clubhouse.

A basket luncheon was served at noon, followed by a business session conducted by President George Kline. Mrs. Dorothy Kline, secretary, read a letter of greeting from Lynes family members of Iowa, who held their family reunion in Plainfield, Iowa, this year.

Pictures of the group were taken and officers elected for the coming year as follows: Harlan Lynes of Garden Grove, president; Mrs. Stanley Doolittle of Long Beach, vice president; Mrs. Loretta Lynes of Garden Grove, secretary.

Attending were Messrs. and Mrs. Leo H. Lynes, Earl Lynes, Walter Swinton, Henry McKay, Harlan Lynes, Ed McLavy, Tom Arnold, Stanley Doolittle, William McLaren, George Kline, Mrs. Blanche Miller, Florence Woods, Ruth Chestnut, Norma Beu, Swanie Farnsworth, Misses Laura Cawlishaw, Janet Lynes, Norma Jean, Harold Chestnut, Joe Dines, and the following children:

Louie and Bill Lynes, Stevie and Sandra Arnold, Tommy and Nancy Doolittle, Ruth Ann, Cindy and Willie McLaren, Edward, Karen and Kathy Kline, Sharon and Mary Woods, Kenneth, Stevie and Barbara Beu.

He's Driving His Cares Away!

There's a great industrialist in Detroit, and a well-known scientist in New York, and a famous statesman in Washington who will tell you that the best way to relax from the cares of the day is to get behind the wheel of a 1953 Cadillac.

And there are also thousands upon thousands of other Cadillac owners throughout America who will gladly add supporting testimony to these revealing statements.

For these motorists know, from their own personal experience, that there is no faster or surer way to relax and refresh than to take to the highway with a smooth, comfortable, quiet Cadillac car.

It makes a man feel good just to sit behind the wheel. As he glances about his Cadillac's gracious interior, he's reminded that he has made something out of his years—and that, in itself, gives a lift to his spirits.

And then, once he's out on the highway—well, he's as happy and contented and trouble-free as it's possible for a motorist to be.

He is surrounded with comfort—and his driving is so relaxing and effortless and enjoyable that his mind clears, as the miles go by—and his heart grows gay and his outlook bright and hopeful.

He has literally driven his cares away!

You really ought to try it sometime. Come to think of it, you ought to try it today . . . after your day's work is done.

The car is waiting—and so are we.

• High (6,000 feet) over the yawning canyons of the West, a young girl cavorted recently in what could be the Dance of the Century. Her name: Sally McCloskey, chorus girl from Las Vegas' plush Sands Hotel.

The place: the gravelly summit of Angel's Peak.

Her task: to interpret the greatest drama of our time in dance rhythms. For high over her sinuous, leaping form rose a symbol no eye could miss: the pale, rising cloud of an atomic bomb just exploded 40 miles away.

FERRUCCIO TAGLIAVINI: the judges had to beg him . . .

Papa said: "SING!"

IN A TINY cellar workshop in the Italian village of Reggio Emilia, a youngster was tinkering with a dismantled radio set.

Suddenly from upstairs came his father's voice: "Son, it's time to practice your scales."

"But Papa," the boy said, "this radio . . . I must fix it today."

"That can wait, son," said his father. "Singing is more important."

Grumbling, the boy stamped upstairs, went to the piano and began to sing scales. The clear soprano tones came effortlessly from his throat.

• At church the following Sunday, where he sang a solo at Mass, a listener turned to his neighbor and whispered: "Il piccolo Caruso."

• That means "little Caruso." It was the highest compliment the people of Reggio Emilia could pay young Ferruccio Tagliavini.

Finally, He Gave In

But singing didn't interest him. He wanted to be an electrical engineer.

Papa Tagliavini had other ideas. He talked his son into entering a voice contest in Parma. To please his father, Ferruccio—who had never had a lesson in his life—sang an old Italian folk song his father had taught him.

• Then and there, the judges offered him a scholarship. He refused. They begged. Papa Tagliavini begged. Finally, Ferruccio gave in.

• At that moment, the world lost an electrical engineer, but gained a tenor. At his Metropolitan Opera debut, in 1947, Tagliavini received what critics called the greatest ovation given a tenor since Caruso.

Is he sorry he gave up electrical engineering?

"Not in the least," he says. "You see, Papa knew best."

On the 250th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley, his church's founder, a leading Methodist clergyman outlines a sound new program that tells . . .

How to Uncover

. . . without throwing mud on innocent people. Here is a

He Has a Program to Protect Us All

. . . from false attacks on our reputations. Yet Bishop Oxnam (above) says: Communist conspirators must be discovered, tried, and if guilty, punished.

COMMUNISM is a clear and present danger. It constitutes the most menacing challenge to freedom and faith of recent centuries.

Governments of free societies are obligated to protect themselves from subversion. That the Communist Party is a conspiracy, no informed man would deny. Conspirators must be discovered, tried, and, if found guilty, punished.

That is plain truth.

Congress has the right and the duty to conduct investigations to secure the information upon which sound legislation may be based.

Upon this, nearly all Americans are agreed.

► But we dare not, in the name of combatting Communism, allow the practices of the police state to be established in our free state.

Some investigating committees have set up or condoned practices that strike at the very foundation of American freedom.

The "files" on individuals prepared by its staff for the House Committee on Un-American Activities are a case in point.

They are not made up of evidence collected by competent investigators. They are composed, all too often, of newspaper clippings, letterheads, or mere hearsay.

It Could Happen to You

SUCH FILES are released—yet the Committee assumes no responsibility for their accuracy. Private agencies sometimes reproduce these files, and declare that they are quoting from the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

► Thus an individual, never interviewed, never heard, never studied, can be misrepresented to the public by a "file," officially released, but for which the Committee assumes no responsibility as to accuracy.

This is a subversive practice, in my opinion. It is at once un-American, and a threat to the liberty of each of us. (Suppose it happened to you!)

Can we protect ourselves from the Communist threat and at the same time protect the American citizen from such practices?

We must. What good does it do to cry out against the totalitarian threat to freedom if we adopt methods that enslave us? No Communist could want more than to see us divided, suspicious, without trust, fearful, defensive.

What can be done?

Some time ago the Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American activities, Mr. Harold Velde, of Illinois, asked me to propose

Communists

By BISHOP G. BROMLEY OXNAM

OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

"must" article for every American man and woman . . .

reforms in the practices of his committee.

I offered him a step-by-step program. It was designed to do vitally important things:

► To provide the concrete, factual information our Government must have to root out the Communist menace; and

► To provide ample protection for any private citizen—yourself or myself—against damaging rumors, suspicions or hearsay which could not be proved.

That program I believe to be good. I also believe that it, or a program like it, is absolutely necessary if we are to preserve freedom. Here it is—and let me urge you to consider it calmly and coolly, as you would anything likely to affect your safety and welfare:

1. No file on any person should mention any organization to which he has belonged—unless that organization has been declared subversive by the Attorney General.

2. But suppose the person has belonged to an organization which has been declared subversive? Then . . .

a. the fact must be proved positively and definitely, and not merely by means of newspaper reports or listings on letterheads; and

b. even if membership is established, it must also be shown that it was voluntary and active after the date when the organization became subversive. (Is that difficult to follow? It means simply this: nobody should have it held against him if he joined a perfectly above-board organization, then got out before that organization was taken over or perverted by Communists. That's simply good sense.)

Always Give Both Sides

3. A man ought to be able to see his own file—and to submit evidence and testimony of his own.

4. If parts of the file are released, the man's own side should be released, too.

5. Nobody besides the person involved, the committee members and other members of Congress ought to see files before they have been reviewed and found accurate. Only then should they be released—by a majority vote.

To me, this outline seems a straightforward way of going about investigations.

It makes sure that when the Government has information about a person, that information is reliable.

It gives any man whose reputation is questioned a chance to speak for himself. It also recognizes a fact which I think every American should consider. This is it:

We all know that the Communists infiltrate and "take over" organizations. Yet many of these organizations may have served worthy and patriotic purposes before Reds undermined them.

Thus we must recognize that membership in an organization in one year is quite a different thing from membership years later. Yet this fact is not now always recognized. Sometimes the public is led to believe that membership in 1920 in an organization amounts to the same thing as membership in 1950.

Often this is not true—and it is almost never true in organizations which Communists have taken over.

Would This Destroy Inquiries?

ONE MEMBER of the House Committee, Rep. Kit Clardy, of Michigan, is reported to have declared these proposals would "utterly destroy the investigating process."

I think he is wrong. They would, I believe, strengthen the investigative results.

But I think he would be tempted to agree with me that even these proposals are not the whole story.

For the fact is that our fight against Communism must take place on a far broader battlefield than merely in the files of Congressional investigating committees.

Again, what must we do? I believe:

1. The conspirator—the real Communist—must be discovered. Our F.B.I. is qualified to ferret him out. Its thorough work, its loyalty to American traditions, and its splendid leader, J. Edgar Hoover, justify the recommendation that the task of discovering conspirators be turned over 100% to the F.B.I.

2. We should continue to investigate un-American activities. We should continue to pass laws to defeat them. But we must recognize that committees composed of busy members of Congress have neither the time nor the skill for the vital task of exposing Communist thinking so we can see its lies.

3. The Church is one of our most effective agencies in destroying the Communist threat to freedom. The Church, teaching faith in God, strikes at the fundamental error of Communism, which is atheism. The Church, in teaching a spiritual view of life, undermines the Communist philosophy of materialism. Clergymen and laymen who are really qualified, both educationally and spiritually, can best perform this task.

4. Our public school system, staffed by competent, patriotic and devoted teachers, stands as our fundamental wall of democracy.

Doubts cast on the patriotism of the schools have played into the hands of the Communists. It is here that we must turn for the education that shows the student the real challenge of Communism. It is here that the fundamental principles of the free society are to be taught.

In my opinion, the men best qualified to get at the real menace of Marx are qualified professors, like Sidney Hook, or Reinhold Niebuhr of Union Theological Seminary; or Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of the Roman Catholic Church.

5. The leaders of American labor, such as Walter Reuther, George F. Meaney and David Dubinsky, are men to whom we must turn to end the Communist threat in labor ranks.

6. The American press, the American radio and American television can expose Communism. They can do so in keeping with American tradition, until the nation is fully informed and makes its own decision in its own way.

7. Lately, bills have been introduced into Congress by Rep. Jacob Javits and Rep. Kenneth Keating to correct un-American committee procedures. These should be studied, and I believe supported.

Is this enough? Perhaps not.

Perhaps the real solution is a rededication of each of us to the principles of free America, and to God. As a churchman, I am profoundly convinced this is the final solution we all seek.

Men like these can do the job:

BISHOP SHEEN, of Catholic Church, is top clerical foe of Reds (see story).

SIDNEY HOOK, of New York University, shows holes in Reds' arguments.

REINHOLD NIEBUHR, a Protestant leader, has exposed Reds' atheism.

MAE "walks the wire" with professional ease. She began on a low wire, three feet off the ground. In three weeks she graduated to a wire 15 feet high.

She learns it in school

SHE WAVES from a calliope painted by her classmates. The high school troupe travels around Sarasota and Clearwater giving shows. All proceeds are used to buy needed school supplies.

Mae says rolling around in giant hoop is easier than it looks.

■ This coed does her 'homework' on a high wire!

PRETTY Mae Routh, 18, didn't have to run away from home to join the circus.

Mae learned how to walk a tightrope and do trapeze work right at Sarasota High School, during gym periods.

Three years ago, school authorities decided to add a circus instruction course to its athletic program.

The idea has been a big success. Over 500 youngsters have learned juggling acts, trick horseback riding, clown numbers and all the traditional Big Top routines.

How does it feel to get on the high wire? Says Mae:

"It looked like a long way down. Then I got used to it. I fell only once—when I was climbing up a guy wire to the platform."

She Learned Poise

MANY OF Mae's school mates will continue their circus careers with Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus which has its winter headquarters here.

But not Mae. She plans to settle down and raise a family.

"But I'm glad I learned aerial work," she says. "It taught me poise." ■

So Fast You Need A Stopwatch To Time Its Speed!

When racket meets ball with an explosive "poing!", the tennis player's service streaks over the net at up to 120 m.p.h.—so fast you need a stopwatch to time its speed! The same is true with Bayer Aspirin. It starts disintegrating almost instantly—so fast you need a stopwatch to time its speed. That's one reason why Bayer Aspirin relieves ordinary headache—makes you feel better—fast!

COMPARE!

Drop the headache tablet you now use in one glass of water—drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet in another—and see how fast each of them disintegrates.

They know it's all in fun

CANVAS "gloves" keep them from getting serious cuts.

MRS. OLENKAMP signals for bout to begin with a gong.

PARAMOUNT, Calif.

MRS. PEGGY OLENKAMP banged a gong. Two 1,000-pound Palomino stallions trotted into a square corral behind E. Olenkamp's hay store here.

Nervously, they circled each other. Then they rose and with canvas-wrapped forefeet, slugged like heavy-weight fighters!

Mrs. Olenkamp rang the bell again. The stallions trotted back to their corners.

"Joker" and "Silver Star" had just finished a sparring session. This is how they keep in shape for fighting at horse shows.

"You see," says Olenkamp, "they know it's all in fun. When I fell down once, they stopped fighting and waited till I got up again."

OLENKAMP referees the bouts. It took him a year to train the horses. Usually, they slug like fighters. But sometimes they forget and take an illegal nip at each other.

● In a furious round, "Silver Star" and "Joker" rear to full height, fail to hear bell at end of bout.

COOLS YOUR CAR

• A new air conditioner that can be installed in your present car in 1 hour is said to make driving comfortable on hottest days. It's a blower type with a water pump and operates like a home cooler. It's powered off the fan belt. Cooler mounts on front floor over the "hump" in center, leaving leg room for 2 in the front seat. It can be removed in 3 minutes when you wish. Complete unit costs $79.50. For details, write: G & S Mfg., Dept. PP, 2824 E. Washington, Phoenix, Ariz.

EASY REPLACEMENT SEATS: You can slip these new seats on lawn or deck chairs in a few minutes. Fold edges around rungs, put screws in grommets and tighten with coin. Of porous plastic that won't weaken, rip or fade, maker says. $2.49. DOWNES & CO., Dept. PP, Evanston, Ill.

BABY SITTER

• Want to keep tabs on baby even when you can't see him? Plug in a small electronic device near his crib as you would a lamp--no wiring needed. It acts as a wireless transmitter so sensitive you can hear baby's breathing when you tune in a radio anywhere in the house, basement, yard or nearby neighbor's home. Unit is also good for bedridden people and can be used, too, as home broadcasting station or public address system. $19.95. SEMCO ELECTRONICS, Dept. P, 103 Lafayette St., New York 13, N. Y.

FOR PICNICS & TRIPS: This portable cooler weighs only 2 lbs. and holds 12 bottles. Keeps beverages or food cold 12 to 24 hours—or hot for 6 hours. Shoulder strap has bottle opener attached. Opens to 9" x 9" x 11", folds to 9" x 9" x 3". In red, green, blue or chartreuse. $5.95. DOMESTIC FILM, Box 170, Millersburg, O.

TWO-WAY TRAY: Here's a good-looking ash tray that becomes a flower bowl when you need it. Wire fingers hold cigarettes securely, snuff them out. You can drop flowers between fingers, anchor stems in the removable flower arranger, moisten sand in bottom. 7 3/8" diameter, baked enamel on aluminum, in colors. $2.95. FORTUNE HOUSE, 742 Market, Dept. P., San Francisco 2, Calif.

PROTECTS YOUR HOME

• Here's a way to make keyhole door locks tamper-proof. A new device fits in the keyhole as a 1-piece unit. A turn and it becomes 2 separate parts, one a removable key and the other a "plug" which stays in the lock and is said to make it tamper-proof. $1. NOLAND-LENT, INC., Dept. P, 9268 West 3rd St., Beverly Hills, Calif.

COLOR BLEND PUTTY

• To fill nail holes or imperfections in natural finish woods, you can get putty sticks in colors. Just rub in holes, wipe off surplus. Comes in 6 shades. $2.29. FOREST INTERIORS, 1218 E. Cherry, Seattle, Wash.

NEW YORK.

Ezio Pinza, 59, asked to pose for his portrait, squirmed, fiddled with his collar, rubbed his eyes and looked nervous.

The occasion: the National Amateur Art Festival where he volunteered to act as a model while artist Sidney Dickinson demonstrated his technique of painting oil portraits to 300 art lovers.

At the start (above) Pinza calmly followed directions. Later, he learned what every model knows: posing is hard work. At last (below, right) he saw his picture.

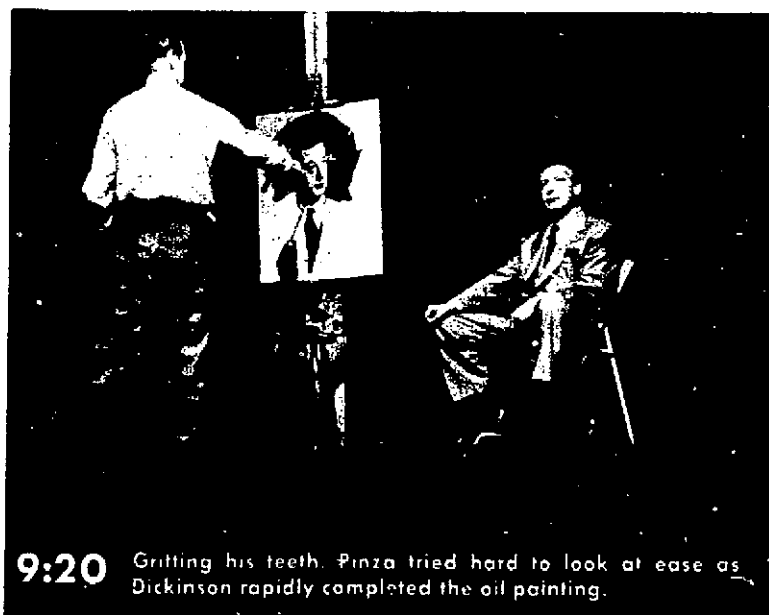

"Ha," he said. "Look how calm I was!"

9:00 Getting weary, he rubbed his eyes and straightened his back.

9:12 "Phew!" he exclaimed, loosening his collar. "Almost done?"

9:20 Gritting his teeth, Pinza tried hard to look at ease as Dickinson rapidly completed the oil painting.

9:30 "Fine," said Pinza when Dickinson showed him the picture. "Of course, this is how I felt all the time."

CLERK Elaine Stanley: "I don't think young folks should have to pay $20 license fees. I think mowing lawns is fun. Kids try to earn spare money all over the country that way. It's a good, old American custom. . . ."

TRUCK DRIVER George W. Crain: "I think the whole thing has been pushed by the gardeners. Heck! Didn't those gardeners make spare money that way themselves when they were kids? . . ."

SHOPKEEPER Mrs. Margaret Smoll: "I don't think it's right, clamping down on youngsters like that. Other people go out and clean houses and don't need licenses for that. The boys aren't in competition. . . ."

Is It a Crime for Kids to

An old American custom conflicts with a city law . . . as two boys try to earn pocket

'THE CULPRITS': Buddy Phillips, left, and Paul Paulsen were mowing a lawn when a city inspector told them to stop. (The boys have since decided to quit the lawn mowing business.)

LONG BEACH, Calif.
ON A SUNNY Saturday afternoon not long ago, two husky teen-aged athletes were mowing a lawn at 2227 Cedar Avenue.

It was their last job for the day. Paul Paulsen, 18, and Buddy Phillips, 16, were happily dreaming up ways to spend their modest earnings $3 each.

Paul was in the back yard cutting the grass with his father's power mower, and Buddy was edging in front of the house.

Suddenly a man pulled up in a car.

The man walked over to Buddy and asked, "Do you have a license for this, for mowing lawns?"

Surprised, Buddy stammered, "No, I didn't know you had to have a license for mowing a lawn."

"Is this your house?" the man asked. Buddy said, "No."

What Goes On?

BY THIS TIME, Paul had come around front to find out what was going on. The man asked him the same questions; got the same answers.

Then he introduced himself as an inspector from the Treasurer-Tax Collector's office. Pointing to Buddy's 1940 coupe with the trunk open and a shovel sticking out, he informed the boys that they were in a commercial business.

He served them with a notice to appear at City Hall within 7 days and pay $15 for a partial license—or stop mowing lawns.

Then he drove away.

"I just thought he was a loony at first," says Buddy, a baseball player and student at Long Beach Polytechnic High School.

'We Wouldn't Pay . . .'

WE KNEW that we weren't going to pay for that license," Paul, a golfer at Long Beach City College, adds. "We couldn't afford to pay $15, just for mowing two or three lawns one day a week and making only $3 apiece. We figured we'd just go out of business."

So the boys went back to finishing their job.

But they reckoned without the neighbors. One man who had witnessed the scene called the Long Beach Press-Telegram.

Overnight, Paul Paulsen and Buddy Phillips became the center of a storm that broke like a thunderclap over City Hall.

Citizens wrote letters to the newspapers; editorial writers wrote editorials. People asked:

• How could anyone deprive boys of what seems like an in-

CITY ATTORNEY Kenneth E. Sutherland (see story): "If boys want to be in the lawn mowing business, they don't need a license unless they have their equipment in a vehicle on the streets. I favor kids mowing. . . ."

HOUSEWIFE Mrs. Marjorie Holmer: "I hope they don't ask my little boy Dick to get a license when he's older! It doesn't seem possible that a city should do such a thing. Boys should be able to earn money. . . ."

Mow Lawns . . . ?

money simply by doing some plain hard work

alienable American right to earn pocket money by lawn mowing?

Then city officials explained that the boys were not cited for mowing lawns, but for transporting their equipment without a license.

But for Paul and Buddy it's the same thing. Says Paul:

• "We use our own mower (the Paulsen family mower) because it's easy to run. Have you ever tried to mow a lawn with someone else's equipment, the way some people don't take care of it and let it get rusty?"

Commented the Long Beach Press-Telegram: "It is a penalty on the youngsters for putting to test the theory of private enterprise, about which they have heard so much."

Parents Were Upset

THEIR PARENTS were upset, too. Said Paul's father:

"I think the law should be modified to allow teenagers to transport lawn mowers owned by their parents. I don't feel that boys doing part-time jobs like this should have to pay for any licenses. I think the whole thing is outrageous."

And Buddy's father adds:

• "What about these kids who hang around pool halls and beer parlors? They'd be better off mowing lawns.

"At least they ought to prorate the licenses—let the kids pay $1 or $2. My opinion is that the vehicle angle had nothing to do with the citation—the city only brought that out because there was such a fuss raised about it. Kids can't carry power mowers on their backs!

"I'm not really concerned about my own boy. But what about all the other boys in America doing this?"

Official Reaction

WHAT'S THE TOWN going to do about it? City Manager Samuel E. Vickers clamped the lid down on any discussion of the problem. He says it's a matter for City Council.

"I think the whole thing is a tempest in a teapot," says City Prosecuting Attorney Kenneth E. Sutherland. "Nothing will really happen to the boys."

Council was warned by its finance director, S. M. Roberts, to go slowly on making any changes in the code. (Long Beach collects $20 a year from 300 gardeners.)

But the councilmen passed an amendment to exclude boys under 19 from paying the fee.

They were quite obviously on the spot. For Long Beach citizens were annoyed (see pictures).

JULES MONTENIER, CHICAGO

VISHNIAC takes pictures of live bugs in a glass.

They're just like people...

... and an expert tells you why

NEW YORK.

ARE YOU a bug squasher? Or do you scream when some strange water animal brushes your bare toes? If so, a photographer-scientist named Roman Vishniac has news. "Water bugs," says he, "are really just like little children—curious and playful."

Vishniac, a biologist who turned photographer when he escaped the Red regime in Russia 33 years ago, likes to show people that bugs, too, can be wonderful.

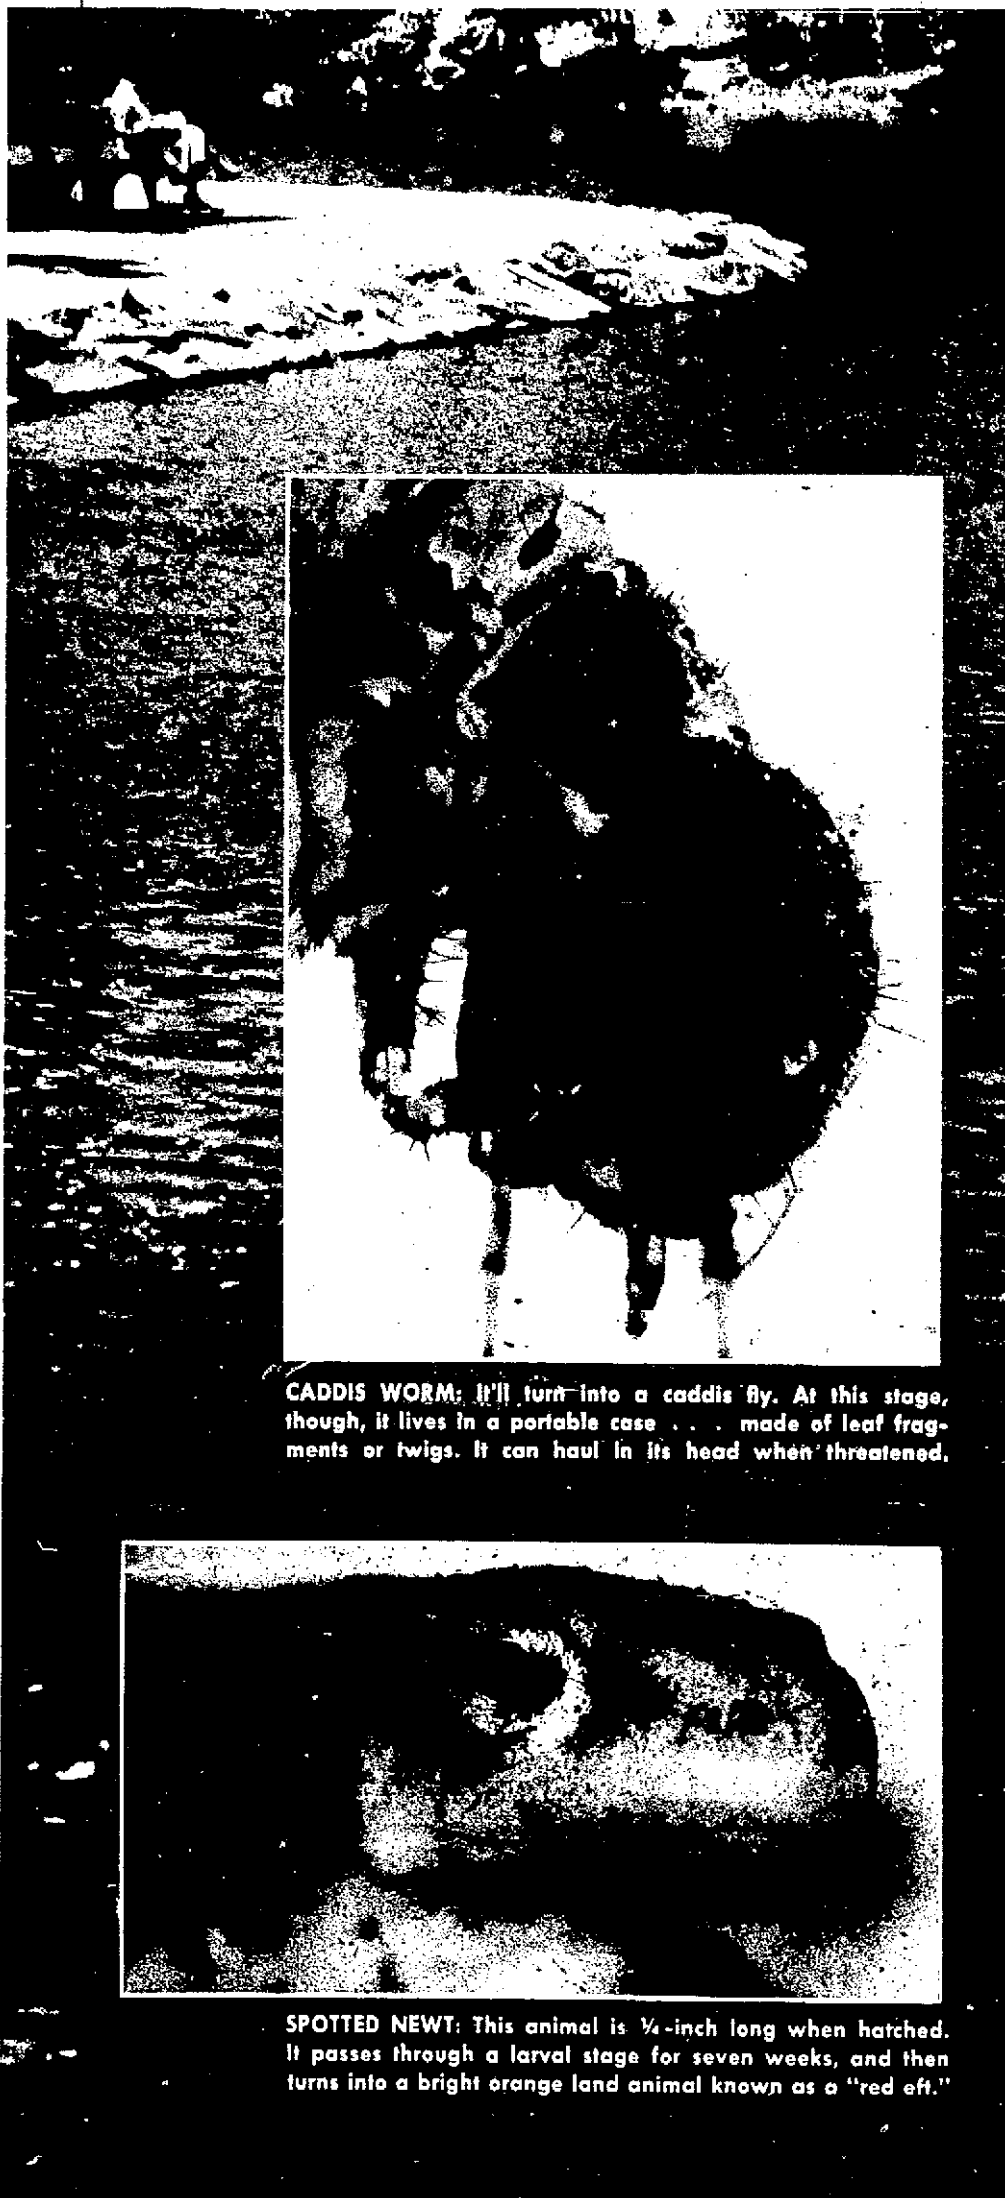

Not long ago, he spent 28 days wading in boots through a pond in Putnam County, N. Y. His purpose: to get this gallery of bug portraits for PARADE.

Vishniac put his camera and flashgun in an ordinary aquarium, and partly sank it in 15 inches of water. Though you can see all these bugs without a microscope, his camera magnified them about five times.

"Usually I didn't have to wait long to take a picture," says Vishniac. "Something is always happening in the water. It is full of life."

"But I had to use patience. Take the case of the water scorpion. I spent six hours teasing him out of hiding by focusing sunlight into the water with a shaving mirror.

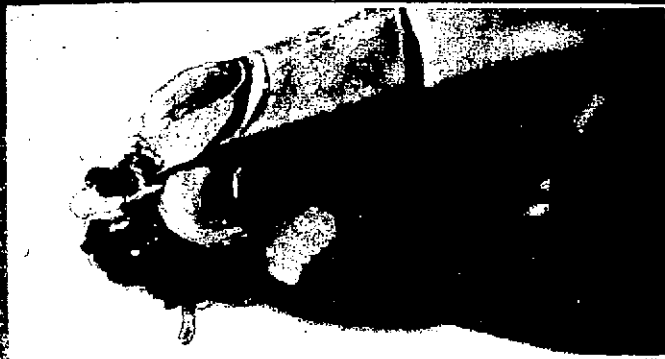

"Just like a kid, he finally had to come out and see what was going on!"

CADDIS WORM: It'll turn into a caddis fly. At this stage, though, it lives in a portable case . . . made of leaf fragments or twigs. It can haul in its head when threatened.

SPOTTED NEWT: This animal is 1/4-inch long when hatched. It passes through a larval stage for seven weeks, and then turns into a bright orange land animal known as a "red eft."

WHIRLIGIG BEETLE: This beetle cruises in circular courses on water's surface, feeding on dead insects. Note divided eyes. Half the eye looks up out of water and half looks down.

DIVING BEETLE: Note the wedge-like point formed by beetle's head. It carries air under wings, dives to kill weaker insects.

DAMSEL FLY: This is the larva of the damsel fly, a delicate version of the common dragonfly. Slender and pale green, these larvae (or nymphs) eat vegetation and mosquito larvae.

WATER BOATMAN: Despite its formidable face, this bug is a harmless vegetarian. It swims jerkily.

WATER SCORPION: Hardest of all water bugs to photograph (see story), this feeds on insects, fish.

TADPOLE: Nearly every boy has raised one of these. Tadpoles are the larvae of frogs. Though tadpoles breathe like fish, they turn completely into air-breathing animals.

Best Pickpocket

tips on how to protect yourself from . . . pickpockets

NEW YORK.

PROBABLY the most successful pickpocket in the world today is a 22-year-old Frenchman simply named Dominique. I first met him in a local police precinct where he was being fingerprinted and "mugged"—in order to get a license to work in a New York nightclub.

Along with other members of the cast imported from Paris by M. Martini for his French Casino, Dominique was asked to jot down his occupation on the license form. He wrote in the word "pickpocket" and the police clerk almost fell off his chair.

When asked for an explanation, Dominique pointed out that he is a pickpocket only during his act. He picks pockets and snatches watches, furs, jewelry and even suspenders from unsuspecting nightclub patrons. When he returns them, everybody howls, including the victims. Occasionally, a tipsy customer or a stuffed shirt tries to throw a punch at him, but the onlookers laugh even louder.

Taught by Experts

HE'S A MASTER CRAFTSMAN in the art of proving that the dishonest hand is quicker than the honest eye. He studied under some of the best dips in Paris.

Rather lonely when he first arrived in New York, he picked up an acquaintanceship with a patron who came to watch him six nights running. Then a cop ambled in one night and put an end to the friendship. The fan was a well-known dip. As the cop led him away, he turned to Dominique and said, "Thanks for the lessons!"

ON USO tour of Korean front, Mala Powers refused to let sickness stop her front-line appearances.

I'm Living My

In a gripping, real-life story, Mala Powers

MALA POWERS is just 21. She is one of Hollywood's most radiant personalities. And already she is living "her second life."

How did it happen?

The answer lies in an exciting story of personal courage. It's also a story of faith.

It starts months ago, on the Korean battlefield. It was winter. Mala Powers, then an RKO starlet, had arrived with a Hollywood troupe to entertain soldiers during the icy Christmas season.

On December 26th, after a long series of front-line appearances, Mala woke feeling miserable. "I was sure I could never get out of bed again," she said later. "But we had to go 60 miles to another post. They wanted me to stay behind. I had visions of being stranded in Korea."

"I said, very fast: 'Oh, no, I'm coming with you. I'll be all right.'"

But when she reached the military post, a doctor gave her pills and put Absorbency, that doesn't fail—Kotex gives you the trustworthy kind of protection you need. And you get trustworthy softness, too, for Kotex is made to stay soft while wearing.

Holds its shape—without twisting, roping or pulling. That's why this napkin retains its fit and comfort for hours.

'Second Life'

tells about the 'miracle' that saved her her to bed. Mala again felt bad. But she prayed: "Lord, I have three shows to do tomorrow for these boys. If you want me to get sick, let me get sick another time."

Next day she was well. She felt "good as new" for the rest of her two weeks in Korea. Then, en route to the U.S., she was feverish. Back in Hollywood, she suffered chills and fever — but wouldn't admit it.

For weeks she felt "awful." Doctors gave her wonder drugs. "In the morning," she says, "mother would bring me two aspirin and a glass of soda water so I could get to the studio." She went on working, making "City Beneath the Sea" (U-I).

Doctors took a blood count. Normal is 7,500 white corpuscles. Mala had only 1,000! Her family and friends were frantic with worry.

What's Really Wrong?

THEN physicians found the clue. The culprit was one of the "wonder drugs" Mala had been taking since her return from Korea. But if this was the cause of her illness, what was the cure?

Doctors didn't know. They called specialists. They gave her 40 transfusions, and other radical treatment. Still Mala lay in bed, listless and pale.

One day, feeling at rope's end, she called her mother. "What is really wrong with me?" she asked, desperately. "Make the doctors tell you! To fight something, you have to know what it is you're fighting."

But the doctors said: "We just don't know what's the matter. Dealing with wonder drugs, we're still on uncharted seas—just doing the best we can, and trying to keep you going."

But when they left, Mala Powers had herself wheeled into the hospital chapel. "Dear Christ," she whispered, "I know there's a reason for this. If you want me, take me. But if you want me, tell me what I must do before I die."

She Found an Answer

AN ANSWER, Mala says, came back — clear and strong. "It was not a voice," she says, "but it was inside, and all around me. And suddenly I knew I would live."

She began to gain, but she gained slowly.

Nine weeks later, Mala said: "I want to go home now. The hospital has done enough." She knew some doctors thought she'd always be an invalid. But she insisted on looking over TV and radio shows, then movie scripts.

Then she went to Chicago, and for three weeks she was busy on location. "I started to feel like a whole human being again," she said. Her blood count zoomed.

Today, Mala says: "So many people wonder what there is to life.

"When you are faced with losing it, you suddenly know.

"I tried very hard in the hospital to hold onto faith. I found faith is something so definite you can almost touch it. And that is my security.

"You can put it this way: Faith helped me help myself. I will never have to question, or wonder, any more. That is my miracle of life."

FULLY RECOVERED, Mala Powers looks back on her grim medical ordeal as a turning point in

VERTICALS BIG HIT IN L. B. HOME

This is what you have been looking for . . . a masterpiece of inventive genius built with gleaming vertical metal slats that can be closed or drawn aside like a draw drape. And at the same time . . . believe it or not . . . the slats can be turned by a touch on the Control Cord to produce any effect you desire . . . anything from full, unobstructed view to a mere whisper of light and complete privacy. There never has been such perfect "Light Control," such beauty, such color harmony for your windows. And there never was a more practical window covering . . . the satin smooth vertical aluminum slats shed dust like a pane of polished glass. No fading, no tapes, dust-free. If you like smart, modern things in your home, by all means come see these beautiful vertical Venetians. Available in a wide selection of colors. Complete information and demonstration is available at no charge or obligation. Please phone 7-3956.

Tiny Jewel of Nature

By Fern Hill Colman

TUSTIN.

THE Cinderella of the garden—that narrow, tree-shaded strip along the driveway—has been transformed with magic touch at the home of Mrs. Florence Stevens, 14332 Yorba St., Tustin. A bas-relief figure of an Oriental maiden, a winding stream with a series of quiet pools, and strategically-planted shrubs give this narrow space a feeling of depth and serenity and provides a memorable feature of the entire garden.

The area, perhaps 20x50 feet, is separated from the orange grove by a weathered grape-stake fence running parallel to the drive and turning at an angle to meet the driveway at the back. In this angle of the fence a handsome podcarpas, its drooping, fern-like foliage silhouetted against the fence, suggests a tree in an old Chinese print. Under these lacy boughs a little rock-rimmed pool brims over, cascades down a miniature rocky cliff into a quiet pool. From the pool, a tiny river curves between banks green with babies' tears with pink primroses along its brim. It swings in an arc, circling to the mottled trunk of a giant sycamore and enters a pool where two 30-year-old dwarf Japanese maples bend in quiet grace over the mirror-like pool.

From the maples the little stream meanders through a Lilliputian valley sodded with babies' tears, enters an oblong pool that, like a dark mirror reflects the image of the Oriental maiden poised daintily in a setting of lotus blossoms. The figure, done by Kay Finch of Corona Del Mar, is the feature of the garden.

THE MAGIC possessed by this little garden is that the entire landscape seems to flow in easy, leisurely fashion toward the dark pool and its reflected garden. The fence unites the Oriental shrubs silhouetted against it in a mural leading to the pool. The stream, threading its pools, unifies the garden. The pinks of camellias and primroses throughout the garden are repeated in a mass of color by a flowering peach arching over the weathered fence, sending drifts of pink snow into the tiny valleys, a shower of rosy petals drifting on the dark pool.

Course for Diamond Head

By Bob Ruskauff

INTO THE BAY of San Francisco, so the oft-told story goes, a doughty Corinthian from Honolulu and his crew sailed the staunch little schooner, La Paloma.

It was a gray and foreboding day. But what matter, with the welcome they knew would be forthcoming along the Embarcadero. Clarence Macfarlane had interested several San Francisco yachtsmen in a race back to Hawaii and the celebration should be great. But —

There was no welcoming committee. Yet San Franciscans were and have ever been royal hosts.

It just happened that the time choice was unfortunate. This was the day after the great San Francisco earthquake and fire. Businessmen-yachtsmen of the bay area, beginning to dig from ruins were regretful, but their minds, understandably, were not on yacht racing.

So La Paloma sailed south, seeking an adversary.

And on June 11, 1906 the first Honolulu race—to become the world's greatest—was born. Three yachts sailed from San Pedro. They were La Paloma, Charles Tutt's Annemone and H. H. Sinclair's Lunline, which completed the 2225-mile trip in the very good-time of 12 days, nine hours, 59 minutes.

GOOD TIME, INDEED! It was not until 1926 that the mark was bettered. Then it was by the largest yacht to enter the race up to that time. Don M. Lee's 136-foot steel schooner, Invader. Her time was 12:02:48:03.

On Saturday, July 4, at 11 a. m. and over a ½-mile starting line at outer Los Angeles harbor, a near-record fleet of exceeding 30 yachts, second greatest in history, will answer a starting cannon and sail away to the Isles of Romance in the 18th biennial edition of the Transpacific Race.

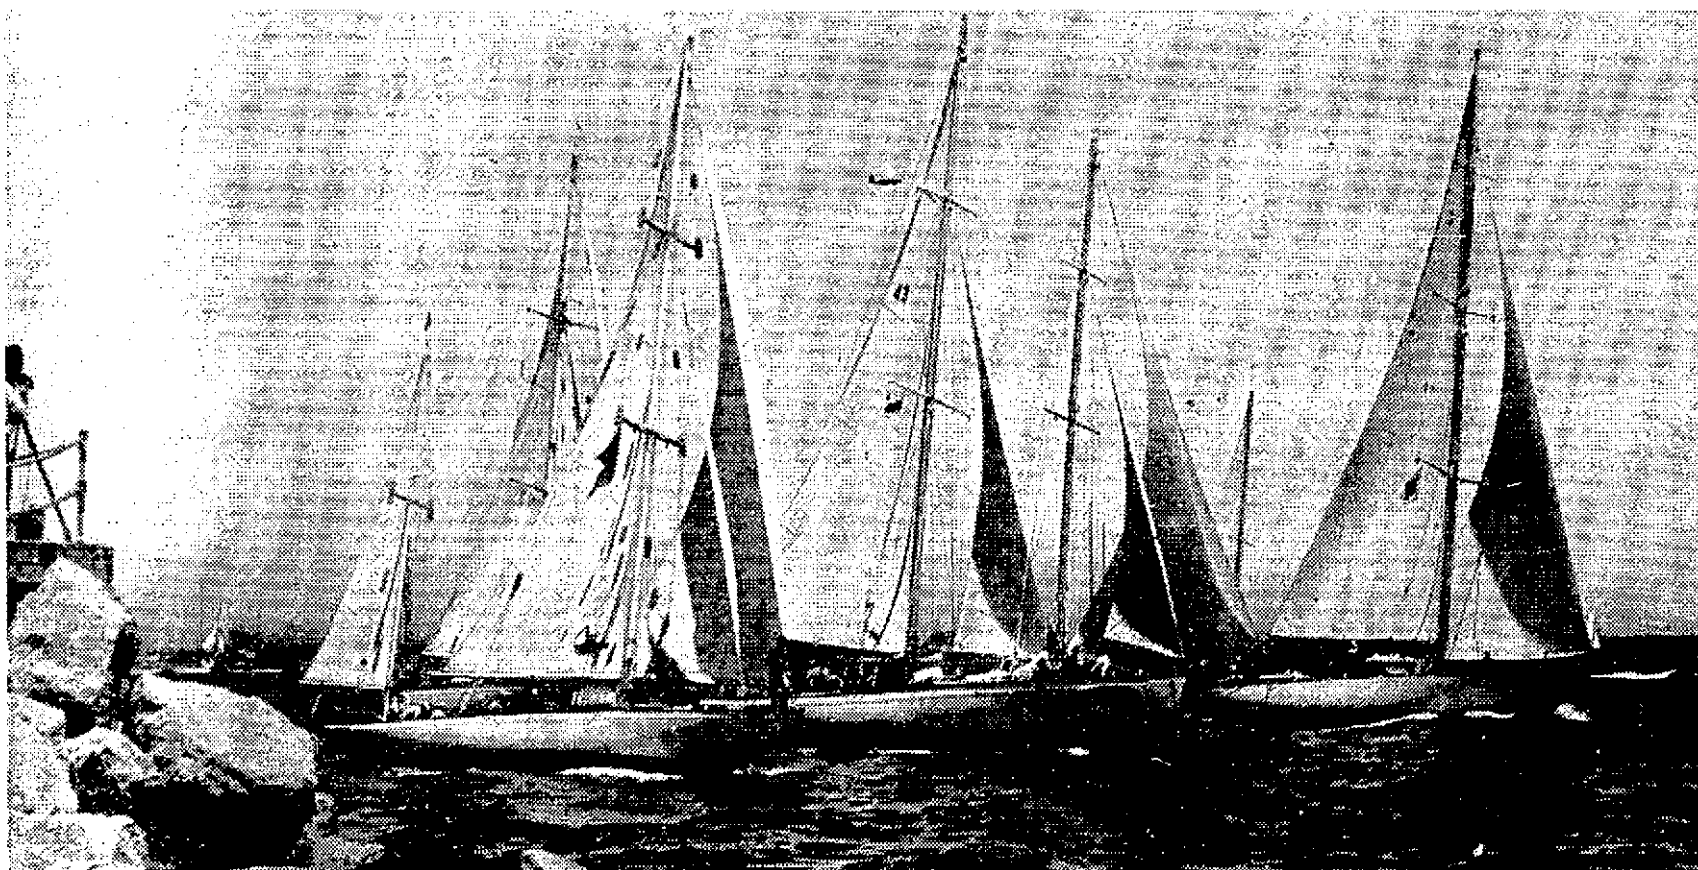

It is perhaps the best balanced fleet to ever compete. Enlisted are boats ranging upward from a sturdy little 36-foot yawl called Holganza, from Lafayette, Calif., to the largest sailing yacht commissioned on the Pacific Coast today.

She is Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner, Good Will. The veteran D. W. (Walt) Elliott of Long Beach is her Corinthian sailing master and Good Will

Sailing master of Good Will, largest entry in the race this year, will be D. W. (Walt) Elliott, Long Beach race skipper.

In a driving, dramatic start, yachts round the harbor breakwater to square away for Diamond Head. Record entry, in 1947, saw 34 yachts in competition.

CHRISTMAS IN JUNE

"Put that stuff back in your pack . . . can't you see it's June?" Rafael remonstrates with Santa Claus (Sam Fry) while Jimmie Burke points to the calendar.

By Vera Williams

BECAUSE JUNE is as far from Christmas as it is possible to get, Rafael, Long Beach hair stylist, had a Christmas party the other night.

It doesn't sound logical, but Rafael and his 28 guests say that the Christmas-in-June party was a lot of fun.

For the occasion, the host's

home, 1438 Linden Ave., was gay with Christmas lights, tinsel, Christmas bells and greenery.

Steaks were barbecued.

Then from the North Pole arrived Santa Claus — a convincing Santa with red suit and white whiskers. Santa carried a well filled pack and there was a general gift exchange, and a super gift for Charles Halsted, who is leaving to open the Aloha salon at Laguna Beach.

When they got around to it, host and guests sang "Joy to the World," "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells."

"The neighbors certainly asked a lot of questions the next morning," admits Rafael.

Lighting up from a Yule candle. Among guests were Jane Renfro and Don Burke.

Because she's a real scout with stage hands, Loretta Young is called a "Good Josephine" on the set.

HOLLYWOOD

She's a Real Scout

By Nancy Lester

LIKE MANY A seasoned movie trouper, Loretta Young knows the value of being a good scout to the stage hands.

Loretta, along with such dis-staff troupers as Joan Crawford, Barbara Stanwyck, Claudette Colbert, Irene Dunne and other movie personalities who have been in the top starring brackets for a long time, has the enviable reputation of being absolute tops with the boys and gals behind the sound stage scenes.

"She's a real Josephine," says prop man Eddie Keys who handled the propping chore on Universal-International's "It Happens Every Thursday," in which Loretta stars with John Forsythe. "She's one gal we'll never have to give 'the treatment' to."

The "treatment" is a well-known method of bring upstaging film players to their senses. It has been used effectively ever since the making of such silent epics as "The Birth of a Nation" and "Tillie's Punctured Romance." It consists simply of complete ostracism of the player by the technical crews.

ONE CULPRIT, who talked about his case recently, recalled that it took him four months to break down a silent movie crew, members of which did such a good job of ignoring him that he admits he was talking to himself after the second week.

The Hollywood "treatment" isn't limited to the studio stages. Many are the film players who have found themselves "too busy" at night club and premiere gatherings to pose for the news photographers who cover the glamour beat. Such players suddenly find that their pictures are not appearing in the fan magazines any more, and that the bulb-pressing boys are "not interested" when it is suggested that the player now has plenty of time on his hands to be photogenic.

First Aid for Antiques

By Muriel Lorette Mercer

HAVE you been keeping an old ornamental plaster frame, against the day when you felt you could afford having it reconditioned? If you have such a frame and there are several pieces missing, do not be discouraged. With about $3 and a little time, you can reconstruct the frame yourself.

The picture frame in the accompanying illustration is almost 100 years old. Five pieces were missing from the highly embossed, plaster molding. Inner and outer sections of the frame were gold leafed, with the molding gilded. This combination was frequently used for its pleasing effect. In this case it was fortunate as gilt is very easy to apply to an ornate surface. With a little dexterity gilt may be given an "older" effect, to harmonize with the period of the picture.

Tools required: Plaster of Paris, olive oil, liquid cement, glue, a 15-cent stick of modelling clay, soft toothbrush, one-half inch camel's hair brush, clean rags, chisel or screw driver, hacksaw and nail file.

METHOD: Clean frame thoroughly with toothbrush. If grime and dirt remain, cleanse with creamy mixture of boiled, bland soap and water. Wipe off with moist clean rags.

Examine intact portion of molding to ascertain exactly which part of design is missing.

Break off piece of clay, enough to cover design portion. Work in hands until soft. Flatten to 1/2 inch thickness. With olive oil, paint section of design to be cast, using camel's hair brush.

Lay clay on design, pushing deeply into carved ornaments for proper depth. Work from inner to outer edge. Remove excess. Let set for an hour. Pry off clay, starting from lowest point of design. If material sticks, lift edge gently with chisel to facilitate removal. Careless handling will change shape and render it useless.

CASTING: Mix plaster with water to smooth texture. Oil inside of clay mold. Pour in mixture. Scrape off excess plaster, flush with top of mold. Let set until hard. Remove clay. If any clay remains on cast, wash off quickly with soap and water, using toothbrush. Dry.

Hold cast on molding and with pencil lines determine exact cutting angles to be sawed. Hold ornate side, sawing prudently. Smooth rough and high spots with nail file.

When casting is perfectly fitted, apply glue to bottom. Use liquid cement on wood frame. Attach casting. Let stand overnight.

Bronze powders for gliding, with separate bronzing liquids are the most satisfactory. The frame above, was "spotted" with a red bronzing gilt called Brilliant Fire. When dry, dull gold was brushed over entire plaster molding, to give a warm shadowed effect.

For a cooler finish, use blue, green or purple bronze in the same manner.

carries a crew so large — upward of 30 amateur seamen — that the rocking chair brigade has nicknamed her, "We, the People."

Generally, the larger yachts have had but one hope, which is to be the first to fetch Diamond Head and possibly break the elapsed time record.

TRADITIONALLY, smaller boats have had advantage in handicap and won on corrected time, to become the "real" winners. Obviously, with such disparity in sizes and types of rig which these ocean-goers possess, a handicap system is mandatory.

This trip, though, a more equitable one has been scientifically worked out, thanks to students of the Caltech Sailing Club, under Dr. Clark Millikan. Race Chairman Ira P. Fulmer, whose Staghound is also again an entry, says this should assure the closest corrected time competition in the 47-year history of the classic.

Today the elapsed time record stands at 10:10:16 and was set in 1949 by the Morning Star. When the cannon roars Saturday this beautiful 97-footer, owned by manufacturer Richard S. (Dick) Rheem, will be competing in the blue-water fixture for her fourth time.

MORNING STAR emerged as a masthead ketch. With this, Rheem hopes, given the right winds, to again lower the record.

Whether Morning Star, Good Will, Bill Stewart's great yawl, Chubasco, or any other of the top-flight deep-water yachts do this or whether they fail, one thing is sure:

More great Corinthian history will be woven in water of the vast Pacific during the next two weeks.

Nimble With a Thimble

Real ingenuity is used by the dressmaker in adapting the sarong-wrap to a one-piece play suit (above), providing it with a full, flaring short jacket, using Bambalino print.

By Bess Williams

LADIES who are nimble with a thimble can be creative, too! Once their learning days are past, there is no law that says they must stick scrupulously to each pattern detail. Rather, they can adventure with fresh ideas, use stripes and border prints at new angles to give a new look, combine the best features of two or even three patterns; adapt the design tricks of professionals to their individual efforts.

In a season when decoration is fashion news, as this year, this is especially true. For instance, most denim sport skirts look like first cousins, but one top American designer gives real distinction to a swirl skirt of sanforized denim by sewing inch-wide ruffles of white batiste in billowing waves around the swirl. Scrolls of thick white cotton braid alternate with the ruffles to turn this denim skirt into a party-going outfit.

Sequins, rhinestones, beads and pearls stud and decorate important costumes this year. So if you are making a flower print dress, outline the large flower motifs of the bodice with sequins. Bind a neckline with a rope of pearls. One leading designer uses this most effectively on a bathing suit this season. If your fabric is plain, row upon row of bold contrasting stitching give it that encrusted effect.

IF A STOLE is part of your costume, line it dramatically. Well done, it can be the conversation piece of the outfit. Incidentally, when lining stoles or jackets, or combining any two cotton fabrics, be sure both materials are labeled Sanforized. Otherwise one fabric is likely to shrink more than the other in washing, thereby ruining the smooth line of careful tailoring.

Here are some do's and don'ts to aid the home sewer with an urge to be creative:

Do watch the fashion pages of newspapers and magazines for ideas.

Do study display fashions in the better stores.

Do keep a scrapbook of idea material.

Do know your model; what color, silhouette, fabrics look best.

Do read the end of the bolt board in buying fabrics. Does it label the fabric as vat dyed, mercerized, Sanforized, or any other "plus" that assures improved service?

Do make notes on a used pattern envelope of desirable changes.

Don't be color-bound. One whose eyes are blue doesn't have to wear blue all the time.

Don't try out too many tricks on one dress.

Don't mismatch basic fashions. Frou-frou on a classic is incongruous.

Flocked polka dots as big as silver dollars give the 1953 fashion accent to the pretty and practical denim dress (above).

Making use of bright, broken stripes is the dress (above) that cuts bodice and sleeves in one, uses a full, gored skirt.

NORWALK.

THIS is a club that is "different." It is the Children's Club, composed of 50 boys and girls, from 8 to 12 years old, who meet weekly at the home of Mrs. J. C. Wall, 12013 Sycamore St. Part of the group are from Mrs. Wall's Sunday School class in the Christ Methodist Church. The majority are "neighborhood kids." They include Catholics and eight different Protestant denominations.

The club's activities are varied. There are handicraft projects, wiener roasts, visits to the park and lively games played in Mrs. Wall's back yard. Often younger brothers and sisters are present. Always there is a cat or dog joining in the back yard fun.

Says Mrs. Wall, 67, the mother of 10 children, who also is a grandmother and a great-grandmother: "So many mothers work. When the children are here, they are not in any trouble. We have club dues. No set amount. Just what the children can pay."

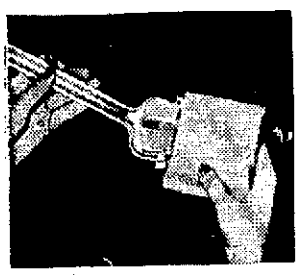

"And Dad (J. C. Wall) is willing to let me spend money for color books, games and toys. From dad's workshop I pick up scrap material to use in our handicraft activities. Then the children collect old bottles and newspapers. Recently we collected $60 worth of bottles. Right now we are buying pocket testaments for the Boy Scouts with the money we have collected."

Our Cover

Eggs Add Zest to Eating!

THINK OF THE EGG... one of the oldest, and always the newest, of mankind's foods... and you think of good nutrition, versatility, convenience, compactness, ready availability, economy and, above all, good eating.

The easiest and quickest to cook of all natural foods, the egg is unique in many ways. It comes in its own complete package containing a wealth of vitamins and minerals. Its delicate flavor alone suffices, but it combines with and enhances many other fine foods.

One attractive homemaker and mother who thoroughly appreciates and keeps in mind all the virtues of the egg is Mrs. Tom J. Hardesty, 636 Havana Ave. Whether it be the egg at breakfast, the egg in a main dish, or the egg in a fluffy dessert, she has the answer.

Today her recipe for a quick pancake or waffle batter is featured. Her recipes for Creamy Custard and a Deviled Egg Casserole are also given below.

Creamy Custard

2 cups milk, scalded
 1/2 cup sugar
 5 eggs
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 Beat eggs with fork until yolks and whites are blended. Add sugar, salt, flavoring and nutmeg. Mix thoroughly. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered molds. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) about 35 minutes, until inserted knife comes out clean.

Deviled Egg Casserole

6 hard-cooked eggs
 Mayonnaise dressing
 Salt and pepper
 Vinegar
 Paprika
 Cut eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove yolks. Mash. Moisten with mayonnaise. Season to taste with salt, pepper and vinegar. Mix until light and fluffy. Pile lightly into egg whites. Sprinkle with paprika. Place eggs in casserole, over which has been poured a medium white sauce to which cheese has been added. Top with potato chips and bake for 15 minutes in moderate oven. Serves 3.

We thought you might like the following suggestions for using eggs, and some additional recipes, the main ingredient of which is the egg. The egg will:

Thicken as in custards and puddings.
 Leaven by beating to incorporate air as in cakes.
 Add color, richness and flavor to individual dishes.
 Coat as in breaded meats and poultry.
 Garnish as in canapes, salads

and soups.

Bind as in meat loaves and croquettes.

Emulsify as in salad dressings and cream puffs.

Clarify as in preparation of consommé or in "boiled" coffee.

Eggaroni

2 tablespoons fat
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 cups milk
 1 tablespoon horseradish, if desired
 2 teaspoons minced onion
 4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
 2 cups cooked macaroni
 Salt and pepper
 Melt the fat and blend in the flour. Pour in the milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add horseradish, onion, eggs and macaroni. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired, and serve with toast.

California Scrambled Eggs

4 slices bacon
 6 eggs
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Dash black pepper
 Dash cayenne pepper
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup sliced ripe olives
 1 tablespoon thinly sliced green onion
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 Cut bacon into 1/2-inch pieces and fry until crisp. Drain bacon on absorbent paper and pour off all but 1 tablespoon of bacon fat. Beat eggs with salt, pepper and cayenne. Blend in milk. Pour into frying pan with hot bacon fat and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally. When partially set, stir in bacon, olives, onion and parsley, and cook until creamy. Serve at once. Serves 4.

French Omelet

3 eggs
 3 tablespoons milk or water
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper, scant
 1 tablespoon fat
 Mix eggs, milk, salt and pepper thoroughly. Avoid foaming. Heat fat in skillet (approx. 8 in.) just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce heat. As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken, draw the cooked portions with the fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet as it is necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Do not stir and keep mixture as level as possible. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll. Total cooking time, 5 to 8 minutes. Serves 2.

Kitchen Tip:

Mrs. Hardesty's Kitchen Tip: Remove frozen fruit juice from deep freeze the night before and place in refrigerator. It will be ready to serve for breakfast.

Mrs. Hardesty's Pancake, Waffle Batter:

2 cups biscuit mix, 6 eggs (beaten), salt to taste, 1/4 cup milk or cream. Mix thoroughly and bake as for waffles or pancakes.

Glass Walls Can Be Private

Beauty is provided from any vantage point in this living room of the N. E. Blood residence. Glass walls at right survey lanai and patio. Stone fireplace with planter is situated at left.

FEW PATIOS offer such shelter and privacy as that of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Blood, 705 Terraine Ave. This despite one full side of glass!

The patio sits in the center of a yard that is bordered, at one side, by a spacious glassed-in lanai and, at the other side, by a roofed-over barbecue installation.

The Bloods, who designed the house to accommodate their special way of life, can sit in their living room and look right through two walls of glass into their patio.

The floor of the patio is composed of concrete that has been divided off into squares measuring about two and a half feet in size. Each section has been separated by means of redwood liners sunk into the concrete flush with the surface.

Three tones were used in the cement colors: Gray, soft rose and green. Occasionally, a square was omitted and in its stead, a tropical plant was set into the open area. Thus, in the checkerboard of the floor, various plantings break the monotony and add greatly to the beauty of the scheme.

Interspersed with the trees and tropical shrubs are pieces

The Bloods' house is constructed on a gently sloping corner lot. Attractive fence and planting set off the home.

Lavish use of glass adds an unusual note to the N. E. Blood home, enclosing this lanai on two sides, giving view of patio through lanai to living room and maintaining patio privacy.

of colorful lawn furniture in matched pieces. Rather than the more conventional solid-colored duck padding, Mrs. Blood chose for her outdoor furniture pads made of canvas printed with magnolias against a yellow ground. The print of the cushions is contrasted with pipings of solid rust-colored duck.

Vividness is added to the patio by means of vibrant flowering bougainvillea vines that splash their trellises with magenta.

A barbecue area is located directly in back of the patio proper and is roofed with corrugated plastic in a soft blue-green shade.

A portable barbecue brazier and spacious redwood tables provide the necessary accouterments for outdoor dining.

THE LANAI that separates the patio from the house is, in reality, an indoor patio. Here, again, plastic roofing is used which tends to detract from the ordinary "walled-in" feeling that goes with a more conventional room. Glass walls further create the illusion of being outdoors. This long and somewhat narrow area has been tastefully furnished in rattan. The floor covering is composed of squares of Chinese grass matting which, in upkeep, is carefree and is decoratively correct for this type of room.

The light, as it comes through the soft green roofing, gives a strange and very peaceful effect that, somehow, is not wholly unlike being under water. Mrs. Blood has further enhanced this effect by draping the plate glass windows with sheer loops of chartreuse and coral fishnet. These colors, plus cocoa, are used in the upholstery of the rattan furniture.

Next to the lanai, and separated by more expansive windows, is the more conventional living-dining area. Outfitted with modern furniture in blond and ebony woods, the room achieves an effect that is at once comfortable yet unusual.

AT ONE END of the living room a large plate glass mirror reflects the dining area with its interesting bamboo planter. This planter, incidentally, achieves the unusual from the fact that in no way is it connected to the wall beyond. Created of bamboo and grass matting, the planter is an excellent (Continued on Page 13)

EVERY YEAR the bird of paradise attains greater popularity. It is rapidly becoming a dual purpose plant: Few ornamentals are as spectacular in the garden and for cut flowers indoors the birds are long lasting and novel in appearance. In addition, Southern California is one of the few areas in the United States where the bird of paradise thrives year after year.

The bird of paradise is not a new discovery. In fact, it enjoys a rather interesting history, dating back about 200 years. The plant was named in honor of Queen Charlotte, Princess of Mecklenburg Strelitz, which accounts for its botanical name of Strelitzia reginae. However, the plant's name is its only unattractive feature.

The first specimens were discovered in South Africa and during the 18th Century were shipped to the Kew Gardens in London.

The bird of paradise is a tropical plant. It looks, as its name would indicate, exactly like a bird of paradise. The flower appears as a beaked bird, the pointed section being blue while the adjoining parts are yellow with a touch of red. On close observation you will note that these colors, in addition, blend into orange, green and violet. Growing the bird of paradise is a real floral treat.

IN RECENT years the bird of paradise has become quite popular as a cut flower. This is due largely to the exotic appearance of the flowers plus their amazing keeping qualities. A second bud appears beneath the first flower and after the display has been up for a week or so the first flower may be removed and the second bud pushed out of its skin. Thus, an indoor arrangement of these flowers will often last for weeks at a time.

The bird of paradise, because of its African origin, naturally prefers warm weather. Yet the plants should tolerate cold of down to about 24 degrees. But below that they will not prosper. In extremely cold areas the plants may be utilized as an indoor pot plant.

The flowering season ranges its peak during spring but established specimens seem to flower intermittently throughout the entire year. The plants are relatively pest free; nor are they bothered by many of the usual plant diseases. A relatively rich soil plus plenty of moisture should keep your birds happy.

THE EXACT location that is best for bird of paradise plants is a rather controversial subject. Some experts claim full sun while others recommend partial shade. A compromise might be as follows: Along the coast plant in full sun; in the warmer inland regions a shady spot, probably would prove better. Filtered sunlight should be ideal for hot sections.

Seedlings take quite a bit of time to flower. It has been said that plants will not produce flowers for six or seven years after seeding. This is not true, for you can expect flowers from 5-year-old plants.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING TIPS for the week . . . This is the time to transplant seedlings of the warm weather vegetables. Tomatoes are one of the best, and there is plenty of fun in harvesting your own homegrown tomatoes. Obviously, they want a sunny spot. It is advisable to train the plants on a trellis. This keeps the plants clean, facilitates harvesting and makes it more difficult for pests to reach the fruit.

Bush beans will mature rapidly at this time. This type of bean, as compared to the vine-like varieties, produces an extremely early crop. The plants are heavy producers and the crop, if picked before complete maturity, will be sweet and tender.

Hints on how to fence your home

● Investigate before you buy fence. "What kind should I buy? What about quality? How long will it stay good looking? What about gates? What about erection service?" These and other questions are answered in our illustrated booklet. Just phone and say "Please send me the free booklet that tells how I can fence my home." Free estimate, if you wish.

foil for its luxurious growth of greenery.

In front of the large picture window overlooking the lanai and the patio sprawls an oversized sofa upholstered in a raspberry fabric. Before it stand a pair of glass-topped tables supported by Nubian slave boys.

The vividness of the sofa is complemented by the soft greens that predominate the room. For example, there is the bottle-green shag carpet and the paler green walls that are important contributors to the color

Dependable Marigolds

By Walter Finch

W E THINK of some flowers as beautiful, some as gay, some as exotic, but for downright earthiness and dependability, where can we find the equal of the marigold family? In the dwarf marigolds alone we find a wealth of garden material—all with bright and cheery blooms like sunbeams lighting your garden paths and beds. For bedding set out plants from flats about four inches apart, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. For borders double row them on offset rows with about the same spacing. You will have solid masses of color to brighten your garden through most of the summer months.

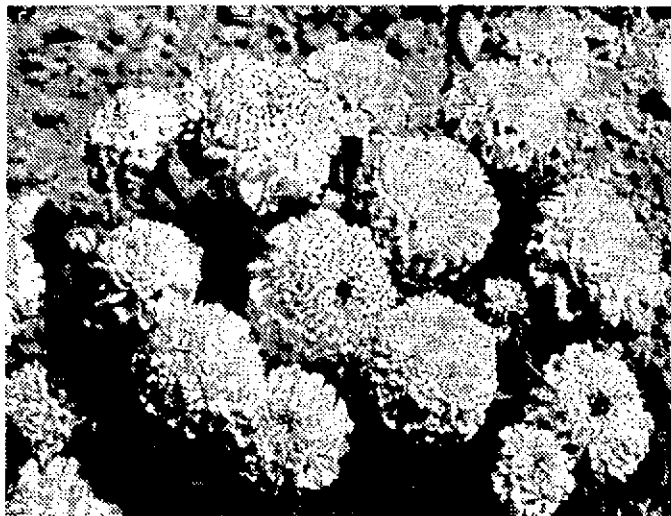

Marigolds are extremely tolerant of soils but do their best scheme. In repetition is the green tweed covering of the contour lounge chair and the upholstery of the dining chairs.

The entry wall, upon which hangs the mirror, is painted a muted purple that is a cross between eggplant and plum for hue. Mrs. Blood's fondness for this purple shade is further exemplified in the kitchen. What a change it is from the more conventional kitchen colors of red, blue and yellow!

Equally unusual in color is the guest bedroom. The ceiling and the bedspread are of an identical soft pink tone. And the unusual deep flame color of three walls compliments the paler pink perfectly. Both were borrowed from colors in the paper that adorns the remaining wall. Against its cool apple-green background, trees and peasant figures are portrayed in the same soft pink and vivid red-pink hues.

The master bedroom is the most conservative of all and is furnished in traditional maple.

Hardy and easily to grow, dwarf marigolds are like cheery sunbeams lending brightness to garden beds, pathways.

in the lighter sandy soils with slight amounts of humus and little or no fertilizer. While they are sun-loving, they can stand up to half-shade. However, they will start to straggle sooner in such shaded locations.

The yellow varieties, such as Yellow Pygmy, Sunny and El Dorado, wear well with the red of Fire Chief and Comanche Petunias or the blues of dwarf and tall Ageratum and the dwarf lobelias. The orange varieties such as Melody and Sun-kist are a natural foil for dwarf Blue Ageratum with a foreground border of White Alyssum. In addition there are many fine two-tone and striped varieties as well as several fine reds. Whichever you choose, you will be well rewarded for your efforts for Marigolds are quite resistant to disease and very easy to grow.

There are over 2000 varieties of

Let Subjects Be Natural

THE WORDS I used to title today's column represent my pet peeve in picture taking.

I'm sure that everyone of you, no matter how infrequently you may use your camera, has come across people who, when you ask them to pose for you, invariably manage to look coy and say, "Well, all right, if you aren't afraid I'll break your camera." On such occasions, I'll have to admit that I'm tempted to break the camera, quite literally, by throwing it at them!

However, I suppose this reluctance on the part of some of our subjects is actually a challenge to our own picture taking abilities. It is up to us to overcome that disadvantage and not have it show up in the picture.

Some people are actually quite shy—and can't help freezing up when confronted with a camera.

Give the subject something to do. That's a tried and true rule. Find a center for his attention that is sufficiently interesting to take his mind off the camera. In selecting such an activity, let appropriateness be your guide. Make the pose fit both the subject and the situation. That makes for naturalness in your snapshot and you start off with the odds in your favor.

LONG BEACH CAMERA GUILD will have a black and white print competition at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the auditorium of Roosevelt School, 15th St. and Linden Ave. Roosevelt School will be the Guild meeting place during July and August.

Winners of the recent color slide competition were Leila Reichardt, first; Don Hayward,

RECORD ALBUM

Loathsome Lugs!

By Elaine Hauck

SO YOU'RE WORRIED about the popularity of this crazy new "thing" carrying the Horrible Records label! Well you're not alone, if that's any consolation. Tom Murray, the co-creator of those vile little gems is worried, too. He's worried because people are buying the nauseating things.

"The whole business was an experiment," says Murray. "The disc jockeys were the laboratory. We wanted to see if we could make something so revolting that it would show up all this new-sound nonsense."

"But what happened? People like it. It's selling everywhere. Disc jockeys keep calling us to come on their show. We're heroes. I'm afraid, honestly afraid. What will it all lead to?"

Murray and his co-conspirator, Tony Borello, went out of their way to produce the world's worst record. For instance, on the "Fish" side of "There's a New Sound" they made four takes, then scientifically spliced together the worst parts of each. When it sounded too good, they went out and recorded some surface noise on top to make it all the worse.

Now people (?) are clamoring for these musical monstrosities. Murray and Borello, both serious pop musicians, are afraid they'll be typed as the Horrible Boys. They're giving serious thought to changing their names to escape the stagnant stigma of stenchy stanzas.

Murray, though, seems slightly torn. As an advertising executive, he smells the possibility of large money to be made producing more Horrible records. But on the other hand, there is that awful thought that he might forever be identified as Mr. Horrible.

So he thinks he will retire from making Horrible after a last fling of making one Horrible Masterworks edition. That should be delightfully loathsome.

TEN TOP TUNES - Perry Faith's "Song From Moulin Rouge" continues in the top spot on your local hit parade. Others riding high are (2) "I Believe," Frankie Laine; (3) "I'm Walking Behind You," Eddie Fisher; (4) "April in Portugal," Freddie Martin; (5) "Ruby," Richard Hayman; (6) "Timelight," by Frank Chacksfield; (7) "Anna," Sylvano Mangano; (8) "Say You're Mine Again," Perry Como; (9) "Pretend," Nat King Cole and (10) "Vaya Con Dios," Les Paul and Mary Ford.

ELAINE ELECTS: The Hilltoppers on "I'd Rather Die Young" (Dot); Victor Young's "Melba Waltz" (Decca); Nat King Cole's "Angel Eyes" (Capitol) and the Ames Brothers' "You You You" (Victor).

BEAUTIFUL RECORDINGS of the older classics release the tensions of today. Try the "treatment" with these new lps from the Long Beach Public Library. Bach, "Suite No. 3 in C Major," with "Suite No. 6 in D Major" (Janos Starker, cello); Brahms, "Concerto No. 2 in B Flat Major for Piano and Orchestra" (Rubinstein, pianist; Munch, conductor); Dvorak, "Slavonic Dances" (Talich conducting the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra); Mendelssohn, "Symphony No. 3 in A Minor" (Solli conducting), and Schubert, "Trio in E Flat Major" (Badura-Skoda, piano, Fournier, violin, and Janigro, cello).

The summer requests are making "Don Juan in Hell" an all time favorite, with more scattered interest in other records for the study of shorthand, music and languages.

Recognize Red China?

THAT THE UNITED STATES should recognize Red China on the basis of our historic attitude of recognition of de facto governments, and that we should make a settlement with the Communist Chinese to include Vietnam and Formosa—with the latter maintaining an independent national status—is

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Independent-Press-Telegram Book Editor

the opinion of Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court.

The Justice forms these conclusions in "North From Malaya" (Doubleday, $3.95), his third book on which he reports on his jaunts into other lands. Previously he had traveled into and written about Iran and India; this time he tells what he saw and heard, and the basis of his conclusions, in a trip into Malaya, Burma, the Philippines, Vietnam, Formosa and Korea.

Justice Douglas believes that Red China is here to stay and that recognition would enable America to work within China at the diplomatic level, with some chance of prying her loose from Russia, of making her less and less a tool of Moscow, of orienting her more and more to the West. Anyhow, he argues, if we were to string along with legitimate Asian aspirations, the Soviet would have little chance of utilizing or subverting these aspirations by virtue of our opposition to them.

President Truman's decision, and the action of the Security Council in defending Korea against invasion were sound politics, in the Justice's opinion, but he also believes the conflict with Red China in Korea might have been avoided, that Red China at one time was anxious for a political settlement with the United States.

After all, Justice Douglas concludes, the real enemy is Russia, who uses communism to build the most ambitious theater, the most oppressive one, the world has known.

"If there must be a fighting war against communism," he declares, "Russia is the only nation to fight."

Art Circles

By Vera Williams

Independent-Press-Telegram Art Editor

OPENING a four-session Summer Art Forum, Arthur Adair, chairman of the art department of Palos Verdes College, will speak on "The Contemporary Artist Reflects His Time" at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the 49'er Theater on Long Beach State College campus, 6201 E. Anaheim St.

Ward Youry, assistant professor in art at State College will speak on "Free Forms in Ceramics" July 8; Lennox Tierney, chairman of the division of art and music, John Muir College, on "Architectural Forms in China, Japan, Siam and India" July 15; and Dr. Jane Betsey Welling, guest professor in art at State College, on "Art and Inter-Group Relations," July 22.

All sessions will be free and open to all students on the campus and the public.

AT 1 P. M. TODAY, San Pedro Art Association's members will present their "Best Paintings" exhibition. Entries in oil, watercolor and pastel will represent each artist's conception of his most outstanding work.

The unique exhibition will be in San Pedro's new art gallery, 820 S. Beacon St., and Association President Jay Meuser says the show will be unjuried and noncompetitive in that there will be no awards of any kind.

The exhibition will continue through July 12. Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p. m. daily, closed Tuesdays.

FRAN SOLDINI has three pictures in outstanding shows. Her "The City," symbolic painting of buildings and people, done in warm colors, in the California Water Color Society show last year, is in the 59th annual exhibition of Western Art, which closes Aug. 2 in the Denver Art Museum. Out of 1463 entries, 256 pieces were chosen.

"Summer Sails," many sails in the bay, is in a California Water Color Society show which leaves the University of Michigan Museum and Gallery on a Michigan circuit.

GEORGE W. CORLENTZ, professional artist, will demonstrate the painting of Mount Whitney at the dinner meeting of East Los Angeles Art Club, 4558 1/2 Whittier Blvd., Wednesday evening. He was commissioned by the Firestone Company to paint this mountain for its Christmas card last season.

He is past president of the Southwest Art Association, a member of the Painters and Sculptors Club, Laguna Beach Art Association and the co-ordinating Committee for Traditional Art of Los Angeles. In World War I he served as field artist with the United States Army in Europe. His work has been exhibited at the Huntington Library, in one-man shows at the Broadway-Crenshaw, at the Laguna Beach Gallery and at Tacoma under auspices of the Washington State Historical Society. His drawings and cartoons have been published in Los Angeles metropolitan papers.

All meetings of the East Los Angeles Art Club, which is county-wide in membership, are open to the public and visitors are invited to attend this demonstration.

"I saw a woman taking Pete's picture one day, and got an idea it might make a painting," says Messick, whose work has hung in the Smithsonian Institution, Metropolitan Museum of Art and Carnegie Institute.

Haiti Stamps

Haiti's seven new pictorial stamps have arrived in this country. The three lower values are for regular postage. The four higher ones are airmails. Depicted are such local scenes as the general post office, road building, a church and a seaside resort. One of the regulars is a special delivery stamp.

Stephen Longstreet is an illustrator as well as an author with a sensitive pen. This drawing, "Market," is from his latest book "The World Revisited" (Henry Holt, $3.75), in which he returns to Europe and a new world and a new wisdom. Substance of visit is resignation, a wry acceptance that things are not what they used to be.

This Is Murder!

"The Cat Walk" (Doubleday, $2.50) is the newest whodunit by Long Beach mystery writer D. B. Olsen, in private life Dolores Hitchens. The locale is Los Angeles, one of the ancient homes of the West Adams district; the cat walk is a strange little bridge built between former stables, now converted to a garage apartment, and the house. It is the 12th book to feature the exploits of the slight spinster detective, Miss Rachel

Murdock, who, after a couple of murders, spins a tight web of suspicion about two suspects, lets one fall with a thud as the plot skein entangles in the last pages. Here is confusion and humor with homicide, a better-than-average yarn.

Three Stories for Juveniles

Three new juveniles will find ready acceptance among younger readers.

The junior high girl will like the love story of Tippy Parrish in "Rainbow After Rain" (Dutton, $2.50). The author, Janet Lambert, writes a moving story of the youngest member of the famous Parrish clan.

Girls of the same age likewise will take to "Candle in the Sky" (Dutton, $2.50), by Elizabeth Blecker Meigs. Joan of Arc is the subject of this readable story.

In "The School Train" (Abelard Press, $2), by Helen Acker, two small boys have all sorts of experiences in the wilds of northern Canada. It's for 12 to 14-year-olds of both sexes.

LET'S HAVE A PICNIC! WITH FOOD THAT'S FUN TO FIX AND EAT

EVERYBODY LIKES A PICNIC—BECAUSE IT'S FAMILY FUN, AND THAT'S JUST THE BEST KIND OF FUN. HERE'S AN EASY-TO-FIX, GOOD-EATING PICNIC THAT WILL MAKE EVERYBODY HAPPY, ESPECIALLY THE COOK.

MAIN DISH—BEANS AND HOT DOGS

Just empty a couple of cans of Heinz Baked Beans into a casserole or saucepan and cover the top with hot dogs. Add a little water, cover, and then heat. Now don't use just any kind of beans—get Heinz. They are really oven baked. That makes a big difference because lots of beans are only steamed or boiled. Wonderful Heinz sauces help make our beans taste like the home-baked kind. Choose any of the three styles—in tomato sauce with pork, vegetarian (without pork, but with that good, rich tomato sauce), or Boston style, with pork and dark molasses sauce—all really great eating.

DUTCH COLE SLAW IS SENSATIONAL!

Here's the best cole slaw you ever tasted. Shred cabbage as fine as possible, salt lightly and mix with this super dressing made by beating equal parts of cream or evaporated milk, sugar, and Heinz Apple Cider Vinegar. There's a big difference in vinegars, so be sure to use Heinz Vinegar because it's full flavored, sparkling and clear, and adds that certain something to salads and cooking. Actually, you use so little vinegar over a year's time, you can afford to use the best.

NO PICKLES—NO PICNIC!

You can't have a picnic without pickles, and pickles mean Heinz. Why, we even made pickles for your grandmother's picnics, and Heinz Fresh Cucumber Pickles and Heinz Sweet Mixed are still favorites. Sometimes we have to get a few cents more for our pickles, but they sure are worth it. The quality is there and you can taste it. Heinz also has a new Hot Dog Relish that should be invited to every picnic. It's a chopped pickle and mustard relish that is so good we're actually having trouble keeping up with our orders. So you may have trouble finding it at your grocer's, but it's well worth looking for.

FROZEN LEMONADE SAVES SQUEEZIN'

Frozen lemonade is mighty handy for picnics—and you can't tell it from fresh. Be sure to bring some ice, an ice pick, and a pitcher or crock—or better still, mix the lemonade at home if you have a vacuum jug.

DON'T FORGET!

- You may not need everything on this list, but check it over anyway—just in case.
- |               |                      |                       |            |
|---------------|----------------------|-----------------------|------------|
| Paper Plates  | Teaspoons            | Can and Bottle Opener | Coffee     |
| Paper Cups    | Large Serving Fork   | Sharp Knife           | Cream      |
| Paper Napkins | Large Serving Spoons | Salt and Pepper       | Sugar      |
| Forks         | Dish Towels          | Matches               | Coffee Pot |

P.S. We won't be mad if you take along some Heinz Ketchup or Heinz Mustard. You may not need them, but they have been going to picnics for a good many years and they always seem to come in mighty handy.

BEING A BABY IS NO BARGAIN!

At least a dozen times a day I'm scrubbed until I dazzle. And should I rest my vocal chords Mom's nerves go all a-frazzle!

THE OLD APPLE TREE IN THE ORCHARD HAS GUARDED ITS SECRET WELL FOR THE PAST FEW DAYS...

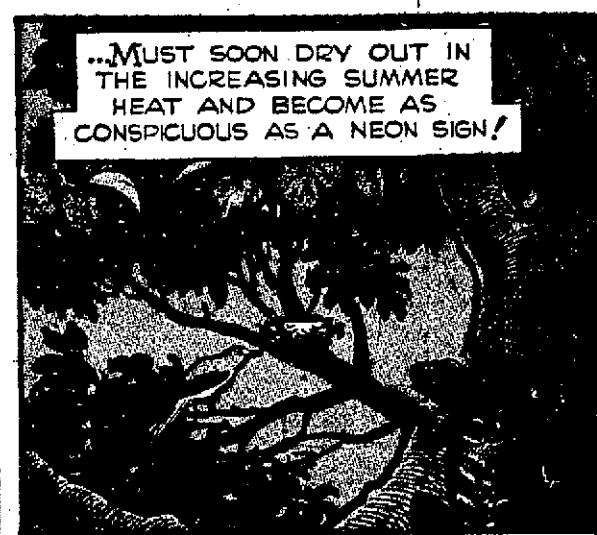

AND THE ORCHARD ORIOLES' NEST HAS BEEN ALL BUT INVISIBLE AGAINST THE LEAFY GREEN BACKDROP OF FOLIAGE

BUT NOW, WITH THE YOUNG BIRDS PEEPING FROM THEIR COZY HOME, THE GREEN CAMOUFLAGE IS RAPIDLY BECOMING A GLARING YELLOW

FOR ORCHARD ORIOLES NEVER SEEM TO TAKE INTO ACCOUNT THAT GREEN GRASS, NO MATTER HOW CLEVERLY WOVEN AND BLENDED WITH THE LEAVES...

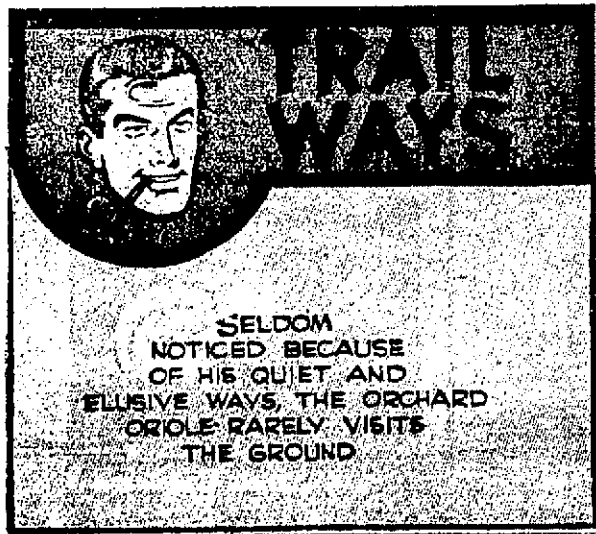

...MUST SOON DRY OUT IN THE INCREASING SUMMER HEAT AND BECOME AS CONSPICUOUS AS A NEON SIGN!

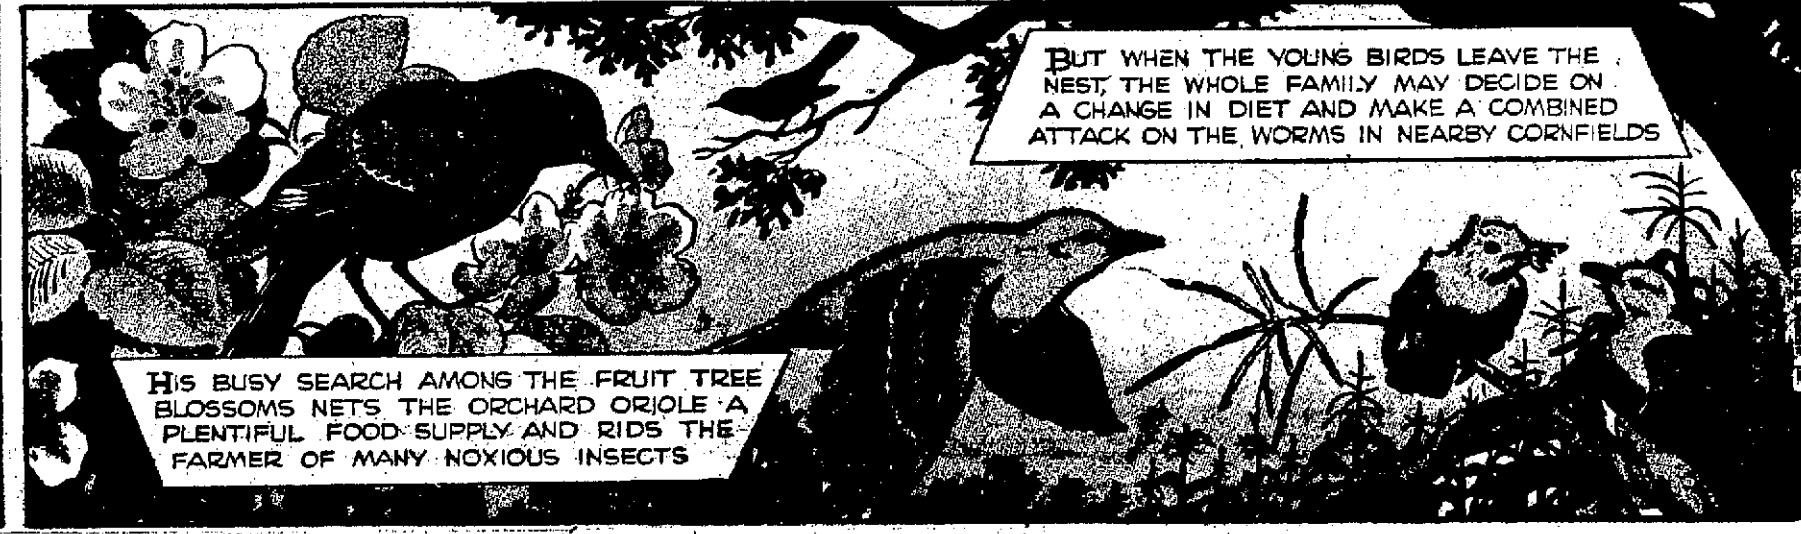

BUT LUCK IS WITH THE BASKET WEAVERS, FOR SHARING THEIR TREE HOME IS THAT SCOURGE OF THE AVIAN WORLD... THE KINGBIRD!

AND WITH THIS PUGNACIOUS NEIGHBOR AROUND, NEST ROBBERS STEER CLEAR OF THE APPLE TREE!

SELDOM NOTICED BECAUSE OF HIS QUIET AND ELUSIVE WAYS, THE ORCHARD ORIOLE RARELY VISITS THE GROUND

HIS BUSY SEARCH AMONG THE FRUIT TREE BLOSSOMS NETS THE ORCHARD ORIOLE A PLENTIFUL FOOD SUPPLY AND RIDES THE FARMER OF MANY NOXIOUS INSECTS

BUT WHEN THE YOUNG BIRDS LEAVE THE NEST, THE WHOLE FAMILY MAY DECIDE ON A CHANGE IN DIET AND MAKE A COMBINED ATTACK ON THE WORMS IN NEARBY CORNFIELDS

Aren't you glad you use DIAL Soap?

(...DON'T YOU WISH EVERYBODY DID!)

Dial with AT-7 removes skin bacteria that cause perspiration odor, keeps you fresh all day!

Even in the hottest weather, your shower freshness stays with you all day. That's the wonderful difference in using Dial . . . it really stops odor before it starts. And Dial is the only leading soap that does, because it's the only one with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene).

Dial's AT-7 removes bacteria that cause perspiration odor . . . bacteria that other soaps leave on the

So Dial protects you all over your body . . .
as no other kind of soap, no deodorant can.
And Dial's creamy lather is so mild, you'll use Dial to protect your complexion, too.

P.S.

For cleaner,
